QUESTION AND ANSWER.

MUNSIFS' RESIDENCES.

The Hon'ble DR. ASUTOSH MUKHOPADHYAYA said:—

In paragraph 48 of the Explanatory Notes on the Bengal Financial Statement for 1902-1903, it is stated that the allotment for original works includes a grant of Rs. 40,000 for Munsifs' residences. Will the Government be pleased to inquire and state whether the whole of this sum was spent during the year 1902-1903? If not, what is the reason? Will the Government be pleased to specify the names of the places where such residences were built during the year 1902-1903 out of this grant of Rs. 40,000?

The Hon'ble MR. INGLIS replied:—

"The actual expenditure incurred during the year 1902-1903 was Rs. 39,603 on residences for Munsifs at the places named below:—

1. Gumla.
2. Cox's Bazar.
3. Chandpur.

THE CHOTA NAGPUR TENANCY (AMENDMENT) BILL, 1903.

The Hon'ble MR. SLACKE moved that the Report of the Select Committee on the Bill to amend the Chota Nagpur Landlord and Tenant Procedure Act and the Chota Nagpur Commutation Act, 1897, be taken into consideration.

The Motion was put and agreed to.

The Hon'ble MR. SLACKE also moved that the clauses of the Bill be considered in the form recommended by the Select Committee.

The Motion was put and agreed to.

Clause 2.

The Hon'ble MR. SLACKE also moved that the following be inserted after clause (g) in clause 2 (2) of the Bill, namely:—

'(h) "Mundari khunt-kattidari tenancy" means the interest of a Mundari khunt-kattidar.'

He said:—"The reason for this amendment will, I think, be obvious to the Council. In several sections of the Bill reference is made to a Mundari khunt-kattidari tenancy, but no definition of this has been provided. It seems therefore necessary to provide for this defect, and accordingly I would suggest the adoption of this amendment."

The Motion was put and agreed to.

The Hon'ble MAULVI SERAJ-UL-ISLAM, KHAN BAHADUR, moved that, in sub-clause (h) of clause 2 (2) of the Bill, the words "any Act for the time being in force for the registration of documents" be substituted for the words "the Indian Registration Act, 1877." He said:—

"This definition is given in the Bengal Tenancy Act, and I think it is more comprehensive than in the present Act, and could, with advantage, be adopted."

The Hon'ble MR. SLACKE said:—"I have nothing to urge against the acceptance of this amendment."

The Motion was put and agreed to.

The Hon'ble MAULVI SERAJ-UL-ISLAM, KHAN BAHADUR, also moved that in line 5 of sub-clause (n) of clause 2 (2) the word "raiyats" be subtituted for the word "tenants." He said:—

"This was the subject of some discussion in the High Court, and I fear that the use of the word 'tenants' might create some confusion. I therefore submit that we should substitute the word 'raiyats' for the word 'tenants.'"

The Hon'ble MR. SLACKE said:—"I am unable to support this amendment, and that for two reasons. In the first place, I am unable to satisfy myself that there is any definite ground for departing from the wording given in section 5 of the Bengal Tenancy Act, from which this was taken, and, secondly, because I am at a loss to understand why a tenure-holder should be deprived from creating an under-tenure, which would be the effect if this amendment were adopted. For these two reasons, I cannot recommend to the Council the acceptance of this amendment."

The Hon'ble MAULVI SERAJ-UL-ISLAM, KHAN BAHADUR, in reply, said:—"After the expression of opinion we have just heard from the Hon'ble Member in charge of the Bill, I do not desire to press my amendment."

The Motion was then, by leave of the Council, withdrawn.

The Hon'ble RAI TARINI PERSHAD, BAHADUR, moved that to sub-clause (o) of clause 2 (2) of the Bill the following be added, as Explanation II, the Explanation which is already attached to the sub-clause being made "Explanation I," namely:—

'Explanation II.—A person acquiring at the same time a right to hold land both for the purpose of cultivating it by himself or by members of his family or by hired servants or with the aid of partners, and for the purpose of collecting rents or bringing it under cultivation by establishing tenants on it, or partly for one such purpose and partly for the other, is not a "raiyat" within the meaning of this definition.'

He said:—"In moving this amendment, I must say that I do not question the correctness of the definition of 'tenure-holder' in sub-clause (n) or that of 'raiyat' in sub-clause (o), so far as they go; but what I want, and I must insist upon, is an addition by way of explanation which will enable raiyats, tenure-holders, superior landlords and the Courts that may have to deal judicially in regard to questions arising before them to understand correctly the relative rights of such raiyats, tenure-holders and superior landlords. I must say also, Sir, that it will be dangerous to leave sub-clauses (n) and (o) alone without an Explanation."

"In venturing to support the amendment I have proposed, I must place before the Council certain facts which are material for arriving at a conclusion. The raiyati right must necessarily owe its origin to a contract, expressed or implied. I hold in my hand a paper-book of the High Court in a case which went from Hazaribagh to that Court in regular appeal. There are numerous farming leases, or counterparts of such leases, in this paper-book, all of which contain conditions to the following effect:—

'The farmer or the lessee shall cultivate lands by himself and cause lands to be cultivated by others. He shall collect rents from raiyats.'

"I have another paper-book in my hand which relates to a case that came to the High Court from the district of Bhagalpur. The lease in this case contains a condition as follows:—

'The lessee shall cultivate lands by himself. He shall maintain raiyats in possession, and shall collect rents from them.'

"I here crave leave to appeal to your Honour's experience in Bihar generally for a period of upwards of 20 years to bear me out, that the system of grant of farming known as mostajir leases are very common in that Province. My native home is in the district of the Sonthal Parganas, and I am connected with the district of Monghyr in several ways. These districts are next-door neighbours to the district of Hazaribagh, in the Ranchi Division. I do possess some knowledge of the habits and customs of the people of some portions of the Ranchi Division. In all these places, so far as I know, farming leases and their counterparts are systematically exchanged. The land tenures in India are well understood at the present day. But when we deal with them in legislative measures and undertake to define the rights of the holders thereof, it is desirable to give a complete, or at any rate sufficiently comprehensive, shape to the definitions to prevent difficulties and litigations in future. In the absence of an explanation of sub-clauses (n) and (o), the difficulty that I have met with in very many cases since the Bengal Tenancy Act came into operation justifies the amendment I propose. Suppose, Sir, on the expiry of the term of a farming lease, when the out-going farmer, who has succeeded in bringing under his cultivation a large area during his possession, sticks to the possession of such area and refuses to quit possession thereof, saying 'I acquired right to cultivate lands in the estate.' 'I have cultivated lands.' 'I have paid rents for the same.' 'I am legally entitled to hold on.' 'I am a raiyat with or without right of occupancy.' 'I was not a tenure-holder in respect of such lands, and I am not bound to quit possession thereof otherwise than in due course of law'.

"I submit, Sir, under these circumstances that with the definitions in sub-clauses (n) and (o), the superior landlord will find difficulty in turning him out of possession of such lands, standing alone, and at all events a wide door to serious litigation will be opened in Chota Nagpur, as has been done in places where the Bengal Tenancy Act is in force.

"It is not a difficult task for the farmers and mostajirs to bring under their grasp large areas by dispossessing poor raiyats in Chota Nagpur, or otherwise bringing waste lands, easy of reclamation, lying in the estates under their khas possession. They will make encroachments upon the village rights—rights and privileges of raiyats which were recognized during the time of the Hindus and the Muhammadan Government, and which, up to the present day, have been recognized by the British Government. Our Statutes have proceeded throughout on the lines of the ancient rights and privileges of the raiyats and the customary incidents attaching thereto. If the definition of a raiyat in the Bill be not made sufficiently comprehensive and clear, the result will be to leave the parties, their advocates and the Court to straining, turning, twisting and torturing of the words used in sub-clauses (n) and (o) without being able to arrive at any reasonable and fair conclusion."

The Hon'ble MR. SLACKE said:—"I cannot, Sir, advise the Council to accept this amendment. In the first place, the object of the amendment is to prevent farmers of rents, thikádár and such like persons from acquiring, during the currency of their leases, a right of occupancy in the lands let to them under such leases. When introducing the Report of the Select Committee on this Bill, I pointed out that, owing to the absence of the necessary data, which cannot for some years be furnished by the Settlement Officer, we were now unable to deal satisfactorily with the question of occupancy right as a whole. Secondly, although the subject-matter of this Bill has been under discussion for a very long time, not one single zamindar has pointed out the necessity of having such a clause in the Bill. In the absence, therefore, of any such proved need, to accept this amendment would, in effect, be to abandon the principle that guided the Select Committee in dealing with the Bill. It would also be very dangerous to deal any further with the question of occupancy right when, as I have already pointed out, we lack the requisite information on the subject.

"Should, however, events occur which, in the opinion of the local officers, would require action to be taken to prevent by law farmers, etc., from acquiring occupancy rights in the lands covered by their leases and, if such need arise, before the Act as a whole could be revised, the Government can, by extending section 22 (3) of the Bengal Tenancy Act to Chota Nagpur, provide a sufficient remedy at once.

"I would therefore suggest that this amendment be rejected."

The Hon'ble BABU CHATURBHOOJ SAHAY said:—"The amendment which is sought to be introduced by the Hon'ble Rai Tarini Pershad, Bahadur, is that in cases where one and the same person has got two functions as it were, namely, that of a raiyat and that of a tenure-holder, then so far as he cultivates land by himself or by hired labourers, he should not be deemed a raiyat within the meaning of this sub-clause (o). But, then, the amendment that he moves seems to be unnecessary, as will be seen if we refer to the following portion of sub-clause (o): 'A person shall not be deemed to be a raiyat unless he holds land either immediately under a proprietor or immediately under a tenure-holder, or immediately under a Mundari khunt-kattidar.' Let us suppose that A takes a lease from the proprietor of a village, and that he is also permitted to cultivate a portion of the land in the village as a raiyat. Now he cannot be a raiyat unless he holds immediately under the proprietor; but he does not hold immediately under the proprietor because the village has been leased, nor immediately under the tenure-holder because he does not hold under the tenure-holder, he being himself the tenure-holder. So such a person cannot be a raiyat because he would be holding under himself, he himself being the tenure-holder. Therefore that part of my friend's amendment seems to be covered by the paragraph that appears after the Explanation to sub-clause (o). He cannot be a raiyat because a raiyat has to pay rent to the zamindar or málik, and he cannot pay either to himself or to the málik, because the málik is the lessor of the land. Under these circumstances, the amendment seems to me to be unnecessary."

The Hon'ble DR. ASUTOSH MUKHOPADHYAYA said:—"The amendment moved involves a serious question of principle, and I do not intend to record a silent vote against it. It seems to me quite clear that, as a matter of principle, this amendment ought not to be accepted. A tenure-holder under the Act means primarily a person who acquires land not for the purpose of cultivating it himself, but for the purpose of settling tenants on it and collecting rents from them. A raiyat, on the other hand, is defined to be primarily a person who acquires land for the purpose of keeping it himself and cultivating it either by himself, or by the members of his family or by his servants, or with the aid of partners. My hon'ble and learned friend is contemplating the case of a person who acquires land for both these purposes, or partly for one of these purposes and partly for the other, and wants us to hold that his function is that of a riayat, and that he should not be regarded as a tenure-holder. I submit that this is entirely wrong on principle. Suppose a man acquires 100 bighas, and in his lease it is stated that he may either cultivate it himself or settle tenants thereon; if he cultivates the entire 100 bighas himself, I take it that the inference should be that he is a raiyat. If, on the other hand, he settles tenants on the 100 bighas, he should be regarded as a tenure-holder. My hon'ble and learned friend says: 'No, if he has a lease in which it is stated that he may use it in either way, he can never be regarded as a raiyat although he cultivates the land himself.' In the same way if he takes 50 bighas and settles tenants thereon and takes another 50 bighas for cultivating it himself, my hon'ble and learned friend says he cannot be regarded as a raiyat in respect of the one and as a tenure-holder in respect of the other. I submit this cannot possibly be a correct view of the matter."

The Hon'ble BABU KALI PADA GHOSH said:—"I submit that I cannot support the amendment of my hon'ble and learned friend for two reasons. In the first place, in considering the circumstances of Chota Nagpur, it is not an urgent amendment, and, in the second place, the object contended for by my hon'ble and learned friend is very well met by another amendment which he subsequently moves and with which I have every sympathy."

The Hon'ble MAULVI SERAJ-UL-ISLAM, KHAN BAHADUR, said:—"I am also opposed to this amendment on this simple ground that, if carried, it would limit the meaning of the word 'raiyat.' I would like to see the meaning of 'raiyat' to be as wide as possible, and do not think it should be restricted in the way proposed by this amendment."

The Hon'ble RAI TARINI PERSHAD, BAHADUR, in reply said:—"When we are defining 'tenure-holder' and 'raiyat,' we must not leave the definitions defective. I submit, Sir, for the reasons I have already given, they should be made clear. The necessity for definition of 'raiyat' and 'tenure-holder' has arisen, and they should be defined clearly, and what I want falls clearly within the legitimate scope of the Bill. I, therefore, must say that the Council should see their way to accept the amendment I have moved."

The Motion was then put and lost.

The Hon'ble RAI TARINI PERSHAD, BAHADUR, also moved that after sub-clause (o), in clause 2 (2) of the Bill, the following be inserted, namely:—

'(p) "Under-raiyat" means a tenant holding, whether immediately or mediately, under a raiyat.'

He said:—"I thought there would be some difficulty if, in the Bill as it stands, an Explanation of this sort was not inserted, but having had the benefit of a discussion with the Hon'ble Member in charge of the Bill, and having regard to the fact that the Bill does not deal with 'under-raiyats,' I have considered it proper to withdraw this amendment, and I accordingly do so."

The Motion was then, by leave of the Council, withdrawn.

New Clauses.

The Hon'ble DR. ASUTOSH MUKHOPADHYAYA, by leave of the Council withdrew the following motions, of which he had given notice, namely:—

(1) "That after clause 2 of the Bill the following be inserted, namely:—

'2A. In section 5 of the said Chota Nagpur Landlord and Tenant Procedure Act, after the word "raiyat," the words "and every Mundari khunt-kattidar" shall be inserted.'

(2) "That the following be inserted, namely:—

'2B. (1) In section 6 of the said Chota Nagpur Landlord and Tenant Procedure Act, after the words "twelve years" the words "and every Mundari khunt-kattidar who has cultivated land for a period of twelve years" shall be inserted.

'(2) In the same section, after the word "raiyat," in the second place in which it occurs, the words "or Mundari khunt-kattidar" shall be inserted.'

He said:—"The Hon'ble Member in charge of the Bill has satisfied me that these amendments are not required, and I beg leave to withdraw them."

Clause 3.

The Hon'ble DR. ASUTOSH MUKHOPADHYAYA, by leave of the Council, also withdrew the following motions, of which he had given notice, namely:—

(1) "That in the first paragraph in the new clauses in clause 3 of the Bill, after the word 'raiyat' the words 'or Mundari khunt-kattidar' be inserted."

(2) "That in the second paragraph in the new clauses in clause 3 of the Bill, after the word 'holds' the words 'and every Mundari khunt-kattidar who cultivates' be inserted."

The Hon'ble MAULVI SERAJ-UL-ISLAM, KHAN BAHADUR, moved that the following be inserted in clause 3 of the Bill, namely:—

'The words "so long as he pays the rent payable on account of the same," in section 6 of the said Chota Nagpur Landlord and Tenant Procedure Act, are repealed.'

He said:—"I may remind Hon'ble Members that these words 'so long as he pays the rent payable on account of the same' are to be found in Act X of 1859, but they were subsequently omitted, and I must say advisedly omitted in the Act of 1885. It appears to me, however, that these words in the clause are ambiguous and meaningless. If they are allowed to stand, a tenant who has acquired a right of occupancy by holding for 12 years may lose his right if he fails to pay rent for a year or two. I may also tell the Council that the right of ejectment was given to landlords, but in the present Act that right has been taken away. Therefore I submit that these words, 'so long as he pays the rent payable on account of the same', should be omitted."

The Hon'ble MR. SLACKE said:—"I have nothing to say against the proposed amendment."

The Hon'ble BABU CHATURBHOOJ SAHAY said:—"I am afraid I must oppose this amendment. My hon'ble and learned friend says that these words find a place in Act X of 1859. I may go further and state that they were also reproduced in Act VIII of 1869. Then my hon'ble friend quotes the authority of the Bengal Tenancy Act, and says that it is not to be found there. But I do not see that anything that is to be found there or not to be found there should be our guide in legislating for the Chota Nagpur Division. Chota Nagpur, as we all know, is not so advanced as the rest of Bengal, and what would apply to Bengal proper might not apply in any way to Chota Nagpur, and hitherto this has been the law that has prevailed there without any complaint, and without anything in fact to disturb the relations between the landlord and tenant on this point. Therefore I submit that a law that has existed up to now without having given rise to any friction should not be taken away. The principle of the amendment was not recognized in the original Bill, nor is it in the revised Bill, but now my hon'ble and learned friend is seeking to amend section 6 of Act I of 1879 in this way, and I think that this is not the proper time or the proper place to change a portion of the law which has answered very well up to this time. Why then deprive the zamindar of this privilege or this benefit of section 6 that he has enjoyed so long? My hon'ble friend will bear me out that there is no justification for seeking to introduce this amendment at this stage, and I also submit that it is not required either for the exigencies of the State or for any administrative purposes."

The Hon'ble MR. GUPTA said:—"I am afraid that the Hon'ble Babu Chaturbhooj Sahay is under a slight misapprehension in opposing this amendment. It is true that these words did occur in the older Act and not in the Act that we are now going to amend. The landlord had the right of ejecting the tenant on failure to pay rent, and there was no sale of his occupancy rights. Therefore it was rightly stated there that he forfeits his occupancy rights on failure to pay rent, thereby giving the landlord the right to eject him. But in the present Bill, we take away the right of ejectment and we make the occupancy right saleable. Therefore, if we say that on failure to pay rent he loses his occupancy rights, what shall the landlord sell? If he has defaulted for two years and the landlord gets a decree for arrears of rent, and under this clause the tenant shall have forfeited his right of holding, and if he has forfeited his right, how can that right be sold? Since we are taking away the right of ejectment and giving landlords the right of selling occupancy holdings, we should make the Act consistent with that. I think that the alteration of the law that we have made by this Bill necessitates this change in order to make the Act consistent in itself."

The Hon'ble BABU KALI PADA GHOSH said:—"I am strongly in favour of the amendment which will meet the position, instead of placing landlords in the worst position possible as proposed by the Hon'ble Babu Chaturbhooj Sahay. Now in this Bill we make occupancy rights saleable in execution of a decree for arrears of its own rent. Under the late Act, which we are amending, the zamindar's only remedy was by ejectment, and that right has been taken away in the case of occupancy holdings and this right substituted, and, as has been very rightly pointed out by the Hon'ble Legal Remembrancer, unless we accept the amendment, it can be very well contended that, in not paying arrears of two or three years' rent, the raiyat has lost his occupancy right, and therefore there being no right, the occupancy holding cannot be put up for sale as the Bill now provides. I therefore hope that the amendment will be carried."

The Hon'ble DR. ASUTOSH MUKHOPADHYAYA said:—"I am strongly in favour of this amendment for the reasons stated by the Hon'ble Mr. Gupta."

The Motion was then put and carried.

The Hon'ble MAULVI SERAJ-UL-ISLAM, KHAN BAHADUR, also moved that the words "so long as he pays the rent payable on account of the same" in clause 3 of the Bill, be struck out.

The Hon'ble MR. SLACKE said:—"I have nothing to urge against this amendment."

The Motion was put and agreed to.

The Hon'ble RAI TARINI PERSHAD, BAHADUR, moved that the following be added at the end of clause 3 of the Bill, namely:—

'Any person holding land as a farmer or other tenure-holder shall not, while so holding, acquire a right of occupancy in respect of any land comprised in his farm or tenure, even though he may have cultivated it by himself or by members of his family or by hired servants or with the aid of partners.

'Explanation.—A person having a right of occupancy in land does not lose it by subsequently holding the land in farm or tenure.'

He said:—"I submit that this amendment is necessary and desirable. A similar provision in the Bengal Tenancy Act is my justification for bringing forward this motion. A farmer or mostajir cannot acquire raiyati right by holding land while he holds the farm. If he, while holding as a farmer or mostajir, acquires occupancy right by purchase or other mode of transfer, he is welcome to it. A provision such as I seek by my amendment is desirable."

The Hon'ble MR. SLACKE said:—"I am unable to advise the Council to accept this amendment. The reasons which I gave with regard to item 6 in the agenda apply equally to the present amendment proposed. In the first place, it is not a matter of urgency at all. None of the zamindars, or those who have property in Chota Nagpur, have ever asked that this should be brought into the present Bill. In the second place, we are dealing with a subject, as I remarked before, about which we stand at present in a great deal of ignorance. Whenever necessity should arise, the Executive Government can by notification extend the operation of section 22 (2) of the Bengal Tenancy Act to Chota Nagpur or any portion thereof. This is a point which has not yet arisen. For these reasons, I cannot accept the adoption of this amendment."

The Hon'ble BABU KALI PADA GHOSH said:—"I feel bound to say that I am in favour of this amendment; but if you ask whether I consider it one of extreme urgency, I say no; but this raises a question so well established that I am strongly in favour of this amendment. Whenever such cases arise in Chota Nagpur, we are obliged to look for all the cases on the subject. This point has been decided by the High Court, and this amendment does not make any change in the existing law, but its object is simply to codify the cases. That being so, I am bound to support the amendment."

The Hon'ble MR. GUPTA said:—"The reasons which have been adduced by the Hon'ble Babu Kali Pada Ghosh are the very reasons for which I beg to oppose the amendment, because the law is so clearly established independent of any express provision that we do not require this express provision in the Act. This provision has been no doubt inserted in the Bengal Tenancy Act, but in so doing the Legislature only recognised the case-law as it stood then, and, as far as the cases go back, even under the Act of 1859 (Act X of 1859), it was held by the High Court that a farmer who cultivates land for himself cannot acquire the right of occupancy. I believe the reason is this,—that the right of occupancy is a right really adverse to the landlord. It is a right acquired in derogation to the proprietor's right. The right of occupancy means that the raiyat says: 'I hold this in spite of you.' Now, if a farmer holds land under himself, he cannot acquire a right adversely to himself. He cannot acquire any right in derogation of his own right. It is upon this principle that it has always been held that a farmer cannot acquire any right of occupancy in any land which he himself cultivates. That being the state of the law, what is the necessity of introducing this amendment into a simple Act of this kind, when we are dealing with a non-regulation province, where we want to make everything as simple as possible? Of course, there are many excellent principles in the Bengal Tenancy Act, which might, with advantage, be extended to this Act, but we have not thought it proper to do so, firstly, because there is no necessity for it, and, secondly, if any necessity is proved, the Government has power to extend any provisions of the Bengal Tenancy Act to Chota Nagpur. My hon'ble friend has not shown that the introduction of this principle into Chota Nagpur is necessary; but as soon as it is shown that it is necessary, the local authorities have only to move the Government in order to extend this particular provision of the Tenancy Act into Chota Nagpur. That is to say, if the Courts of Chota Nagpur pass any decision contrary to the principle, the interference of the Government will be necessary. Legislation will not be necessary. It will only be necessary to extend the provisions of the Tenancy Act into Chota Nagpur by a notification in the Government Gazette. The Hon'ble Babu Kali Pada Ghosh, whose experience in Chota Nagpur has been very long, does not say that the Courts of Chota Nagpur have ever given a decision that is contrary to the case-law on the subject. Therefore, if the case-law on the subject is clear and there is no necessity for this amendment, I think we ought to leave it alone."

The Hon'ble MR. PUGH said :—"I also think that the amendment ought not to be accepted. I think it is extremely undesirable to put in any clauses from the Bengal Tenancy Act into this Act for which there is no sufficient reason made out. Although the Bengal Tenancy Act says that a tenure-holder cannot acquire a right of occupancy under certain circumstances, I venture to think it is unnecessary to insert such a provision here.

"There is another objection from my point of view, and that is the wrong use of the word 'farmer' here. You speak correctly in saying a farmer of taxes or a farmer of leases, but when you speak of a man as a farmer of land, it means one who farms land, that is to say, a cultivator. That is the meaning of the word in the English language, but here it means only a person who is a farmer of land. A man who holds land as a cultivator is a farmer, and a farmer in that sense of the word is not a tenure-holder.

"But apart from that objection which is a mere matter of language, I think the amendment ought not to be accepted as it is unnecessary."

The Hon'ble DR. ASUTOSH MUKHOPADHYAYA said :—"I cannot support the amendment. No doubt it is right in principle, but the principle is so firmly established that nobody can question it. It was laid down by the High Court so far back as 1864, and it was confirmed by the Judicial Committee of the Privy Council in the case of Messrs. Jardine, Skinner & Co. in 1878. Consequently it seems to be absolutely unnecessary to accept this amendment. Besides, if Hon'ble Members will compare it with section 22 of the Bengal Tenancy Act, they will find that the two are identical, with this difference only that the Hon'ble Member has not incorporated the Explanation to that section: 'A person having a right of occupancy in land does not lose it by subsequently becoming jointly interested in the land as proprietor or permanent tenure-holder or by subsequently holding the land in ijara or farm.' If we accept the amendment, the question might arise as to what was to happen in the case of a person who had a right of occupancy and subsequently held in ijara. I think that section 22, clause (3), might be introduced into the Chota Nagpur Act, but then that is not really necessary having regard to the case-law on the subject."

The Hon'ble BABU CHATURBHOOJ SAHAY said :—"I am afraid I cannot give my vote in favour of the amendment. It is said that there is a provision in the Bengal Tenancy Act, and this salutary provision ought to be put into this Act. This is no reason why we should accept this amendment or incorporate this principle of law into the Chota Nagpur Act. It is admitted that the Chota Nagpur Act is very different in many respects and at present a great many changes are not desirable, and we were told in the Select Committee that it was limited in its scope, and that no new principle should be introduced unless an urgent case was made out. We should not alter the law unnecessarily. The case-law on the subject establishes beyond all possible doubt that a farmer or ijaradar cannot have rights of occupancy in any land comprised within his lease, so whether we borrow this section from the Tenancy Act or not, it is all the same, and it does not affect the well-recognised principle of law that an ijaradar cannot acquire rights of occupancy. Therefore, unless we are prepared to borrow or incorporate other sections of the Bengal Tenancy Act, there is no use of adopting this one."

The Hon'ble RAI TARINI PERSHAD, BAHADUR, in reply said:—"Notwithstanding what has been said, I would press my amendment."

The Motion was then put and lost.

New clause.

The Hon'ble MR. SLACKE moved that after clause 3 of the Bill the following be inserted, namely:—

'3A. In section 7 of the said Act, before the words "the last preceding section" the words "the first two paragraphs of" shall be inserted.'

He said:—"By this Bill we have added two new paragraphs to section 6. Previous to that addition there was no reason to alter the wording of section 7 of Act I of 1879, but owing to the addition of these two paragraphs, it has become necessary to insert these words. Unless this be done then the effect will be that contracts can be entered into which in effect will deprive raiyats of the rights conferred on them by the two new paragraphs which the Bill proposes to add to section 6 of the Act. To allow such to occur would be highly inadvisible, and for this reason I would ask the Council to accept this amendment."

The Hon'ble DR. ASUTOSH MUKHOPADHYAYA said:—"I am in some difficulty about this amendment, but I take it, it has been rendered necessary by the addition of two new paragraphs to section 6. Section 7 now says: 'Nothing contained in the last preceding section shall be held to affect the terms of any writtten contract for the cultivation of land entered into between a landholder and a raiyat when it contains any express stipulation contrary thereto.' No doubt this was applicable to section 6, to which two new paragraphs have since been added, and the effect of the amendment proposed would be to make the exception in section 7 inapplicable to the new paragraphs. If this is the intention, I do not see any objection to the amendment."

[At this stage, with the leave of the President, the Member in charge conferred with the Hon'ble Dr. Asutosh Mukhopadhyaya on this point, with the result that the latter expressed himself satisfied.]

The Motion was put and agreed to.

Clause 4 (section 10A).

The Hon'ble RAI TARINI PERSHAD, BAHADUR, moved that for proviso (b) in section 10A, in clause 4 of the Bill, the following be substituted, namely:—

'(b) Nothing in this section shall affect the right to execute a decree for sale of a holding passed, or the terms or conditions of any contract registered, before the first day of January, 1903.'

He said:—"I submit that nothing can be put forward by way of objection with regard to the principle which underlies the provision here. What I submit for the consideration of the Council is, that sub-clause (b) ought to be amended so as to include any decree which has already been passed for sale of a holding. That is my object. The Bill already provides that nothing in this section shall affect the terms or conditions of any contract registered before the first day of January, 1903. Evidently that refers to contracts like simple mortgages which authorise the mortgagee to sell the property. Speaking here of decrees, which have already been passed, it may be said that the provision already made in respect of contracts registered before the 1st January will protect decrees which have been already passed upon mortgages executed before the 1st of January, 1903; but I submit that, having regard to the provisions of the Registration Act, there are cases in which mortgages are as valid and as good as registered mortgages, provided the value of the mortgage security on land does not exceed Rs. 100. Therefore, it is quite possible to see that there might be decrees already passed, based upon mortgages of Rs. 100 or less, which ought to be protected on the same ground as contracts registered before the 1st January, 1903."

The Hon'ble MR. SLACKE said:—"I have nothing to say against the proposal."

The Motion was put and agreed to.

Clause 4 (section 10B).

The Hon'ble MAULVI SERAJ-UL-ISLAM, KHAN BAHADUR, moved that sub-section (2) in section 10B in clause 4 of the Bill be struck out. He said:—

"I submit that section 10B gives no right of transfer to a tenant except a very limited right and for a limited period, namely, that a tenant has no right to transfer his holding or tenure except this, that he may lease or mortgage for a term not exceeding five years. But that limited right under this section is made subject to the consent in writing of the zamindar. If the sub-clause (2) be allowed to remain as it is, the result will be that this right to transfer will be practically nil. In fact, it will be almost impossible to get the written consent of the landlord. The amendment will not prejudice the landlord, because under the law the arrears of rent has been made the first charge; but if this clause is allowed to stand, it will deprive the tenant of the benefit which this section is intended to give."

The Hon'ble MR. SLACKE said:—"I am unable, Sir, to support this amendment. In the first place, the inability which the learned and hon'ble Member who moved the amendment considers would attach to the raiyat if this sub-section be retained will not in practice exist. The right of a raiyat to transfer his holding or part of it is, at present, not binding on the landlord unless the latter's consent to the same is obtained. In spite, however, of this, numerous transfers are now made, and thus it will be seen that the raiyat will be in no way penalized should this sub-section be retained. Furthermore, I am unable to understand why an arrangement made between two persons should be binding on a third party who has had no cognizance of it, and when no custom can be pleaded in support."

The Hon'ble BABU CHATURBHOOJ SAHAY said:—"I submit, Sir, that the amendment is not necessary, and the absence of the landlord's consent in writing will not debar the raiyat from transferring his right in his holding for a limited period. One raiyat may transfer his holding to another, but it is not necessary that the landlord should be bound to accept it. The transfer between raiyats inter se is one thing, and its acceptance by the malik is another, but the absence of the malik's consent would not in any way interfere with the transfer of the holding to another raiyat at all. There are various reasons why the malik may object to recognise the transfer. The holding itself may not be transferable; but when one raiyat chooses to transfer to another, it does not concern him to inquire into the question at all as to whether the tenure is saleable or not; but in order to carry on agricultural pursuits he may transfer, but then it is another thing that the landlord should recognise such transfer. Therefore there may be a transfer, but that transfer will not be binding on the landlord unless his consent is given."

The Hon'ble BABU KALI PADA GHOSH said:—"I regret I cannot support this amendment. I was unable to follow my hon'ble friend, the mover of this amendment, when he said that if this clause is allowed to stand, the effect will be that no transfers can be made by a raiyat, unless he gets the previous consent of the landlord. The section as it stands does not lay down such a thing. It simply lays down that no transfer by a raiyat of his holding shall be binding on the landlord, unless he has obtained the landlord's consent in writing. It is one thing to make it binding on the landlord, and it is another thing to allow the raiyat to transfer his holding. Sub-clause (3) is as follows:—

'No transfer in contravention of sub-section (1) or sub-section (2) shall be registered or shall be in any way recognised or acted upon by any Court, whether in the exercise of civil, criminal or revenue jurisdiction.'

"Now if this was allowed to stand, what my hon'ble friend apprehends might happen, but I understand sub-clause (3) is to be amended in the next motion by striking out the words 'or sub-section (2).' I do not think it can be contended that a raiyat in making a transfer would be put to the necessity of obtaining his landlord's consent, but the only effect will be that unless it is made with the landlord's consent, it will not be binding upon him. My hon'ble friend was contemplating the case in which he said that the occupancy rights would be sold, and the rent would be the first charge; but he lost sight of the fact that these mortgages and leases can be granted also in non-occupancy holdings. There also the remedy is by ejectment. The landlord cannot avoid this lease or this mortgage unless he makes the lessees or mortgagees parties, and that would certainly bring in an obligation which it would be next to impossible for a landlord to comply with. I do not think that this sub-clause, as it stands, will in any way hamper the raiyat in making a transfer."

The Hon'ble MR. MACPHERSON said:—"This, Sir, seems to be a difficult question. Under the Bengal Tenancy Act, the right of transfer by an occupancy raiyat of his entire holding is left to custom. Under section 88 of the Bengal Tenancy Act the subdivision of a holding is not binding on a landlord unless he gives his consent in writing; but section 85 declares certain powers of sublease.

"Now by this Bill, we are limiting, as several speakers have said, the right to transfer by the raiyat very considerably. Clause (1), sub-clause (1) of section 10B leaves the raiyat a very modified right of transfer. Then sub-clause (2) goes on to say that exercise even of that modified right shall not be binding on the landlord, unless his consent has been obtained in writing. This does not mean that the raiyat will not be able to exercise the modified right of transfer at all without the landlord's consent. It means only that the transferree will take the holding or part of the holding or field at the risk of the landlord's refusal to recognise the transfer. We have gone considerably further than the Tenancy Act in this matter; and if I thought that there was any serious danger to the raiyat that he would be seriously impeded in his agricultural credit, I should vote against the sub-clause under discussion. Take again, for instance, the case of a poor woman making a sub-lease of her lands which she is not able to cultivate, her husband having died. It is very common in such cases for land to be sublet for a term until the children are grown up and able to cultivate. If I thought that such an arrangement would really be impeded by this sub-clause, I should vote against the sub-clause. But we have gone far in sub-clause (1) to modify and limit any rights of transfer which may exist by law or custom in Chota Nagpur at this moment; and I think that the further step taken in sub-clause (2) may be approved subject to re-consideration when with fuller knowledge we again revise the law. I ask myself what grievance the transferrer or transferree would have if the landlord refused to recognise the transfer? What could the landlord do? How could he treat the transferree who has been put in possession for the short term of five years defined by sub-clause (1)? Could he treat the transferree as a trespasser, and is there any likelihood of any hardship arising? I think that if the transferree takes care that the rent is paid to the landlord, the landlord will not be able to touch him. In this belief I agree to let the sub-clause stand, and I shall vote against the amendment."

The Hon'ble DR. ASUTOSH MUKHOPADHYAYA said:—"I entirely agree in the observations of the Hon'ble Member who spoke last. The question raised by this amendment is no doubt one of very great difficulty, but after anxious consideration I have come to the conclusion that it ought not to be accepted. Under the Bengal Tenancy Act the question whether a raiyat is entitled to transfer his holding or not depends upon whether there is a custom of transferability or not. If there is a custom he has the right, otherwise not. It has been said that by section 10B of the Act we are going to restrict the right of transfer, but I submit that this is hardly a correct view to take. This assumes that raiyats and yaradars are entitled to transfer, and of course if they are so entitled, the provisions embodied in section 10B may be correctly described as a restriction on their rights. But, I take it, the truth is that raiyats are not entitled to transfer, although in some places they endeavour to do so. I take it, therefore, that the correct view of section 10B is that it accurately defines the position of the raiyat so far as the question of transfer is concerned; it lays down that he is entitled to transfer under certain circumstances, that is to say, in the first place, he is entitled to lease out his holding, provided the lease is for not more than five years, and in the second place, he is entitled to execute a bhagut bandha mortgage, if the period does not exceed five years. If the raiyat does either of these two things, there is no reason why the landlord, behind whose back the transfer takes place, should in any way be bound by the transaction. In fact, the question of the landlord being not bound by the transaction ought not to arise if the transferree is cautious. The question of the landlord being bound only arises if the landlord seeks to eject the transferree, and that contingency can only arise if the rent is not paid. Therefore if the rent is paid in, if the bhagut bandha mortgagee is careful to see tha the landlord gets his rent, the question of the transaction being binding on tht landlord will never arise. On the other hand, if he is not careful to see thae the rent is paid, the landlord is entitled to say, 'I am not bound by yourt transfer, my rent is in arrears, and I am entitled to proceed against the holding.'"

The Hon'ble MAULVI SERAJ-UL-ISLAM, KHAN BAHADUR, in reply said:—"I do not think I should take up the time of the Council by making a long reply, but I would only point out that from the Report of the Select Committee it appears that the wording of this clause has been taken from the Bengal Tenancy Act, section 88. The Select Committee say: 'We have also provided, on the analogy of section 88 of the Bengal Tenancy Act, that no transfer of a raiyat's rights shall be binding on the landlord, unless it is made with his consent in writing.' Well, that section 88 of the Bengal Tenancy Act refers only to the subdivision of the holding. It says: 'A division of a tenure or holding or distribution of the rent payable in respect thereof, shall not be binding on the landlord unless it is made with his consent in writing.' This section 10B goes a great deal beyond the Bengal Tenancy Act in putting restrictions on the raiyat in the transfer of his holding or tenures. Some of the Hon'ble Members have said what will be the effect of this section and how the transferree will be hampered and how the tenant will be hampered. It appears that this modified right of transfer is given to the tenant to enable him to raise a loan in a time of emergency, but I submit that when it is found that it is subject to the landlord's consent, the tenant or raiyat will not be able to raise the money, as no mahájan will give a loan and take a mortgage when he finds that it is subject to the landlord's consent I humbly submit that this section will defeat the object of the Legislature, that object being to enable poor tenants to raise a loan on a bhagut bandha mortgage, limited to a period of five years. Therefore I submit that, in spite of the weight of authority being against me, I feel that it will be disastrous to allow this section to remain as it stands, as it will in effect prejudice the tenant's rights."

The Motion was then put and lost.

The Hon'ble MAULVI SERAJ-UL-ISLAM, KHAN BAHADUR, also moved that the words "or sub-section (2)," in sub-section (3) of section 10B, in clause 4 of the Bill, be struck out.

The Hon'ble MR. SLACKE said:—"I support this amendment, Sir, for it is the same as the one that stands against my name in item 19 of the List of Business."

The Motion was put and agreed to.

The Hon'ble MR. SLACKE, by leave of the Council, withdrew the following motion, of which he had given notice, namely;—

"That the words 'or sub-section (2),' in sub-section (3) of section 10B, in clause 4 of the Bill, be struck out."

The Hon'ble MAULVI SERAJ-UL-ISLAM, KHAN BAHADUR, moved that the word "criminal," in sub-section (3) of section 10B, in clause 4 of the Bill, be struck out He said:—

"I submit that although a document or deed be not stamped, it may be admissible in certain criminal cases which are set forth in the Stamp Act. If I remember rightly, although such documents are not admissible in certain Courts, they may be admissible in criminal cases. Therefore I submit that the Council should accept this amendment."

The Hon'ble Mr. SLACKE said:—"I strongly oppose this amendment. The result, Sir, of accepting the amendment in question would be to frustrate the object for which section 10B has been framed. If such transfers are to be recognised or acted upon by Criminal Courts, then it will be perfectly clear to any one who has had experience of criminal law that persons can be maintained in possession of lands beyond the periods laid down in this section. I would further add that the word now objected to was inserted in the sub-clause on the advice of Mr. F. B. Taylor, who for many years was Judicial Commissioner of Chota Nagpur, and was eventually a Judge of the High Court. For these reasons, Sir, I would ask that this amendment may be negatived."

The Hon'ble RAI TARINI PERSHAD, BAHADUR, said:—"I beg to strongly oppose the amendment of my hon'ble and learned friend. With reference to this, Sir, I beg to submit that no question of admissibility arises here. Under the Bill as it stands certain transfers shall not be recognised or acted upon.

"Clause (3) of section 10B says:—

'No transfer in contravention of sub-section (1) or sub-section (2) shall be registered, or shall in any way be acted upon by any Court, whether in the exercise of civil, criminal or revenue jurisdiction.'

"Section 33 of the Stamp Act does not touch the question of recognition of a transfer or of its being acted upon. Section 33 says:—

'(1) Every person having by law or consent of parties authority to receive evidence, and every person in charge of a public office, except an officer of police, before whom any instrument chargeable, in his opinion, with duty is produced or comes in the performance of his functions, shall, if it appears to him that such instrument is not duly stamped, impound the same.

'(2) For that purpose every such person shall examine every instrument so chargeable and so produced or coming before him in order to ascertain whether it is stamped with a stamp of the value and description required by the law in force in British India when such instrument was executed or first executed:

Provided that—

(a) nothing herein contained shall be deemed to require any Magistrate or Judge of a Criminal Court to examine or impound, if he does not think fit so to do, any instrument coming before him in the course of any proceeding other than a proceeding under Chapter XII or Chapter XXXVI of the Code of Criminal Procedure, 1898; V of 1898

(b) in the case of a Judge of a High Court, the duty of examining and impounding any instrument under this section may be delegated to such officer as the Court appoints in this behalf.

'(3) For the purposes of this section, in cases of doubt,—

(a) the Governor General in Council may determine what offices shall be deemed to be public offices; and

(b) the Local Government may determine who shall be deemed to be persons in charge of public offices.'

"This section would not allow an unstamped document to be let in evidence in proceedings of a quasi-civil nature under Chapters XII and XXXVI. If Criminal Courts be struck out from the category of Courts which should not recognise such transfers, it would be open to Magistrates to recognise these documents even in cases which are of a quasi-civil nature, and therefore it would be dangerous to allow the amendment proposed by my hon'ble and learned friend."

The Hon'ble MR. PUGH said:—"With reference to this amendment, I feel the difficulty which has occurred to the hon'ble mover. I think at the same time that the amendment will go too far, because in Criminal Courts we have not only the trial of criminal offences, but we have also cases with regard to possession, cases particularly relating to land, and it will never do to have this clause amended in this way. At the same time I would suggest to my hon'ble friend, the Member in charge of the Bill, that this section does at present go too far. Now as regards such an instrument not being recognised or acted upon by a Criminal Court, supposing the question turns upon a charge of murder, or on a charge of forgery, or on various other charges, you must recognise it, and act upon it, and rely upon it, but you need not recognise it as valid. Therefore what I would venture to suggest to the Hon'ble Member in charge of the Bill is, that you should alter the wording here by putting in after the word 'recognise' the words 'as valid,' leaving out the words 'or acted upon.' I hope that will also meet the views of my hon'ble and learned friend, the mover."

The Hon'ble MR. SLACKE said:—"I am willing to accept the amendment proposed by the Hon'ble the Advocate-General on the wording of sub-clause (3) of section 10B."

The Hon'ble the PRESIDENT said:—"I think that the amendment proposed by the Hon'ble the Advocate-General amounts to a substantive amendment of the clause, and that it must therefore be separately considered: the proper procedure will be to first take the decision of the Council on the amendment as put forward by the Hon'ble Maulvi Seraj-ul-Islam, Khan Bahadur."

The Motion was then put and lost.

The Hon'ble MR. PUGH, by leave of the Council, moved that in sub-section (3) of section 10B, in clause 4 of the Bill, the words "as valid" be substituted for the words "or acted upon."

The Hon'ble the PRESIDENT said:—"I understand that the Hon'ble Member in charge of the Bill accepts the amendment proposed by the Hon'ble the Advocate-General. Sub-clause (3) will then read:—

'No transfer in contravention of sub-section (1) or sub-section (2) shall be registered or shall in any way be recognised as valid by any Court, whether in the exercise of civil, criminal or revenue jurisdiction.'"

The Motion was put and agreed to.

The Hon'ble RAI TARINI PERSHAD, BAHADUR, moved that the following be added to section 10B, in clause 4 of the Bill, namely:—

'(5) Nothing in this section shall affect the validity of any transfer (not otherwise invalid) of a raiyat's right in his holding or any portion thereof made bonâ fide before the first day of January, 1903.'

He said:—"The Bill provides for giving effect to contracts registered before the 1st of January, 1903. My amendment for a similar protection of decrees passed before that date has just been carried, and my present amendment seeks similar protection for transfers (not otherwise invalid) made bonâ fide before the same date. There is no reason why this should not be allowed."

The Hon'ble MR. SLACKE said:—"I would, Sir, accept this amendment."

The Motion was put and agreed to.

Clause 5.

The Hon'ble RAI TARINI PERSHAD, BAHADUR, also moved that to section 11, in clause 5 of the Bill, the following be added, namely :—

'(3) The officer referred to in sub-section (1) may award to the landlord such sum as he thinks fit, not exceeding Rs 25, as compensation, if in his opinion an application made by a tenant under this section is frivolous and vexatious."

He said :—"You have provided for penalties against zamindars in cases of illegal exaction and for refusal to grant receipts to tenants for payments made by them. In holding the balance evenly, you should provide for a penalty if raiyats resort to frivolous and vexatious complaints against the zamindars. A one-sided legal remedy for a legal wrong is not desirable. I submit that there should be a penalty against raiyats in such cases, and that it should be in the shape of a compensation, the maximum of which should not exceed Rs. 25. That seems to me to be a very equitable provision. Of course, there is a provision in section 182 of the Indian Penal Code, but that would be very much out of the way, and that section makes provision in respect of false informations evidently to the criminal authorities and relates to criminal matters. The Deputy Commissioner should be empowered under some provision like the one proposed, when he finds that any false or vexatious complaint has been brought by a raiyat, to fine him Rs. 2 or Rs. 5, or any sum up to Rs. 25. This would save time and trouble and expense to the parties concerned; otherwise raiyats may be induced or instigated to make false complaints, because if they succeed, well and good, and if they do not succeed, they go scot-free. I submit there is no harm in making a provision of this kind, and urge it upon the consideration of the Hon'ble Member in charge of the Bill and the other Hon'ble Members in Council."

The Hon'ble MR. SLACKE said :—"This amendment is not one I am prepared to accept. The point is one which was most carefully considered by the Select Committee, who were of opinion that the provisions of section 182 of the Indian Penal Code were quite sufficient to meet any such evil, and I am unable to see any cause to differ from this opinion. To accept this amendment would also be likely to create a scare amongst these aboriginal raiyats, which in my opinion would be injudicious. I would therefore suggest that this amendment might be rejected and that it be left to time to show whether any further safeguard is needed than that which is provided by section 182 of the Indian Penal Code. Not one single zamindar has ever thought it worthwhile to ask that a provision of this kind should be drafted into the Bill. It is clear then that the zamindars themselves do not consider that there is any necessity for a provision of this nature. Under these circumstances, I am unable to advise the Council to accept this amendment."

The Hon'ble BABU CHATURBHOOJ SAHAY said :—"When this matter was being discussed in Select Committee, I was in favour of having a provision like this put in the Bill, so that it might prove a check to evil-minded raiyats against their lodging complaints without any foundation whatever. No doubt, when the Bill was introduced, we heard that the relations between landlord and tenant there were to a certain extent strained. No wonder then that the raiyats might be putting forward frivolous complaints to harass the landlords and put them to trouble as much as possible. It might be that he would get himself exculpated or acquitted, but in the meantime he is put to trouble and annoyance and expense, and so I submit that, when this matter is being reconsidered, it would be better if this amendment were adopted."

The Hon'ble DR. ASUTOSH MUKHOPADHYAYA said :—"I am unable to accept this amendment, and for this reason. Section 11, as it now stands, is a counterpart of section 75 of the Bengal Tenancy Act, which also provides a penalty for exactions by landlords from tenants in excess of rent lawfully payable. So far as the tract of country to which the Bengal Tenancy Act is applicable is concerned, no one has ever suggested that tenants are in the habit of laying false charges for the purpose of harassing landlords, and I believe there is no foundation for the suggestion that tenants in Chota Nagpur may take to this course. I take it that our duty is to legislate for the actual needs of the society in which we live, and not to anticipate imaginary evils and provide for them."

The Hon'ble BABU KALI PADA GHOSH said:—"If the Hon'ble Members would refer to section 11, which lays down that in certain cases of exaction raiyats 'shall be entitled to recover from the person receiving such rent damages not exceeding double the amount so exacted or paid,' they will find that this is not a new thing which has been inserted: we had it under the old law, but the old law was found inoperative as it stands. Under the old law, the raiyat in such cases was obliged to bring a suit in the Revenue Court, and he could not bring this to the notice of the Court by application, as is now provided in the present Bill. The conditions of Chota Nagpur are such that it is very likely that many vexatious cases might arise and landlords might be harassed, and certainly it might be that there is much force in the arguments in favour of the amendment, but having regard to the different local conditions, I think all those who have local experience are agreed that section 11 should be amended in the way provided for in the Bill. There are a large number of landlords who treat their raiyats exceedingly well, but there are also other classes of landlords in Chota Nagpur who are in the habit of making these extortions from raiyats, and that was considered one of the principal grounds upon which these amendments were made. It was for this reason thought highly desirable to have such a section whereby these raiyats can come to the Court without being obliged to incur the expense of a suit, and therefore we thought it necessary to amend section 11. The original section 11, as it was drafted in the Bill, came to the Select Committee with a maximum penalty of Rs. 500. That was considered too high, and the Select Committee very properly reduced it to Rs. 200. I think, having regard to the requirements of the district, section 11 should be allowed to be amended as provided in the Bill, and I cannot therefore support this amendment."

The Hon'ble MR. MACPHERSON said:—"I think, Sir, that the amendment proposed is a reasonable one, that it is fair to landlords, and that it might be useful to put this power in the hands of Revenue-officers to prevent and punish frivolous and unfounded agitation. For these reasons I shall vote for the amendment."

The Hon'ble MR. PUGH said:—"For my own part I do not think it desirable to encourage people to come forward with these claims for Rs. 25, or whatever the compensation may be. What we have in the Bengal Tenancy Act is, that a tenant in these circumstances has a right to bring a suit.

"You have a provision in the Penal Code which provides for these things. There is section 182, under which a man is liable, and I object also altogether upon principle to make a man doubly liable, under the Penal Code, to a certain penalty and under this Act to a fine of Rs. 25. Therefore upon these grounds I trust that the Council will throw out this amendment."

The Hon'ble RAI TARINI PERSHAD, BAHADUR, in reply said:—"This amendment has been opposed by several Members who, while admitting the correctness of the principle, observed that the provision sought is not urgently required. With regard to that I must say that I feel grievously embarrassed when want of necessity and want of urgency is made the ground of opposition. How can we settle the matter so far as necessity goes? I submit these are matters with regard to which provision would be necessary in Chota Nagpur as well as in other places, because, wherever there are landlords and tenants and the relations of landlords and tenants, the necessity like this would arise. We have, I submit, a provision to the effect that if a landlord extort money from the tenant in an illegal manner, he is liable to a penalty. We have a provision that if a zamindar receives rent from a tenant and does not give a receipt, he is liable to penalty. Then why should not there be a penalty for improper conduct on the part of the tenant? From what has fallen from my learned friend on my right, who has no doubt very much better experience than myself, necessity like this exists. It is simply a matter of common sense. The person exercising this power will always be a competent officer, and he will not exercise this power until he finds it necessary. Unless there is a check like this, much harm will be done. The Hon'ble Dr. Asutosh Mukhopadhyaya says that complaints have not come to him: he has not heard of complaints like this from zamindars. I say with great submission and great respect that such an argument would be very much like an argument in a circle. We have to judge upon facts, and we already know the conditions of the country that we have to deal with, and in these circumstances I submit that a provision like this is necessary."

The Motion was then put and lost.

Clause 6.

The Hon'ble DR. ASUTOSH MUKHOPADHYAYA moved that in sub-section (1) of section 12, in clause 6 of the Bill, after the word "rent" the words "or interest due thereon" be inserted. He said:—

"This is a very small amendment, and it obviously brings section 12 into line with section 11. The first paragraph of section 11 says:—

'A landlord who, except under any special enactment for the time being in force, levies from a tenant any money in excess of the rent legally payable with interest thereon or any rakumata or predial services, to which he is not legally entitled, shall, on application to the tenant, be liable.'

"Section 12 says:—

'Every tenant who makes a payment on account of rent to his landlord shall be entitled to obtain forthwith from the landlord or his agent a receipt signed for the same in a form prescribed by the Local Government from time to time by notification in the Calcutta Gazette.'

"Therefore I submit that the words 'or interest due thereon' ought to be inserted."

The Hon'ble MR. SLACKE said:—"I would, Sir, accept this amendment."

The Hon'ble RAI TARINI PERSHAD, BAHADUR, by way of amendment, moved that the words "or both" be inserted after the word "thereon in the above motion." He said:—

"I would support the amendment, but I think there ought to be the words 'or both' added after 'thereon,' so that it would run in this way: 'Every tenant who makes a payment on account of rent or interest thereon or both, etc.' There are many cases in which rent is paid and principal is paid, or there may be cases in which only interest is paid, and again there may be cases in which both are paid."

The Hon'ble DR ASUTOSH MUKHOPADHYAYA said:—"I am quite willing to accept the suggestion."

The Motion was then put in the amended form and carried.

The Hon'ble DR. ASUTOSH MUKHOPADHYAYA also moved that in clause (a) of sub-section (4) of section 12, in clause 6 of the Bill, for the words "for rent paid by the tenant" the words "as aforesaid" be substituted. He said:—

"This is a purely verbal amendment necessitated by the amendment which has just been carried."

The Hon'ble MR. SLACKE said:—"I have no objection to offer."

The Motion was put and agreed to.

Clause 7.

The Hon'ble MAULVI SERAJ-UL-ISLAM, KHAN BAHADUR, moved that the following be added at the end of clause 7 (3) of the Bill, namely:—

'or (c) when the tenant entertains a bonâ fide doubt as to who is entitled to receive the rent.'

He said:—"The reason for this amendment is that this proviso finds a place in the Bengal Tenancy Act, section 61, from which it is taken. Clause (a) says that when an under-tenant, raiyat or Mundari khunt-kattidar who is bound to pay money on account of rent has reason to believe, owing to a tender having been refused, or a receipt withheld on a previous occasion, that the person to whom his rent is payable will not be willing to receive it or to grant him a receipt for it, he may deposit the money. The next clause is with reference to the case where rent is payable to co-sharers jointly. These are the two cases in which he is allowed to deposit the rent. Now in section 61 of the Bengal Tenancy Act there are four clauses, namely:—

'(a) when a tenant tenders money on account of rent and the landlord refuses to receive it or refuses to grant a receipt for it;

(b) when a tenant bound to pay money on account of rent has reason to believe, owing to a tender having been refused or a receipt withheld on a previous occasion, that the person to whom his rent is payable will not be willing to receive it and to grant him a receipt for it;

(c) when the rent is payable to co-sharers jointly, and the tenant is unable to obtain the joint receipt of the co-sharers for the money, and no person has been empowered to receive the rent on their behalf; or

"Of these clauses, (a), (b) and (c) are covered by section 13, clause 7, sub-clause (3) (a) and (b), of the Bill, but (d) is omitted. I submit that (d) ought to be embodied and inserted after clause (b) of section 13 (3). My reason is that this Bill recognises the right of intervenors. Where a zamindar brings a suit for rent, an intervenor may claim that rent, and a tenant may be in doubt as to whether the rent should be paid to A or B. Therefore I submit that where a tenant has a bonâ fide doubt as to whom he should pay the rent to, he ought to be given the option of depositing the money."

The Hon'ble MR. SLACKE said:—"I am, Sir, unwilling to accept this amendment, since to do so would be violating the principle that guided the Select Committee in dealing with the provisions of the Bill. Nothing exists to show that there is any necessity for accepting this amendment, and should any such fact hereafter arise, it can be promptly dealt with by the issue of a notification extending to Chota Nagpur the appropriate sub-clause of the Bengal Tenancy Act."

The Hon'ble RAI TARINI PERSHAD, BAHADUR, said:—"My hon'ble learned friend has no doubt the Bengal Tenancy Act, in justification of the amendment moved by him. But my experience has shown me that in cases of doubtful title, where several persons claim the same right, a deposit by the raiyat always proves infructuous. No doubt he finds different claimants claiming rent from him. He does not know, it is true, who is the party entitled to rent from him. But who is the judge in the question? The tenant is certainly not expected to be so. It is not easy for him to decide. It is a matter for a forum. If he deposits his rent in Court on the grounds of bonâ fide doubt as to who is entitled to receive the rent, the Court in which the rent is deposited is unable to pay to anybody until the question of title is settled in a Court of Justice. I must, however, notice that there is another ground of justification of my hon'ble friends movement. It is this. If the raiyat deposit the rent, he can tell the claimants he has already deposited the rent due by him in Court, which might in some cases save him from the botheration of demands by the claimants. But if we weigh the pros and cons, the scale of reasonableness will preponderate rather in favour of the Bill as it stands than in favour of the amendment moved. I therefore cannot support the amendment."

The Motion was then put and lost.

Clause 9.

The Hon'ble MAULVI SERAJ-UL-ISLAM, KHAN BAHADUR, by leave of the Council, withdrew the following motion of which he had given notice, namely :—

"That to clause 9 of the Bill the following be added, namely :—

'In the same section, after the word "rent" the words "(other than the amount deposited)" shall be inserted.'

Clause 10.

The Hon'ble DR. ASUTOSH MUKHOPADHYAYA moved that to clause 10 of the Bill the following be added, namely :—

'In section 17 of the said Act, after the word "rent" the words "or interest thereon" shall be inserted'

He said:—"I need not repeat the reasons urged by me in support of my amendment No. 23 on the list, which has been already carried. They apply equally to this amendment."

The Hon'ble MR. SLACKE said :—"I would, Sir, accept this amendment."

The Motion was put and agreed to.

New clause.

The Hon'ble MAULVI SERAJ-UL-ISLAM, KHAN BAHADUR, moved that the following be inserted after clause 10 of the Bill, namely :—

'10A. (1) Before the proviso to section 24 of the said Act the following shall be inserted, namely :—

"Provided that if the Deputy Commissioner, when passing a decree for enhancement, considers that the immediate enforcement of the decree in its full extent would be attended with hardship to the under-tenant or raiyat, he may direct that the enhancement shall be gradual; that is to say, that the rent shall increase yearly by degrees for any number of years not exceeding five until the limit of the enhancement decreed has been reached."

'(2) After the word "Provided," in the same section, the word "also" shall be inserted.'

He said :—"I submit that this would be for the benefit of the tenant. This has been taken verbatim from section 36 of the Bengal Tenancy Act, and I submit that it would be for the benefit of the tenant if such a power were given to the Deputy Commissioner who could, in certain circumstances, direct that there should be a gradual enhancement instead of granting the enhancement at once."

The Hon'ble MR. SLACKE said :—"For two reasons, Sir, I am not in favour of accepting this amendment. In the first place, it deals with the subject of the enhancement of rent. Admittedly the Act is defective with regard to the safeguards relating to enhancement; but, as I have already pointed out, we cannot, owing to the lack of the requisite data, say what these safeguards should be. Secondly, the section of the Act in which the learned and hon'ble Member would wish to include this amendment does, as it stands, enable the Deputy Commissioner to provide for the very object which the Hon'ble Member contemplates by his amendment, for it says that the Deputy Commissioner 'may otherwise alter or vary the rent for such land as to him may seem fair and reasonable.'

"That being so, it seems to me unwise to tamper with the question of enhancement when confessedly we are not in possession of the requisite data. For these reasons I would ask the Council to reject the amendment."

The Hon'ble MAULVI SERAJ-UL-ISLAM, KHAN BAHADUR, in reply said :—"I do not think the law, as it stands, covers a case like that. The present section 24 no doubt gives the Deputy Commissioner wide discretionary power to fix whatever rent he thinks fair and reasonable, but I submit that this does not give power to direct that the enhancement should be gradual. Of course, if the Hon'ble Members think that the law, as it stands, covers the case, I do not think it necessary to go on with this."

The Motion was then put and lost.

Clause 11 (section 28B).

The Hon'ble BABU KALI PADA GHOSH moved that the words "or the holding of an under-raiyat having occupancy rights," and the words "or the holding of an under-raiyat not having occupancy rights," in section 28B (1) in clause 11 of the Bill, be struck out. He said:—

"The expression 'under-raiyat' is to be found nowhere in this Act, nor is it defined in the Act. Section 28B has been copied from the Bengal Tenancy Act, and is a mere reproduction of section 113 of that Act. Of course the section of the Bengal Tenancy Act contains these two expressions, but in this Act this expression will have no meaning and may lead to complications. Therefore, I submit, their retention is not desirable, and they may be struck out."

The Hon'ble MR. SLACKE said:—"I have nothing to urge against this amendment."

The Motion was put and agreed to.

The Hon'ble RAI TARINI PERSHAD, BAHADUR, by leave of the Council, withdrew the following motion of which he had given notice, namely:—

"That the words 'or the holding of an under-raiyat having occupancy rights,' in section 28B (1), in clause 11 of the Bill, be struck out.

In doing so, he said:—"I beg leave to withdraw this amendment, as it is fully covered by the amendment which has just been moved and carried."

The Hon'ble RAI TARINI PERSHAD, BAHADUR, by leave of the Council, also withdrew the following motion of which he had given notice, namely:—

"That at the end of sub-section (2) of section 28B, in clause 11 of the Bill, the following be added, namely:—

'or from the date of the final decision in any suit, or of any order in any other proceeding, referred to in section 28A, altering the said record-of-rights.'

In doing so, he said:—"I will not press this amendment. I have had the benefit of a discussion with the Hon'ble Member in charge of the Bill, and I have in consequence decided to withdraw it. I accordingly ask permission to withdraw this amendment."

New clause.

The Hon'ble DR. ASUTOSH MUKHOPADHYAYA, by leave of the Council, withdrew the following motion of which he had given notice, namely:—

"That after clause 11 of the Bill, the following be inserted, namely:—

'11A. In section 29 of the said Act, after the word "raiyat," in both places in which it occurs, the words "or Mundari khunt-kattidar" shall be inserted.'

In doing so, he said:—"The Hon'ble Member in charge of the Bill has satisfied me that this amendment, as well as the one which stands in my name and is No 35 on the agenda, that in section 32A, in clause 14 of the Bill, after the word 'raiyat' the words 'or Mundari khunt-kattidar' be inserted, are not required, and therefore I withdraw them."

Clause 13.

The Hon'ble RAI TARINI PERSHAD, BAHADUR, moved that in section 31, in clause 13 of the Bill, the words "or Sambat" be inserted after the word "Bengali." He said:—

"This is simply a verbal amendment, and it is necessary. So far as I know, there should be no discussion about this matter, as it is identical with an amendment, moved by the Hon'ble Member in charge of the Bill."

The Hon'ble MR. SLACKE said:—"This amendment, Sir, is the same as the one standing against my name in the next item of business, and I would therefore accept it."

The Motion was put and agreed to.

The Hon'ble MR. SLACKE, by leave of the Council, withdrew the following motion of which he had given notice, namely:—

"That in section 31, in clause 13 of the Bill, the words 'or Sambat' be inserted after the word 'Bengali.'"

Clause 14.

The Hon'ble DR. ASUTOSH MUKHOPADHYAYA, by leave of the Council, withdrew the following motion of which he had given notice, namely:—

"That in section 32A, in clause 14 of the Bill, after the word 'raiyat' the words 'or Mundari khunt-khattidar' be inserted."

Clause 16.

The Hon'ble MR. SLACKE moved that in section 34 (4), in clause 16 of the Bill, after the word "paid" the words "or tendered" be inserted. He said:—

"The object of this amendment is to prevent a transferree being harassed by his landlord. If the words in question be not added, it will be open to a landlord to refuse to accept payment of the fee, and thereby to restrain the transferree from bringing any rent suit. This power is clearly not one which should be given the landlord, and I would therefore ask that this amendment may be adopted."

The Motion was put and agreed to.

The Hon'ble MR. SLACKE said:—"It is now, Sir, for me to move that after section 34 (4), in clause 16 of the Bill, the following be inserted, namely:—

'(4a) In the case of any such transfer made after the commencement of the Chota Nagpur Tenancy (Amendment) Act, 1903, if a longer period than one year has elapsed between the date of the transfer and the date of the application for the registration thereof, the transferree or his successor in title shall not be entitled to recover as aforesaid any rent payable as aforesaid for any period longer than one year.

'(4b) In the case of any such transfer made before the commencement of the Chota Nagpur Tenancy (Amendment) Act, 1903, if an application for the registration thereof be not made within one year from such commencement, and if a longer period than one year has elapsed between such commencement and the date of the application for registration, the transferree or his successor in title shall not be entitled to recover as aforesaid any rent payable as aforesaid for any period longer than one year.'

"But I have to-day had the advantage of learning the opinion of the Hon'ble Dr. Asutosh Mukhopadhyaya on this amendment, and in lieu of my own wording I would beg to be allowed to substitute the following, which has been drafted by the learned and Hon'ble Member and which embodies the principle I have in view more strongly than what my own draft does, namely:—

'That for sub-section (4) of section 34, in clause 16 of the Bill, the following be substituted, namely:—

"(4) Every application for the registration of a transfer under sub-section (1) must be made, in the case of a transfer which occurred before the commencement of the Chota Nagpur Tenancy (Amendment) Act, 1903, within one year from such commencement, and, in the case of a transfer occurring after such commencement, within one year from the date of the transfer.

"(4a) If application for the registration of any transfer of a tenure or portion thereof is not made, and the registration-fee paid or tendered, as hereinbefore prescribed, the transferee or his successor in title shall not be entitled to recover, by suit or other proceeding, any rent payable to him as the holder of the tenure or portion which may have accrued due between the date of the transfer and the date of the application for registration."'

"The object of section 34 (4) is to put pressure on transferrees to register their transfers in the sarishta of the landlord, by enacting that as long as such registration is not applied for and the requisite fee not tendered, the transferree can bring no rent suit against his tenants. I have never been satisfied with regard to the efficacy of this provision. In the Land Registration Act we know that in spite of the fines which can be inflicted on proprietors of estates for non-registration of transfers, the provisions of that Act are constantly neglected. It is impossible for me to suggest that a landlord should be allowed to fine a transferree of a tenure for neglecting to register the transfer in his sarishta, and I have been considering what addition could be made to this sub-clause with a view to strengthen the pressure which it is designed should be brought to bear on the transferree to register the transfer. Obviously, inability to sue the raiyat for arrears of rent is very weak. In a very large number of instances the relations between the transferree and his tenants are harmonious, and consequently no need to sue them would arise. Under such circumstances, it would be useless for the superior landlord to tell the transferree's tenants not to pay, as the transfer not having been registered, they would not be sued. The result would be that the transferree would apply for registration and tender his fee, and bring the requisite suits. Then the tenants would discover that their refusal to pay had resulted in their having to meet the costs of the suits, and that they were at their own expense fighting the superior landlord's battle. Lately it was suggested to me that if provision was made to prevent the transferree recovering by suit any amount of rent that had accrued to him for the period between the date of transfer and the date of application for registration in excess of one year's demand, then transferrees would quickly register their transfers in the zamindar's sarishta. This suggestion appeared to me to provide for the want I felt, and it has therefore been embodied in the present amendment."

The Hon'ble the PRESIDENT said :—"As I understand the Hon'ble Member in charge of the Bill, the amendment as it stands in the list of agenda is withdrawn, and he desires in its place to move the following :—

'(4) Every application for the registration of a transfer under sub-section (1) must be made, in the case of a transfer which occurred before the commencement of the Chota Nagpur Tenancy (Amendment) Act, 1903, within one year from such commencement, and, in the case of a transfer occurring after such commencement, within one year from the date of the transfer.

'(4a) If application for the registration of any transfer of a tenure or portion thereof is not made, and the registration-fee paid or tendered, as hereinbefore prescribed, the transferree or his successor in title shall not be entitled to recover, by suit or other proceeding, any rent payable to him as the holder of the tenure or portion which may have accrued due between the date of the transfer and the date of the application for registration.'"

The Hon'ble DR. ASUTOSH MUKHOPADHYAYA said:—"I entirely agree with the observations which have fallen from the Hon'ble Member in charge of the Bill; but, with reference to this amended amendment, I may be permitted to point out that if only a slight verbal change is made, it will be possible for us not only to omit (4a) and (4b), but also to omit the whole of paragraph 4 itself."

The Hon'ble the PRESIDENT said:—"As this is an important amendment and has been sprung upon the Council without time for consideration, I think the best course will be to leave the consideration of this amendment till the end of the day."

The consideration of the revised amendment was postponed till later in the day.

The Hon'ble RAI TARINI PERSHAD, BAHADUR, moved that in sub-section (5) of section 34, in clause 16 of the Bill, the following be inserted before the existing sub-clause (i), namely :—

'to affect the validity of a transfer of any tenure or portion thereof when the name of the transferree or his successor in title has not been registered in the sarishta of the zamindar or superior tenant, or the aforesaid registration-fee has not been paid, if such transfer has been recognized by the zamindar or superior tenant by instituting a suit for the recovery of rent due in respect of the tenure or portion, or if the transfer has taken place in execution of a decree for arrears of rent due in respect of the tenure or portion.'

He said:—"When a landlord sues a transferree for rent, though he has not been registered and has not paid the landlord's fee, he virtually admits his position, which admission amounts to a definite recognition of the transfer. The transferree is brought into the same position when the landlord himself brings the property transferred to sale in execution of his own decree for rent. There may be a small question for consideration in this connection. The section under consideration deals with the right of the transferree to recover rents from his tenants, and not with the question of the validity or otherwise of the transfer. Therefore I submit that there ought to be a provision in the law to the effect that if the landlord himself has brought a suit against the transferree for arrears of rent, or if a transfer has taken place at the instance of the superior landlord in execution of a decree for arrears of rent, no objection to the validity of a transfer like this could be taken only upon the ground that it has not been registered, and only upon the ground that the landlord's fee has not been paid. The landlord can always enforce his claim. Under these circumstances, I think the amendment ought to be accepted. Of course there may be a little difference as regards the wording, and if any Hon'ble Member would prefer to say that instead of the words 'to affect the validity of a transfer' the words 'to affect the right of a transferree to recover rent' be substituted, I have no objection. Perhaps my amendment would meet with approval if altered in this way."

The Hon'ble MR. SLACKE said:—"I am not prepared, Sir, to accept this amendment. I am unable to see any need for it or to recognise that it meets any existing want, nor can I see why such persons should be exempted from paying the registration-fee due to the superior landlord."

The Hon'ble BABU KALI PADA GHOSH said:—"I regret I cannot support this amendment, which as it stands presupposes that a landlord, having brought a rent suit against a transferree or having put the tenure to sale and the purchaser having purchased the tenure, admits the transfer, and therefore it is not necessary that this class of transferrees should register their names in the landlord's sarishta under the new law. I beg to submit that section 34 deals with a particular class of tenures in Chota Nagpur, which are called jágir tenures, and the circumstances of these tenures are quite different from permanent tenures in Bengal. The purchaser of these tenures was under the old law obliged to register his name in the sarishta of the superior landlord, and I would refer my hon'ble and learned friend to section 35 of the old Act which has been repealed by the present Bill. Section 35 ran thus:—

'The provisions of the last preceding section shall also be applicable to the sale of such under-tenures as are mentioned in section 123, and to the sale of the right and title of any person under section 124.'

"This practically means that the purchasers in sales held under sections 123 and 124 of the Act now being amended were under the necessity of registering their names in the sarishta of the superior landlord, and the mere fact that the superior landlord put the property to sale did not exonerate them from registration. So, if we accept my hon'ble friend's amendment, it will have this effect—that the transfers which took place by execution sale before the commencement of the new Act will not be registered in the sarishta of the superior landlord, and section 35 of the Act would be made nugatory to that extent."

The Hon'ble MR. PUGH said:—"I would venture to appeal to the hon'ble mover to relieve the Council from further discussing this amendment by withdrawing it. If a man sues the transferree, it is perfectly impossible that he should say afterwards, 'I question the transfer to him,' and if this amendment is at all necessary, then it will follow that a man might sue the transferree first, and then afterwards take objection to the validity of the transfer. I do not think such a thing can ever happen."

The Hon'ble RAI TARINI PERSHAD, BAHADUR, in reply said:—"The High Court has held that the moment a suit is brought for recovery of arrears of rent against a transferree, the suit itself amounts to a recognition of the title of the transferree. However, if there be any difficulty in the acceptance of this amendment, I leave it there."

The Hon'ble the PRESIDENT said:—"As the amendment has not been withdrawn, it will be put to the Council."

The Motion was then put and lost.

Clause 18.

The Hon'ble DR. ASUTOSH MUKHOPADHYAYA moved that in clause 18 (2) of the Bill for the words "or other person in actual possession of the tenure" the words "or his successor in title" be substituted. He said:—

"I need not give any reason for this amendment other than the one that the words which I propose to substitute better express the meaning than the words in the section."

The Hon'ble MR. SLACKE said:—"I would, Sir, accept this amendment."

The Motion was put and agreed to.

The Hon'ble BABU KALI PADA GHOSH, by leave of the Council, withdrew the following motion of which he had given notice, namely:—

"That in clause 18 (2) of the Bill for the words 'or other person in actual possession of the tenure' the words 'or his successor in title' be substituted."

In doing so, he said:—"I beg, Sir, to withdraw this amendment, which is identical with the one just accepted."

Clause 19.

The Hon'ble MAULVI SERAJ-UL-ISLAM, KHAN BAHADUR, moved that in clause (a) of section 36A, in clause 19 of the Bill, for the words "lease of" the words "interest in" be substituted. He said:—

"This clause has been taken from the Sale Law (Act XI of 1859), section 37, clause (4), and the words 'any lease of land' have been the subject of many decisions of the High Court, and the object of the Legislature appears to be to protect from ejectment persons who hold land on which a 'dwelling-house, manufactory or other permanent building has been erected' and so on. I may remind the Council that the Sale Law entirely sets aside and frees purchasers from encumbrances except in these cases. I submit that these words 'interest in' should be substituted for 'lease of.'"

The Hon'ble MR. SLACKE said:—"I am, Sir, unable to adopt this amendment. The point is one which was very carefully considered by the Select Committee, the legal members of which, among whom was the learned Advocate-General, were unanimously of opinion that no such alteration as the one now proposed was required."

The Hon'ble RAI TARINI PERSHAD, BAHADUR, said:—"I regret that I have to oppose this amendment. There seems to be a little difference here as regards conveyancing. So far back as 1859, we find that this word was adopted in the Revenue Sale Law, and my hon'ble and learned friend says we should use the words 'interest in' in preference to the words 'lease of.' I submit that the word 'lease,' which means nothing more or less than the letting of land, is more appropriate and at the same time more comprehensive than the word 'interest.' We also find that the word 'lease' has been in fact recognised and accepted and approved ever since it was brought into the Revenue Sale Act (XI of 1859). I do not see any reason for making this particular alteration which has been suggested."

The Hon'ble DR. ASUTOSH MUKHOPADHYAYA said:—"I feel bound to oppose this amendment, as the word 'lease' is a well understood legal expression. Apart from that, the words 'any interest in land' will have a much wider meaning than the words 'any lease of land.' For instance, if my hon'ble friend's amendment is accepted, protection will be extended to mortgages if only within the mortgaged premises there is a dwelling-house. I submit that in such instances we shall be going much further than the Revenue Law or the Bengal Tenancy Act, and I do not think any case has been made out for such extension."

The Hon'ble BABU KALI PADA GHOSH said:—"I also oppose the amendment on the ground put forward by my hon'ble friend."

The Motion was then put and lost.

Clause 20.

The Hon'ble MR SLACKE moved that in clause 20 of the Bill, for the words "or on account of the refusal of receipts for rent paid," the following be substituted, namely:—

'on account of the illegal exaction of rent or of any unauthorised cess or impost, or on account of the refusal of receipts for rent paid, or,'

He said:—"The reason for this is the same as that which induced the Select Committee to suggest that from this very clause, viz., (g) of section 37 of the Act, should be omitted the words 'or on account of the refusal of receipts for rent paid.' The Bill in the section to be substituted for section 11 of the existing Act provides a new remedy, apart from that by suit, for the prevention of illegal exaction of rent. It is not desirable, therefore, that the remedy by suit, which exists in the present Act, should be retained. In the first place, two remedies are not required, and, in the second place, for an aboriginal, a remedy by suit is practically no remedy at all."

The Hon'ble BABU CHATURBHOOJ SAHAY said:—"I would, Sir, support this amendment."

The Hon'ble RAI TARINI PERSHAD, BAHADUR, said:—"I would also support this amendment, because the next amendment which stands in my name is identical with this."

The Motion was then put and carried.

The Hon'ble MR. SLACKE also moved that the following be added to clause 20 of the Bill, namely:—

'After the words "extortion of rent," in the same clause, the words "or interest thereon" shall be inserted.'

He said:—"This, Sir, is a consequential amendment and should be accepted, since the amendment against Item No. 23 in the List of Business has been adopted."

The Motion was put and agreed to.

The Hon'ble MR. SLACKE also moved that the following be added to clause 20 of the Bill, namely:—

'After clause (5) of the same section, the following shall be inserted, namely:—

"(5a) all suits to eject a raiyat on account of the use of land comprised in his holding in a manner which renders it unfit for the purposes of the tenancy."'

He said:—"Clause 14 of the Bill provides for the insertion in the Act of a section which renders liable to ejectment a raiyat who uses the land of his holding in a manner which renders it unfit for the purposes of the tenancy. Unless the amendment I have just proposed be adopted, there will be no means available to the landlord for enforcing this penalty."

The Hon'ble RAI TARINI PERSHAD, BAHADUR, said:—"I support this amendment with pleasure, because it will relieve me from the necessity of moving an amendment on precisely the same lines, which stands against my name."

The Motion was then put and carried.

The Hon'ble RAI TARINI PERSHAD, BAHADUR, by leave of the Council, withdrew the following motion of which he had given notice, namely:—

"That the following be added to clause 20 of the Bill, namely:—

'At the end of clause (5) of the same section the following shall be added, namely:—

"or on account of the use of the land by a raiyat in a manner which renders it unfit for the purposes of the tenancy."'

New clause.

The Hon'ble RAI TARINI PERSHAD, BAHADUR, by leave of the Council, also withdrew the following motion of which he had given notice, namely:—

"That the following be inserted in the Bill, namely:—

'20A. In section 38 of the said Act, after the word "suit" the words "or other proceeding" shall be inserted.'

In doing so, he said:—"Having had the advantage of a consultation with the Hon'ble Member in charge of the Bill, I have come to the conclusion that I should withdraw this amendment.'

Clause 22.

The Hon'ble MAULVI SERAJ-UL-ISLAM, KHAN BAHADUR, moved that sub-clause (b) in clause 22 of the Bill be struck out. He said:—

"The proviso to section 44, as it stands, runs as follows: 'Provided that if the suit be for recovery of rent at a higher rate than was payable in the previous year, such rent not having been enhanced by the Deputy Commissioner under this Act, the suit shall be instituted within three months from the end of the Bengali or Sambat year, or the month of Jeth of the Fasli or the Wilayati year, on account of which such enhanced rent is claimed.' The application referred to here is an application under section 155 of the Bill, which gives the zamindar the right of realising rent under the certificate procedure. That right is an extraordinary right which is not given anywhere else, but is given here to landlords; but that right is to be exercised in cases where the rent is fixed, where the rent has been found by the Settlement Officer and recorded as rent for which there is no dispute. But here this section, if it is allowed to stand, would permit of a certificate procedure application being made for recovery of rent at a higher rate. I submit that it was never intended by the Legislature that the certificate procedure should be resorted to for realising at an enhanced rate, and therefore I trust this amendment will be accepted."

The Hon'ble MR. SLACKE said:—"I am unable, Sir, to accept the amendment. The retention of the words objected to is necessary in view of the procedure that has been devised in the Bill for the realisation of arrears of rent from the holders of Mundari khunt-kattidari tenures for which a survey and record-of-rights has been made, and were for this purpose so inserted by the Select Committee."

The Hon'ble RAI TARINI PERSHAD, BAHADUR, said:—"I beg to say, Sir, that the amendment moved by my hon'ble and learned friend is necessary, and I say so for the reasons put forward by him."

The Motion was then put and lost.

Clause 26.

The Hon'ble MAULVI SERAJ-UL-ISLAM, KHAN BAHADUR, also moved that the following be added to clause 26 of the Bill, namely:—

'The words "and satisfies the Deputy Commissioner that there has been a failure of justice," in the same section, are repealed.'

He said:—"On a reference to section 66 of the Act you find that this section provides that when a suit is decreed ex-parte the defendant may within 30 days apply for a rehearing of the appeal on the ground that summons was not served him, and if he can show sufficient cause for non-appearance, then the Court restores the case. But here a condition is attached, and that condition is, that he must show sufficient cause for his previous non-appearance and satisfy the Deputy Commissioner that there has been a failure of justice. That means that the applicant will have to go into the merits of the case and satisfy the Deputy Commissioner that there has been a failure of justice. The first thing that he has to do is to satisfy the Deputy Commissioner if there is sufficient reason for non-appearance, and he must go into the merits of the case to show that there has been a failure of justice. In no Civil Court is it necessary that the parties should go into the merits of the case. If he cannot give sufficient reasons his application is dismissed, and if he satisfies the Court, then a day is fixed and the parties are allowed to go on with the case. I submit that the words 'and satisfies the Deputy Commissioner that there has been a failure of justice' should be struck off."

The Hon'ble MR. SLACKE said:—"The words, Sir, which the learned and Hon'ble Member would wish to strike out are part of the existing law and have been in force for 25 years. Nothing has been alleged to show that they in any way are objectionable in practice or have led to any hardship, and that being so, acting on the principle adopted by the Select Committee, I am averse to the acceptance of this amendment."

The Hon'ble BABU KALI PADA GHOSH said:—"I submit that there has not been much practical difficulty on this point, and I do not therefore consider it a question of great urgency. On that ground I do not support the amendment."

The Hon'ble MAULVI SERAJ-UL-ISLAM, KHAN BAHADUR, in reply said:—"The reasons urged against this amendment are not very forcible, namely, that these words have found a place in the Act for fifteen years and that no inconvenience has resulted. These are not sufficient reasons for not striking these words out. My hon'ble friend on my right says there is no urgency, but if he agrees with me on principle that these words should not be there, I do not see what harm there would be in deleting these words. I submit that the want of urgency is no reason for allowing a provision to remain which is decidedly objectionable."

The Motion was then put and lost.

The Hon'ble RAI TARINI PERSHAD, BAHADUR, moved that the following be inserted in clause 26 of the Bill, namely:—

'For the first paragraph of section 66 of the said Act the following shall be substituted, namely:—

"No appeal shall lie from a judgment against a plaintiff by default for non-appearance; but an appeal shall lie from a judgment passed ex-parte against a defendant who has not appeared, if presented within thirty days from the date of the judgment.'

'In the second paragraph of the same section, for the words "But in all such cases" the words "In all cases referred to in the first paragraph of this section" shall be substituted.'

He said:—"An appeal should be allowed against judgment passed ex-parte. The Bill does not allow it. The predecessors of the present Code of Civil Procedure did not allow such appeal, but the necessity for it was at last found and such appeal was allowed. This provision in the Civil Procedure Code works well. The remedy to people against whom judgments ex-parte are passed find in an appeal a much simpler remedy than otherwise. This would show ample justification for the amendment I move."

The Hon'ble MR. SLACKE said:—"Nothing, Sir, has been shown by the learned and Hon'ble Member of this amendment which can lead anyone to think that the change suggested is one urgently required, and on that ground I would ask that this amendment may not be accepted."

The Hon'ble BABU KALI PADA GHOSH said:—"I sympathise with the object of this amendment, but the scope of this Bill is limited. I understand that unless a matter is very urgent, it cannot be inserted in the present Bill. In this matter it cannot be said that there is any such practical difficulty, and therefore it would be better if it was allowed to stand over till some future time. I cannot support the amendment."

The Motion was then put and lost.

Clause 27.

The Hon'ble BABU KALI PADA GHOSH moved that after sub-clause (1) in clause 27 of the Bill the following be inserted, namely:—

'(2) In the same paragraph, after the words "is subordinate" the words "or by any other person whom the Deputy Commissioner may deem fit" shall be inserted.

'(3) In the second paragraph of the same section, after the word "officer" the words "or other person" shall be inserted.'

He said:—"This is only a simple change. Section 82 of the old Act provides for local inquiries and lays down that such local inquiries can only be made by the Deputy Commissioner himself or by any officer subordinate to him or by any other officer of Government with the consent of the authority to whom such officer is subordinate. This causes great practical difficulty, because Government officers are not always available for such inquiries, and it is highly necessary that persons other than Government officers should be deputed for such inquiries, and that the Deputy Commissioner should have power to depute such persons."

The Hon'ble MR. SLACKE said:—"I would, Sir, support this amendment."

The Motion was put and agreed to.

The Hon'ble RAI TARINI PERSHAD, BAHADUR, by leave of the Council withdrew the following motion of which he had given notice, namely:—

"That after sub-clause (1) in clause 27 of the Bill the following be inserted, namely:—

'(2) In the same paragraph, after the words "is subordinate," the words "or by any competent person other than an officer of Government" shall be inserted.'

In doing so, he said:—"The amendment just carried is identical with the one I was to have moved, so I beg leave to withdraw it."

Clause 29.

The Hon'ble MR. SLACKE moved that the words "to be recorded in writing" be inserted after the words "for special reasons" in clause 29 (4) of the Bill." He said:—

"As the clause now stands, the Court may for special reasons extend the period of 30 days mentioned in this section. It can be easily imagined that some Courts may not put their reasons down on paper, and since it is obviously necessary that this should be done for the purpose of removing any doubt on the subject, I propose that these words 'to be recorded in writing' be inserted after the words 'for special reasons.'"

The Hon'ble BABU CHATURBHOOJ SAHAY said:—"I support this amendment."

The Motion was put and agreed to.

New Clauses.

THE Hon'ble RAI TARINI PERSHAD, BAHADUR, moved that after clause 29 of the Bill the following be inserted, namely:—

'29A. After section 94 of the said Act the following shall be inserted, namely:—

"94A. The following rules shall apply in the case of every raiyat ejected from a holding, namely:—

Rights of raiyat when ejected from holding.

(a) when the raiyat has, before the date of his ejectment, sown or planted crops in any land comprised in the holding, he shall be entitled, at the option of the landlord, either to retain possession of that land and to use it for the purpose of tending and gathering in the crops, or to receive from the landlord the value of the crops, as estimated by the Court executing the decree for ejectment;

(b) when the raiyat has, before the date of his ejectment, prepared for sowing any land comprised in his holding, but has not sown or planted crops in that land, he shall be entitled to receive from the landlord the value of the labour and capital expended by him in so preparing the land, as estimated by the Court executing the decree for ejectment, together with reasonable interest on that value;

(c) a raiyat shall not be entitled to retain possession of any land or receive any sum in respect thereof under this section where, after the commencement of proceedings by the landlord for his ejectment, he has cultivated or prepared the land contrary to local usage;

(d) if the landlord elects under this section to allow a raiyat to retain possession of the land, the raiyat shall pay to the landlord, for the use and occupation of the land during the period for which he is allowed to retain possession of the same, such rent as the Court executing the decree for ejectment may deem reasonable."'

He said:—"In moving this amendment I observed that in all matters of new legislation necessity is the touchstone. Act X of 1859 and Bengal Act VIII of 1869 had no provision like the one in section 156 of the Bengal Tenancy Act, owing to which, after delivery of possession to landlords of the holdings of raiyats after their ejectment, serious litigation ensued, ending sometimes in breaches of the peace. To obviate such and similar difficulties, the provisions I am seeking became law, forming part of the Bengal Tenancy Act. -This provision should be made in the Bill under consideration."

The Hon'ble MR. SLACKE said:—"For two reasons this amendment is not one that I can support. In the first place, there is nothing to show that it deals with a matter that requires an immediate remedy and, secondly, the proposal is not one that should be provided for by substantive law, but by rules having the force of law. When the necessity arises for the need of any such rules, the Government already possesses the power to make them."

The Hon'ble BABU KALI PADA GHOSH said:—"This amendment is based upon the interlinked section of the Bengal Tenancy Act, and I should say that no one would be more glad than myself to have this section of the Bengal Tenancy Act, but I was told that we must wait for it till the consolidating Bill is before the Council, and that in the present Bill we can only have such amendments as are urgently necessary. Although I agree with the principle of the amendment, I cannot see the urgency of it. I cannot, therefore, support the amendment."

The Motion was then put and lost.

The Hon'ble DR. ASUTOSH MUKHOPADHYAYA, by leave of the Council withdrew the following motion of which he had given notice, namely:—

"That after clause 29 of the Bill the following be inserted namely:—

'29A. In section 98 of the said Act, after the word "Act," the words "and to all applications under section 155" shall be inserted.'

In doing so, he said:—"I have been assured by my hon'ble friend to my left that if this amendment is accepted it will cause great hardship to raiyats, and therefore, I do not think I should be justified in pressing it."

The Hon'ble BABU KALI PADA GHOSH moved that after clause 29 of the Bill the following be inserted, namely :—

'29A. For section 105 of the said Act the following shall be substituted, namely :—

"105. No process of execution of any description whatsoever shall be issued on any decree or order passed under this Act unless an application be made within three years from—

Application for execution to be made within three years.

(a) the date of the decree or order, or

(b) where there has been an appeal, the date of the final decree or order of the Appellate Court, or

(c) where there has been a review of judgment, the date of the decision passed on the review."'

He said:—"My amendment is connected with section 105 of the Act, which lays down the period of limitation with regard to execution matters. I submit, Your Honour, that this section is not happily worded. It says: 'No process of execution of any description whatsoever shall be issued on a judgment under this Act unless an application be made within three years from the date of such judgment.' I am not aware of any law, in this or any other country, under which an 'execution on judgment' is taken out. The usual expression is 'execution of decree': this is the expression which occurs in the Civil Procedure Code, the Bengal Tenancy Act, and in all other Acts. To bring this section in conformity with the law in other parts of the country, I submit that the word 'judgment' be struck out and the words 'decree or order' be substituted. Practically we do little more than to make the section conform with the Bengal Tenancy Act on the subject. By this Bill we have given a higher right of appeal. Previously there was no right of appeal after execution proceedings. This Bill provides for that, and it is very desirable that the section should be made to conform with this. Even where appeal is allowed, execution should be taken out within three years of the final decree."

The Hon'ble MR. SLACKE said:—"I would, Sir, ask that this amendment may be accepted."

The Hon'ble DR. ASUTOSH MUKHOPADHYAYA said:—"I support the amendment, but I have to point out that although we are amending section 105 by this amendment, it will not affect section 103 and other sections in which, I believe, the same expressions are to be found."

The Hon'ble RAI TARINI PERSHAD, BAHADUR, said:—"I agree to this amendment, subject to the restriction proposed."

The Hon'ble the PRESIDENT said:—"I think we may take it as a part of your substantive motion that wherever the word 'judgment' occurs in this connection, the words 'decree or order' should be substituted, that is to say, if the amendment is carried."

The Hon'ble BABU KALI PADA GHOSH said:—"Yes, Your Honour."

The Hon'ble DR. ASUTOSH MUKHOPADHYAYA then, by leave of the Council, moved that, in sections 103 and 104 of Bengal Act I of 1879, where process of execution is mentioned as being issued upon a "judgment," the words "decree or order" should be substituted for the word "judgment."

Both Motions were put and carried.

Clause 34.

The Hon'ble RAI TARINI PERSHAD, BAHADUR, moved that sub-section (1) of section 130A, in clause 34 of the Bill, be altered as follows, namely:—

"130A. (1) When a tenure or holding has been sold for an arrear of rent due thereon or when any other immoveable property has been sold under section 129, any person who owns the tenure or holding or the said immoveable property, or who has an interest therein under a title lawfully acquired before the sale, may, at any time within a period of thirty days from the date of the sale, apply to have the sale set aside on his depositing in Court—

Application to set aside sale of tenure, holding or other immoveable property.

(a) for payment to the purchaser, a sum equal to five per centum of the purchase-money, and

(b) for payment to the decree-holder, the amount specified in the proclamation of sale as that for the recovery of which the sale was ordered, less any amount which may, since the date of such proclamation and sale, have been received by the decree-holder.'

He said:—"The provisions made in section 130A, sub-section (1), ought to include a remedy to the judgment-debtors whose other immoveable property under section 129 have been sold. There is no reason why they should be left without remedy."

The Hon'ble MR. SLACKE said:—"This amendment, Sir, might be accepted."

The Motion was put and agreed to.

Clause 37.

The Hon'ble RAI TARINI PERSHAD, BAHADUR, also moved that in clause 37 (1) of the Bill the words "section 119, section 120 or section 130" be substituted for the words "section 119 or section 120." He said:—

"The principle underlying orders under section 119 and section 120 stand on all-fours with the principle on which an order under section 130 is based. The inquiry under all these sections is of a similar character. Therefore an order under section 130 should not be made appealable to the Commissioner."

The Hon'ble MR. SLACKE said:—"I have nothing to say against this amendment."

The Hon'ble BABU KALI PADA GHOSH said:—"I have great pleasure in supporting this amendment."

The Motion was put and agreed to.

New clauses.

The Hon'ble MAULVI SERAJ-UL-ISLAM, KHAN BAHADUR, moved that after clause 38 of the Bill the following be inserted, namely:—

'38A. In section 137 of the said Act, after the word "thereto" the words "or a question of a right to enhance or vary the rent of a tenant or a question of the amount of rent annually payable by a tenant," shall be inserted.'

He said:—"This is a very important amendment if I might say so, because if the object of the Legislature is to give a right of appeal, then unless his condition is improved, there will be no appeal. These words are taken from section 153 of the Bengal Tenancy Act. I may appeal to my hon'ble friends here that the only sort of case that comes up for appeal is when there is a dispute about the enhancement or varying of rent. There are few cases where there are questions of detail between the conflicting parties. If these words are not added, there will practically be no appeal. Therefore, I submit, these words which are to be found in section 153 of the Bengal Tenancy Act should be added."

The Hon'ble MR. SLACKE said:—"I am averse to this amendment, Sir, on the ground that to accept it will be contrary to the principle which guided the Select Committee, inasmuch as there is nothing to show that the proposal meets an existing urgent need."

The Hon'ble MR. PUGH said:—"I should support this amendment supposing it was with reference to a province like Bengal, but what we have to consider is that Chota Nagpur is not suited for this kind of legislation, and I think it would be better for the circumstances of Chota Nagpur if these questions arising between landlord and tenant were not subject to appeal. That was the conclusion we arrived at in Select Committee, and that I think is the right conclusion, having regard to the circumstances of Chota Nagpur."

The Motion was then put and lost.

Clause 16.

The Hon'ble the PRESIDENT said:—"The Council will remember that Item No. 37 on the List of Business was postponed for further consideration till the end of the day, when the Hon'ble Dr. Asutosh Mukhopadhyaya suggested an amendment which would have the effect of obviating the necessity of the amendment of the Hon'ble Member in charge of the Bill. The Hon'ble Member in charge of the Bill and the Hon'ble the Advocate-General have considered the wording of the suggested amendment, and I understand that the Hon'ble MR. Slacke is now prepared to bring forward an amendment to the following effect:—

'(4) Every application for the registration of a transfer under sub-section (1) must be made, in the case of a transfer which occurred before the commencement of the Chota Nagpur Tenancy (Amendment) Act, 1903, within one year from such commencement, and, in the case of a transfer occurring after such commencement, within one year from the date of the transfer.

'(4a) If application for the registration of any transfer of a tenure or portion thereof is not made, and the registration fee paid or tendered, as hereinbefore prescribed, the transferee or his successor in title shall not be entitled to recover, by suit or other proceeding, any rent payable to him as the holder of the tenure or portion which may have accrued due between the date of the transfer and the date of the application for registration.' "

The Hon'ble MR. SLACKE said:—"I am willing, Sir, to accept the amendment as now altered by the Hon'ble DR. Asutosh Mukhopadhyaya. It will take the place of the existing sub-clause (4) in the section."

The Hon'ble BABU KALI PADA GHOSH said:—"I understand that sub-clause (4) will go out. It is understood that this will be substituted for the entire amendment which is down in the name of the Hon'ble Mr. Slacke."

The Hon'ble DR ASUTOSH MUKHOPADHYAYA said:—"I take it that it will take the place of sub-clauses (4a) and (4b)."

The Hon'ble the PRESIDENT said:—"That being so, sub-clauses (4) and (4a) will now stand as follows:—

'(4) Every application for the registration of a transfer under sub-section (1) must be made, in the case of a transfer which occurred before the commencement of the Chota Nagpur Tenancy (Amendment) Act, 1903, within one year from such commencement, and, in the case of a transfer occurring after such commencement, within one year from the date of the transfer.

'(4a) If application for the registration of any transfer of a tenure or portion thereof is not made, and the registration-fee paid or tendered, as hereinbefore prescribed, the transferee or his successor in title shall not be entitled to recover, by suit or other proceeding, any rent payable to him as the holder of the tenure or portion which may have accrued due between the date of the transfer and the date of the application for registration.'

"These sub-clauses will take the place of sub-clauses (4), (4a) and (4b) of the Hon'ble Mr. Slacke's amendment."

The Motion was put and agreed to.

Clause 39.

The Hon'ble RAI TARINI PERSHAD, BAHADUR, by leave of the Council, withdrew the following motion of which he had given notice, namely:—

"That in clause 39 of the Bill after the word 'decree' the words 'or order' be inserted."

The Hon'ble BABU KALI PADA GHOSH moved that after clause 38 of the Bill the following be inserted, namely:—

'38A. Section 138 of the said Act is repealed.'

He said:—"I think it would be better if this item was considered after item 60, which stands in my name, is disposed of."

The Motion was allowed to stand over as requested.

The Hon'ble MAULVI SERAJ-UL-ISLAM, KHAN BAHADUR, moved that after clause 38 of the Bill the following be inserted, namely:—

'38B. At the end of section 138 of the said Act the words "or upon any other sufficient ground" shall be added.'

He said:—"This amendment will simply give the Deputy Commissioner wide discretionary powers for granting a review. Here the grounds upon which a review may be admitted are limited: they are limited only to the ground of the discovery of some new evidence or matter. What I propose is to give wider discretionary power to the Deputy Commissioner to re-hear cases where injustice has been done, or for other reason. These words are also to be found in section 623 of the Civil Procedure Code. I submit it will be for the ends of ju tice if the amendment is accepted."

The Hon'ble MR. SLACKE said:—"I would suggest, Sir, subject to the consent of the Hon'ble Mover, that this amendment may be considered after Item No. 57 in the List of Business has been disposed of, because, if that amendment be accepted, this one must necessarily be abandoned."

The Motion was allowed to stand over as requested.

New clauses.

The Hon'ble BABU KALI PADA GHOSH moved that after clause 40 of the Bill the following be inserted, namely:—

'40A. After section 145 of the said Act the following shall be inserted, namely:—

"145A. (1) The provisions of section 561 of the Code of Civil Procedure shall, so far as applicable, apply to all appeals under this Act.

Application of certain provisions of the Code of Civil Procedure.

"(2) The provisions of the Code of Civil Procedure relating to the amendment of plaints, the amendment of decrees, the substitution of parties, and review of judgment shall, so far as they are not inconsistent with this Act, apply to all suits and proceedings under this Act."'

He said:—"The object of the amendment is to introduce some of the provisions of the Civil Procedure Code. In moving this amendment, I do not lose sight of the fact that the present Bill is limited to very urgent matters. The procedure of the Chota Nagpur Rent Act is very defective Great practical difficulty is experienced in working out the procedure law, and in this connection I would simply read a passage from the report of the Deputy Commissioner of Hazaribagh. He reports in connection with the Bill:—

'I may mention that I have had it argued before me that a Court cannot review its own judgment or order, and in a case when I appointed a Receiver, the legality of my action was called in question.'

"I am aware that several suits in the Ranchi Courts have been dismissed on the ground that there is no provision in the law for the substitution of parties after death. This will surprise men who are accustomed to law in other parts of the country. I have, therefore, confined my amendment to this very urgent matter. By the present Bill a second appeal to the High Court is allowed in certain cases, but our Act does not provide for what we call technically 'cross appeals:' that is, when an appeal is filed by one of the parties, the respondent has also a right to appeal on certain portions of the lower Court's judgment. Section 561 provides for this, but great difficulty is experienced, as some of the Judicial Commissioners have held that under the existing law there is no right of cross-appeal. Then there are some other things which I pray for, namely, that the provisions of the Civil Procedure Code relating to the amendment of plaints, the amendment of decrees, the substitution of parties and review of judgment, so far as they are not inconsistent with this Act. These are very necessary matters. There is at present no provision in the Act, and the Courts have refused to correct the patent errors. We shall have great practical difficulty unless this remedy is given. Therefore I submit that the Council should consent to this amendment."

The Hon'ble MR. SLACKE said:—"I am, Sir, wholly in favour of this amendment, which will remedy existing grievances and get rid of certain hardships."

The Hon'ble MAULVI SERAJ-UL-ISLAM, KHAN BAHADUR, said:—"I have much pleasure in supporting this amendment. I have only to point out that it might be as well to add the word 'appeals' after the word "suits" in the above section 145A (2)."

The Hon'ble BABU KALI PADA GHOSH said:—"I accept the suggestion."

The Hon'ble DR. ASUTOSH MUKHOPADHYAYA said:—"I have much pleasure in supporting this amendment, as it covers to some extent the same ground as an amendment which stands in my name. I would suggest that not only the word 'appeals' but also the words 'and addition' be inserted after the word "substitution" in the said section."

The Hon'ble BABU KALI PADA GHOSH said:—"I accept the addition."

The Motion was then put in its amended form and carried.

The Hon'ble BABU KALI PADA GHOSH moved that after clause 38 of the Bill the following be inserted, namely:—

'38A. Section 138 of the said Act is repealed.'

He said:—"There can be no objection to this being carried, because it follows as a sequence. Section 138 provides for review in one case only; and as we have got the general section for review, there is no necessity for this section. The whole covers a part."

The Hon'ble MR. SLACKE said:—"I agree to the proposal of the Hon'ble Mover of the amendment. Item No. 60 having been adopted, it is no longer necessary to retain this section."

The Motion was put and agreed to.

The Hon'ble MAULVI SERAJ-UL-ISLAM, KHAN BAHADUR, by leave of the Council, withdrew the following motion of which he had given notice, namely:—

"That after clause 38 of the Bill the following be inserted, namely:—

'38B. At the end of section 138 of the said Act the words "or upon any other sufficient ground" shall be added.'

In doing so, he said:—"The last two amendments being carried, it is not necessary for my amendment to be put. This is covered by item No. 60."

The Hon'ble DR. ASUTOSH MUKHOPADHYAYA, by leave of the Council, withdrew the following motion of which he had given notice, namely:—

"That after clause 40 of the Bill the following be inserted, namely:—

'40A. After section 145 of the said Act, the following shall be inserted, namely:—

"145A. The provisions of sections 206, 373, 374, 375 and 561, and Chapter XLVII of the Code of Civil Procedure shall apply to suits and appeals under this Act."'

Clause 41 (section 151).

The Hon'ble MR. SLACKE moved that the words "such persons" be substituted for the words "such kattidars" in section 151, in clause 41 of the Bill. He said:—

"My reason for this is that the word 'kattidars' is meaningless. Khunt-kattidars would have been the appropriate word, but to prevent repetition, the word 'persons' will be sufficient here."

The Motion was put and agreed to.

Clause 41 (section 152).

The Hon'ble DR. ASUTOSH MUKHOPADHYAYA moved that the words "when granted in respect of land of a village or tola of a village owned by a group of joint Mundari khunt-kattidars," in sub-section (4) of section 152, in clause 41 of the Bill, be struck out. He said:—

"Section 152, clause (4), reads in this way:—

'No lease of a Mundari khunt-kattidars tenancy or any portion thereof shall be valid except a lease of one or other of the following kinds, when granted in respect of land of a village or tola of a village owned by a group of joint Mundari khunt-kattidars, namely:—

'(a) mukarrari leases of uncultivated land when granted to a Mundari or a group of Mundaris for the purpose of enabling the lessees or the male members of their families to bring suitable portions of the land under cultivation;

'(b) leases of uncultivated land when granted to a Mundari cultivator to enable him to cultivate the land as a raiyat.'

"Two kinds of leases are here described; the words which I have mentioned, if left in, will lead to the inference that if there is a village not owned by a group of Mundari khunt-kattidars, no lease whatever in such a village can be valid; but as that could never have been intended, I propose that these words be left out."

The Hon'ble MR. SLACKE said:—"I would, Sir, accept this amendment."

The Hon'ble BABU KALI PADA GHOSH said:—"I beg to support the amendment. Unless these words are struck out, very great difficulty will arise, because the section, as it stands, does not provide for power to lease in cases of what we call the individual khunt-kattidars. It is not intended that they should be deprived of the right of giving leases."

The Motion was then put and agreed to.

The Hon'ble BABU KALI PADA GHOSH, by leave of the Council, withdrew the following motion of which he had given notice, namely:—

"That the words 'when granted in respect of land of a village or tola of a village owned by a group of joint Mundari khunt kattidars,' in sub-section (4) of section 152, in clause 41 of the Bill, be struck out."

In doing so, he said:—"This item is identical with the one that has just been carried."

The Hon'ble DR. ASUTOSH MUKHOPADHYAYA moved that to sub-section (4) of section 152, in clause 41 of the Bill, the following be added, namely:—

'(c) raiyati leases of cultivated land which is part of a village or tola of a village not owned by a group of joint Mundari khunt-kattidars;

'(d) raiyati leases of cultivated land in a village owned by a group of joint Mundari khunt-kattidars, when such land is not in the occupation of the group or any member thereof and the lease is granted to a Mundari or a group of Mundari raiyats.'

He said:—"I believe the Hon'ble Member in charge of the Bill is quite in agreement with the principle which underlies the Bill, but he seems to think that the addition is not necessary. I shall therefore explain to the Council the grounds upon which I venture to think that the additional clauses are necessary. Clause (4) of section 152 deals with the validity of leases of khunt-kattidari tenures. Clauses (a) and (b) both deal with the case of leases of uncultivated lands. Clause (a) speaks of the mukarrari lease of uncultivated land when granted to a Mundari or group of Mundaris for the purpose of enabling the lessees or the male members of their families to bring suitable portions of the land under cultivation. Clause (b) deals with the case of leases of uncultivated lands when granted to a Mundari cultivator to enable him to cultivate the land as a raiyat. No provision therefore is apparently made for leases of cultivated lands. By cultivated lands I mean lands which have been brought under cultivation, but which are not in actual occupation of tenants.

For instance, take the class of cases in which a tenant has brought a jungle into cultivation and then subsequently abandons it. That will not be such land as that covered by clauses (a) and (b). My hon'ble friend the Member in charge of the Bill says that that land may properly be described as uncultivated land, because it is not for the time being cultivated by any body. I submit that uncultivated land properly means land that has never been cultivated; if a land has once been brought under cultivation, and the tenant has simply vacated his holding, it cannot be said that it is uncultivated land. At least that is the way that people understand it."

The Hon'ble MR. SLACKE said:—"The Hon'ble Dr. Asutosh Mukhopadhyaya has given fully the reason which has led me to refuse my support to this amendment, because I hold that the clause, as it stands, provides for this case. You have only three classes of land—cultivated land, uncultivated land and unculturable land. There can be no other kind of land. If a holding is cultivated, it is cultivated land; if it is not under cultivation, it is uncultivated land. Therefore this meets the whole case. If the Council are not of that opinion, then I think that clause (c) of the amendment will require a little alteration so as to make it quite clear that this class of leases cannot be granted to anybody but a Mundari. Otherwise you will let in the baniyas, and thereby work a great deal of evil to Mundari khunt-kattidars. I would suggest that the amendment should not be accepted, because the clause, as it stands, amply meets all classes of holdings."

The Hon'ble MR GUPTA said:—"I do not know whether it would meet the objection of my hon'ble and learned friend Dr. Asutosh Mukhopadhyaya if from the second clause (b) the word 'uncultivated' is taken out and the clause made to run thus: '(b) leases of land, when granted to a Mundari cultivator to enable him to cultivate the land as a raiyat?'"

The Hon'ble DR. ASUTOSH MUKHOPADHYAYA said:—"Omit the word 'uncultivated' in both clauses (a) and (b)."

The Hon'ble Mr. SLACKE said:—"I would not omit it, because it would give facilities to some members of the brotherhood to damage the interests of their weaker brethren. Uncultivated lands are lands in nobody's possession."

The Hon'ble DR. ASUTOSH MUKHOPADHYAYA said:—"The whole difficulty may be avoided if we adopt the words 'land which has been brought under cultivation but which is not at the time cultivated.'"

The Hon'ble MR. SLACKE said:—"I am perfectly willing to adopt that."

The Hon'ble DR. ASUTOSH MUKHOPADHYAYA said:—"If you adopt that, I am quite willing to withdraw my amendment."

The Hon'ble the PRESIDENT said:—"The Hon'ble Member desires to withdraw his amendment as it stands at present and substitute the following, namely:—

"That the following be inserted after sub-section (4) of section 152, in clause 41 of the Bill, namely:—

'Explanation.—The expression "uncultivated land," as used in this sub-section, includes land which, though formerly cultivated, is not at the time the lease is granted either under cultivation or in the occupation of the lessee for purposes of cultivation.'"

The Motion was put and agreed to.

The Hon'ble BABU KALI PADA GHOSH moved that to sub-section (4) of section 152, in clause 41 of the Bill, the following be added, namely:—

'(c) raiyati leases of cultivated land.'

He said:—"It strikes me that there may be cases which might make it necessary to add this clause to section 152 (4). What I mean is that clause (4) of section 152 which has been amended will certainly cover the cases of joint Mundari khunt-kattidari tenancies, but there will be what we call Mundari khunt-kattidari tenancies which may be held by one individual Mundari, such as the ordinary jaigirdar of Chota Nagpur. In these cases the raiyats who cultivate the villages are not all Mundari raiyats; they are people such as Swasis, and many other castes. I think we ought to have the power the amendment gives. Section 152, as it stands, says: 'No lease of a Mundari khunt-kattidari tenancy or any portion shall be valid' The whole village is Mundari khunt-kattidari tenancy, but no portion of land from there may come under this sub-clause (4), even if that land is in the possession of a non-Mundari raiyat. So I do not think clause (4) of section 152 will cover such a case, but I say so subject to correction by the Hon'ble Member in charge of the Bill. If section 152 covers such cases, I will withdraw my amendment, but if it does not, I hope the matter will be carefully considered, because there are many villages in Chota Nagpur in which there are a very large portion of non-Mundari raiyats. I submit that the clause proposed by me should be inserted in the Bill, because, unless the meaning is very, very clear, much practical difficulty will be experienced."

The Hon'ble MR. SLACKE said:—"I am unable to accept the amendment. Everything that has come to our notice shews that there is great danger in a non-Mundari having anything to do permanently with land in a Mundari khunt-kattidari tenancy. I submit that there is no hardship or difficulty at present, but if in the future anything should transpire to shew that there is such hardship, it can be remedied when we again deal with this matter in a few years."

The Hon'ble BABU KALI PADA GHOSH in reply said:—"On hearing what the Hon'ble Member in charge of the Bill has stated, I desire to withdraw this amendment."

The Motion was then, by leave of the Council, withdrawn.

The Hon'ble MR. SLACKE moved that at the end of section 152, in clause 41 of the Bill, the following be added, namely:—

'(7) Nothing in the foregoing sub-sections shall affect any sale, or, except as declared in the proviso to sub-section (1), any mortgage, or any lease, made before the commencement of the Chota Nagpur Tenancy (Amendment) Act, 1903.'

He said:—"This is merely a protective amendment designed to protect rights that have already accrued, and therefore will, I trust, be approved by the Council."

The Hon'ble BABU KALI PADA GHOSH said:—"I have pleasure in supporting this amendment. In sections 10A and 10B some such provision has been made, and it is therefore necessary that this amendment should be put in under section 152. This provision regarding Mundari khunt-katti dari being a new insertion in the Bill, it might cause some misapprehension in the minds of people, and it is therefore very desirable that the matter should be as clear as possible."

The Hon'ble BABU CHATURBHOOJ SAHAY said:—"I support this amendment because it is in keeping with the transfer of occupancy holdings and other transfers. So the principle which underlies this amendment has already been recognised by us in the foregoing part of the Bill."

The Motion was then put and carried.

Clause 41 (section 153).

The Hon'ble BABU KALI PADA GHOSH moved that in section 153, in clause 41 of the Bill, before the words "no suit" the words "if the tenancy was, before such possession was obtained, entered as a Mundari khunt-kattidari tenancy in a record-of-rights finally published under section 103A, sub-section (2), of the Bengal Tenancy Act, 1885," be inserted. He said:—

"I submit that this insertion is absolutely necessary, and for these reasons: section 153 provides that:—

'If any person, after the commencement of the Chota Nagpur Tenancy (Amendment) Act, 1903, obtains possession of a Mundari khunt-kuttidari tenancy, or any portion thereof, in contravention of the provisions of section 152, the Deputy Commissioner may eject him therefrom; and no suit shall be maintainable in any Court in respect of such ejectment; but an appeal shall lie to the Commissioner, if presented within three months from the date of the ejectment, and his decision shall be final.'

"This ejectment will certainly be in a summary procedure. What I submit is that before the publication of the record-of-rights there will be nothing to shew what tenancy is a Mundari khunt-kattidari tenancy, and a man might not know that he was dealing with a Mundari khunt-kattidari tenancy, and he might purchase such a tenancy, and then if he is summarily ejected by the Deputy Commissioner, and if no right by a civil suit is given, it will be a very great hardship. After the preparation and publication of the record-of-rights there will be a safe guide for people to know what is a Mundari khunt-kattidari tenancy, and that one should not therefore deal with it, and that if he does so it will be at his own risk. I submit that before the preparation and publication of the record-of-rights there should certainly be the power to contest the summary order for ejectment by a civil suit, and that in this particular case it is absolutely necessary, otherwise this section will lead to great hardship."

The Hon'ble Mr. SLACKE said:—"I am, Sir, in favour of this amendment. If the provisions of the section were not so curtailed, a Deputy Commissioner could put the section into operation with regard to a tenancy for which no record-of-rights had been prepared. In such a case the objection would certainly be made that the tenancy was not a Mundari khunt-kattidari one, and this should not be decided summarily."

The Hon'ble DR. ASUTOSH MUKHOPADHYAYA said:—"I support this amendment, as it is identical with my amendment No. 69 on the List of Business."

The Motion was then put and carried.

The Hon'ble DR. ASUTOSH MUKHOPADHYAYA, by leave of the Council, withdrew the following motion of which he had given notice, namely:—

"That in section 153, in clause 41 of the Bill, before the words 'no suit' the words 'if the tenancy is recorded as a Mundari khunt-kattidari tenancy in a record-of-rights finally published under section 103A, sub-section (2), of the Bengal Tenancy Act, 1885,' be inserted.'

Clause 41 (section 154).

The Hon'ble DR. ASUTOSH MUKHOPADHYAYA, by leave of the Council, withdrew the following motions of which he had given notice, namely:—

"(1) That to section 154, in clause 41 of the Bill, the following be added, namely:—

'(4) The provisions of sections 27 and 28 relating to the abatement of rent shall be applicable to Mundari khunt-kattidari tenancies.'"

"(2) That in the marginal note to section 154, in clause 41 of the Bill, after the word 'enhancement' the words 'or abatement' be inserted."

"(3) That to section 154, in clause 41 of the Bill, the following be added, namely:—

'(5) When the rent of a Mundari khunt-kattidari tenancy is entered in a record-of-rights as finally published under section 103A, sub-section (2) of the Bengal Tenancy Act, 1885, then, notwithstanding anything contained in the foregoing sub-sections,

'such rent shall not, except on the ground of a landlord's improvement or of a subsequent alteration in the area of the tenancy, be enhanced for five years,

'and no such rent shall be reduced within the period aforesaid, save on the ground of alteration in the area of the tenancy or on the ground that the soil of the tenancy has, without the fault of the Mundari khunt-kattidar, become permanently deteriorated by a deposit of sand or other specific cause, sudden or gradual.

'(6) The said period of five years shall be counted from the date of the final publication of the said record-of-rights.'"

Clause 41 (section 155).

The Hon'ble MR. SLACKE moved that after the words "per annum" in section 155 (1), in clause 41 of the Bill, the following be inserted, namely:—

'or, in the case of money recoverable under the Cess Act, 1880, with simple interest at twelve and-a-half per centum per annum.'

He said:—"The object of this amendment is to prevent anomaly, for unless it is accepted, the landlord would be unable to obtain the amount of interest which, under the Cess Act, he would be entitled to, and which, but for the present Bill as it stands, he would obtain."

The Hon'ble DR. ASUTOSH MUKHOPADHYAYA said:—"I have much pleasure in supporting this amendment."

The Motion was then put and carried.

The Hon'ble MAULVI SERAJ-UL-ISLAM, KHAN BAHADUR, moved that after the figures "33" in sub-section (4) of section 155, in clause 41 of the Bill, the following be inserted, namely:—

'and, when any standing crops are sold in execution of a certificate made under this section, the provisions of section 21 of the said Public Demands Recovery Act, 1895, shall also be applicable as if such crops were immoveable property.'

He said:—"I may remind the Council that standing crops under the present Act are not immoveable property. Under section 21 of the Public Demands Recovery Act, a debtor has a right to deposit the money within thirty days to have the attachment on his immoveable property set aside. That right is not given under this section. I submit it will be a very great hardship if this right is not given to the tenants here. I submit this right should be granted and this section put in in conformity with section 21 of the Public Demands Recovery Act."

The Hon'ble MR. SLACKE said:—"I am given to understand that standing crops when attached are not sold until after they have been converted into moveable property, that is to say after being cut. They are reaped and threshed, and then they are sold. That is what I have been given to understand is the practice in Chota Nagpur; therefore, there is no object in adopting this amendment. I have, however, nothing to urge against the amendment, save that as there is no practical difficulty felt in Chota Nagpur, I do not see any necessity for it."

The Hon'ble BABU KALI PADA GHOSH said:—"They are not sold when they are standing in the field, but after they are cut. I submit that there is hardly any necessity for this provision. Even supposing they are sold when they are standing in the field, it may not be practicable to apply the provision to set aside the sale, because by the time the attachment is set aside the crops may be destroyed or damaged. I do not really see how this amendment will have any beneficial effect. I see no reason for the acceptance of this amendment."

The Hon'ble DR. ASUTOSH MUKHOPADHYAYA said:—"I am unable to support this amendment. I cannot believe that my hon'ble friend has foreseen what the consequence will be. He assumes that these crops are sold as standing crops, and he says that the judgment-debtor should be allowed thirty days to deposit the amount for which attachment is taken, so that the judgment-creditor will be bound to allow the standing crops to remain standing for thirty days. I submit that there would be great risk in that. If they cannot be reaped when necessary, they may be damaged or destroyed, and if the judgment-debtor is allowed to gather in his crops, I do not know what the effect may be."

The Hon'ble MAULVI SERAJ-UL-ISLAM, KHAN BAHADUR, in reply, said:—"I did not quite follow the reasoning of my hon'ble and learned friends who contend that the creditor has every right to cause the sale of these standing crops. I do not know what the practice is in Chota Nagpur, but if standing crop is moveable property, the creditor has every right to attach and sell it. Now what is the effect of that? Supposing a tenant has got some standing crops worth Rs. 100 we will say. The judgment-creditor can attach and sell it, and it may fetch only Rs. 10, the amount for which attachment is taken, and the creditor become the purchaser. The debtor should have the right to deposit the Rs. 10 within thirty days and release his standing crops, otherwise the result will be that the whole of the crops will be taken away. Then my hon'ble and learned friend sees a difficulty about letting the crops stand for thirty days. It is not that they must stand thirty days: he has to pay in the money within thirty days: he can pay it in the next day or the day after or in one week. I submit that you have changed the definition of the words 'standing crops' and made them moveable property, and I consider it nothing but fair and just to give them this privilege."

The Motion was then put and lost.

The Hon'ble MR. SLACKE moved that in proviso (a) to section 155 (4), in clause 41 of the Bill, for the words "two or all" the words "two or more" be substituted.

He said:—"By this clause four means for realising his dues are given the landlord. But as the clause is now worded, the landlord could ask to have one or two, or all, but not three of these means put into force. The amendment is therefore designed to enable the landlord to utilise any or all of the means provided and to remove the restriction I have alluded to."

The Motion was put and agreed to.

The Hon'ble DR. ASUTOSH MUKHOPADHYAYA moved that in sub-clause (iii) of section 155 (4), in clause 41 of the Bill, the following amendments be made, namely:—

(1) for the words "a cultivator" substitute the words "such third person;"

(2) for the words "arrear accrued" substitute the words "certificate has been made;" and

(3) strike out the words "and that the judgment-debtor has other moveable property or assets from which the sum due can be realised."

He said:—"If clause (3) of the proviso is amended in the way I suggest, it will practically assume a shape in which it will be acceptable to my hon'ble friend to my left, who proposes to add sub-clause (4), and the whole question between us is whether clause (3) is to stand, and there should be an additional fourth sub-clause identical with my amendment, or whether clause (3) is to be amended as I suggest, and there need not be a fourth sub-clause.

"I would appeal to the Hon'ble Member in charge of the Bill, and submit that clause (3), as it stands, can have no possible application at all, and that if the clause is added, as suggested by my hon'ble friend, we shall have left in clause (3) which means nothing and cannot apply to any concrete case. I submit that clause (3) ought to be amended, and it is unnecessary to have clause (4)."

After a short conference with the Hon'ble Member in charge of the Bill, the Hon'ble DR. ASUTOSH MUKHOPADHYAYA said:—"I beg leave to withdraw my amendment."

The Motion was then, by leave of the Council, withdrawn.

The Hon'ble BABU KALI PADA GHOSH moved that after sub-clause (iii) of section 155 (4), in clause 41 of the Bill, the following be inserted, namely:—

'(iv) an objection, by such third person, that the land on which such crops were or are standing is entered in the record-of-rights as being in the possession of himself or of some person from whom he has lawfully acquired possession, and that such land does not form part of the tenancy in respect of which the certificate was made.'

He said:—"I submit that the addition of a clause like this is absolutely necessary, otherwise section 155 does not provide for an objection that might be filed by a third party, one who is in no way bound by the certificate made in such a case. There may be tenants in a village who are in no way bound, and they should certainly be given the right of objection. All the objections provided for are (1) objection by a mortgagee holding under a bhagut bandha mortgage, (2) an objection by a lessee holding under a mukarari lease, and (3) objection by a cultivator, and these cases will not cover the case I am supposing. So the amendment is absolutely necessary, otherwise a stranger might be prejudiced and his crops attached, and if he comes to the Deputy Commissioner and says that he is not liable under the certificate procedure which has been issued, and that the land the crops on which have been attached is entered in the record-of-rights as being in his possession and that the land does not form part of the tenancy in dispute, the Deputy Commissioner ought to release the crops on his objection. I therefore hope that the Council will see its way to accept this amendment."

The Hon'ble MR. SLACKE said:—"I am, Sir, in favour of this amendment."

The Motion was put and agreed to.

The Hon'ble DR. ASUTOSH MUKHOPADHYAYA moved that after sub-section (4) of section 155, in clause 41 of the Bill, the following be inserted, namely:—

'(4A). The provisions of sections 99 to 122 shall, so far as the same may be applicable, apply to proceedings under sub-section (4).'

He said:—"I have consulted the Hon'ble Member in charge of the Bill, and I think it would be safer to include all the sections from 99 to 122. All these sections deal with the issue of processes of execution against moveable property, and it is just doubtful whether they would apply to proceedings under the certificate procedure. In order to remove this doubt, I suggest that these words should be inserted."

The Hon'ble MR. SLACKE said:—"This amendment, as now modified by the learned and Hon'ble Mover, meets with my approval."

The Motion was put and agreed to.

Clause 41 (section 157).

The Hon'ble MR. SLACKE moved that in section 157 (2), in clause 41 of the Bill, for the words "two or all" the words "two or more" be substituted. He said:—

"The reason for this is identically the same as the one I have already given with regard to Item No. 75 in the List of Business."

The Motion was put and agreed to.

The Hon'ble MR. SLACKE also moved that the Secretary be directed to re-number the clauses of the Bill in consecutive order, and to make corresponding alterations in all cross-references thereto.

The Motion was put and agreed to.

The Hon'ble MR. SLACKE also moved that the Bill, as settled in Council, be passed.

The Motion was put and agreed to.

The Hon'ble the PRESIDENT said:—"I have to congratulate the Council on having passed this Bill, which has for so long a time occupied the attention of the Government, who were anxious to meet to the full the admitted requirements of the tenantry in Chota Nagpur. The acknowledgments of Government are due to the Hon'ble Member from Chota Nagpur, whose local knowledge has been of much help, and still more to the Hon'ble Member in charge of the Bill, without whose ripe experience and intimate acquaintance with details it would have been hard to deal with the Bill. I desire also to acknowledge the care and attention which has been bestowed on the Bill by the Select Committee in preparing their Report, and the careful criticism which has been forthcoming from the independent Members and representatives of various classes of the community. The result is that we have been able to pass this Bill to-day after a very long sitting.

"I have now only to adjourn the Council till this day week, but before doing so I desire to take this opportunity of making the announcement that the sanction of the Government of India and of the Secretary of State for India in Council has been obtained to the introduction of a Bill for the Settlement of Landed Estates in Bengal at as early a date as possible. I was at first of opinion that it would be impossible to introduce this Bill before the 22nd of this month, but matters are now so far advanced that an application will be made at the next meeting of the Council for leave to introduce the Bill, and at that meeting I hope to pass it through another stage and refer it to a Select Committee, so that the Bill itself may be passed during the present month."

The Council was adjourned to Saturday, the 8th August, 1903.

AUSTRALIA—TORRES STRAIT, WESTERN APPROACHES

Proudfoot shoal light ship removed.

THE Portmaster, Brisbane, has given notice (No. 7 of 1903) that on and after 31st January 1904, the light exhibited from the Lightship at Proudfoot Shoal, Western Approach to Torres Strait, will be discontinued, and the Lightship will be withdrawn.

The shoal patch of $1\frac{1}{2}$ fathoms marked P.D. on charts south-easterly from the Lightship is believed to be identical with the Bramble Patches. There is no evidence to the contrary, the report of its existence being extremely vague.

Masters of vessels approaching Torres Strait from the westward are recommended to get on the parallel of 10 degrees 45 minutes south before reaching the 20-fathom contour, and continue on that parallel until Booby Island is visible bearing north-easterly, then to steer to pass 2 miles to the north of the Island and thence continue as hitherto.

Vessels bound to the westward after passing Booby Island are recommended to steer south-west magnetic 16 miles, then to steer west half south until a safe direction can be made for their destined port.

NOTE.—Booby Island is visible a distance of 14 or 15 miles; the light (a second order) is visible 17 to 19 miles by night from an ordinary ship's bridge.

RESOLUTION REVIEWING THE COMMISSIONERS' REPORTS ON THE WORKING OF THE PURI LODGING-HOUSE ACT DURING THE YEAR 1902-1903.

MUNICIPAL DEPARTMENT—MUNICIPAL.

Darjeeling, the 28th August 1903.

RESOLUTION—No. 2023T—M.

READ—

The Reports from the Commissioners of Divisions on the working of the Puri Lodging-house Act, IV (B.C.) of 1871, as amended by Acts II (B.C.) of 1879 and I (B.C.) of 1884, during the year 1902-1903 in the various places to which it has been extended.

Read also—

The Resolution reviewing the Commissioners' Reports on the working of the Act during the year 1901-1902.

THE Puri Lodging-house Act (Bengal Act IV of 1871), as amended by Bengal Acts II of 1879 and I of 1884, was in force during the year under review in the same towns and areas as in the preceding year, with the exception of Ulubaria, in the Burdwan Division, from which the provisions of the Act were withdrawn towards the close of the year. The provisions of the Municipal Act have since been extended to this town.

2. There were 3,038 lodging-houses licensed, with accommodation for 72,426 lodgers, the numbers in the previous year having been 1,912 and 68,500, respectively. There are considerable fluctuations from year to year owing to particular occasions being more or less auspicious, or to special reasons, such as the occurrence of plague during the last two years at Deoghur; but apart from such variations there is also a steady progressive change attributable to the extension of the railway system, which is causing a transformation of the conditions under which pilgrimages are performed. Owing to the railways the halting-places en route are now less frequented by pilgrims than they used to be, and this has led to the closing of the lodging-houses in Ulubaria, and to a falling off in the income at all the places in the Burdwan Division at which the Act is in force. On the other hand, the number of persons actually present at the various shrines has largely increased, and devout pilgrims are able, in a comparatively short space of time, to visit a larger number of shrines in different districts.

3. The rapidity with which persons who have atten led at the shrines can be conveyed to distant parts of the Province, and even to other Provinces, has made the sanitary condition of the places of pilgrimage a matter of more than merely local importance, while at the same time the difficulty of maintaining proper sanitation has been increased by the greater influx of pilgrims on special occasions. For this reason the arrangements at Puri for dealing with the pilgrim traffic and the sanitation of the town itself engaged the special attention of the Lieutenant-Governor during the year under review. In March last His Honour visited Puri, and after personally inspecting the locality and consulting the local officers, he issued instructions with the object of effecting a gradual systematic improvement in the general sanitation of the town. A broad distinction was drawn between the ordinary administration of the Municipality on the one hand, and on the other the special arrangements which are necessitated by the fact that Puri is visited from time to time by large numbers of pilgrims, who come for the most part at a very unhealthy season of the year and are often very poor. A programme of municipal reform was outlined, and a grant of Rs. 5,000 was made to meet the cost of a survey preliminary to the preparation of a complete drainage system. To provide for the requirements of the pilgrim traffic, the heads of a separate programme were indicated. His Honour was glad to notice that the pilgrim sheds erected in Puri two years ago were of much use to the poorer pilgrims who could not pay the high rates charged by the lodging-house-keepers, and that private charity had already stepped in to provide free accommodation on approved sanitary principles. The good example set in this respect by Babus Kanai Lal Bogla and Duli Chand, of Calcutta, and the late Babu Kanai Lal Pundit, of Cuttack, will, His Honour hopes, appeal to the practical generosity of other wealthy Hindus.

4. The health of the places where the Act was in force appears to have been on the whole fair. In Orissa, however, there were 442 deaths from cholera, which broke out during the Car festival in spite of strict sanitary precautions. In Nadia also there were 92 cases of cholera, which is stated to have been imported by pilgrims from Puri. The Lieutenant-Governor has enjoined the adoption of certain simple measures of precaution for the prompt detection of such cases and the prevention of the spread of the disease in future. The occurrence of plague at Deoghur has already been referred to. Only nine deaths were, however, attributed to this cause.

5. The total income of the year under review was Rs. 94,437 against Rs. 63,106. The total expenditure was Rs. 60,041 against Rs. 57,415 in 1901-1902. The bulk of the increased income accrued in Puri and in the chattis on the Jagannath Road in Jajpur, and it is mainly due to the larger demand for accommodation on the occasion of the Car festival during the year under review. Compared with the receipts, the amount expended by the Puri Lodging-house Fund, especially on conservancy, was disappointingly small.

The unexpended balance will, however, provide a useful nucleus for the large expenditure which will inevitably be required for the improvement of the sanitation of the town.

6. The Act has worked satisfactorily during the year in all places in which it was in force.

ORDER.—Ordered that a copy of the Resolution be submitted to the Government of India in the Home Department, and that copies be forwarded to the Commissioners of the Burdwan, Presidency, Chittagong, Patna, Bhagalpur, and Orissa Divisions for information.

Ordered also that a copy of the Resolution be communicated to the Sanitary Commissioner, Bengal, and to the Sanitary Board, and that it be published in the Calcutta Gazette for general information.

By order of the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal,

The mean pressure, temperature, etc., are deduced from the traces of the Barograph and Thermograph, nd from eye observations.

The maximum and minimum temperatures are obtained from self-registering thermometers. All the ıermometers are verified and the readings have been corrected to a standard constructed and verified at the ew Observatory. They are exposed under a thatched shed open at the sides, and are suspended four feet ove the ground.

The barometer readings are corrected approximately to those of the standard, Newman's No. 86 rmerly at the Surveyor-General's Office.

The hygrometric elements are obtained from Tables III, IV and V of the official tables computed in ıe Meteorological Office, and based on Regnault's modifications of August's formula.

The directions and the movement of the wind are taken from the trace of a Beckley's anemograph.

The mouth of the rain-gauge is one foot above the ground.

Rainfall reported on any day is for 24 hours preceding 8 A.M. of that day.

o, overcast; d, drizzling rain; t, thunder; p, passing temporary showers.

In the weekly abstract from 2nd to 8th August 1903 read 14·8 for 4·8 as range of temperature of the 8th August 1903.

QUESTION OF THE FUTURE ORGANIZATION OF THE CANTONMENT MAGISTRATES' DEPARTMENT.

Nos. 1507—1521, dated Simla, the 24th August 1903.

RESOLUTION—By the Government of India, Home Department.

THE Government of India have recently considered, in communication with the Secretary of State, the question of the future organization of the Cantonment Magistrates' Department. The difficulty of obtaining a regular supply of efficient Cantonment Magistrates does not now come before the Government of India for the first time. Attempts have been made to remove it by various systems of recruitment, all of which have proved more or less unsatisfactory. Before the year 1864 Military Officers had been employed as Magistrates and Superintendents of Abkari and Bazars in Cantonments; but in that year the passing of Act XXII (an Act to make provision for the administration of Military Cantonments) afforded new reasons for requiring from such officers special qualifications for their civil duties. It was accordingly ruled that they should pass the examination prescribed for officers entering the Staff Corps through the Civil Department, and that they should be regarded as officers in civil employ, liable to the departmental examination for civil officers, and eligible for general promotion in the Civil Department. Cantonment Magistracies were then divided into two grades, on a consolidated pay of Rs. 1,000 and Rs. 700 a month respectively. The tenure of the post was unlimited, and the holder vacated it on being admitted to Colonel's allowances or on attaining the age of 55 years. This scheme failed to afford an inducement to officers to enter the Department. By the year 1875 no appointments had been made in the ordinary civil line from among Cantonment Magistrates in the North-Western Provinces and the Punjab, and only one such appointment had been made in Bengal. In consequence of a representation made by the Commander-in-Chief in 1886, that the system was working badly mainly because unsuitable officers had been appointed as Cantonment Magistrates and could not be removed, the Government of India, in August 1887, ordered, as a provisional arrangement, that the tenure of Cantonment Magistracies should in future be limited to five years, with a possible extension to seven years. The consolidated rates of pay fixed in 1864, which would have been needlessly high for officers appointed for this limited period, were revised as follows:—

Rank of officer.	Initial pay.	On passing the Higher Standard Examination.
	Rs.	Rs.
Subaltern	600	700
Higher rank	700	800

To meet the objection arising from the periodical admission to civil employ of untrained Military Officers, who would be engaged in important magisterial work, candidates for the Cantonment Magistrates' Department were required to pass a qualifying examination in the Civil and Criminal Procedure Codes, the Indian Penal Code, and other laws commonly administered by Cantonment Magistrates. These orders had not been in force for more than three years when Lord Roberts, who was then Commander-in-Chief in India, took strong exception to the new arrangement. The main objection urged from a military point of view was that officers lost in efficiency through absence from military duty, and, after having been for five years in an independent civil position, were disinclined for such duty on their return. From the civil point of view it was represented that an officer had barely time to become an efficient Cantonment Magistrate before he had to make way for an inexperienced successor. It was then decided to abandon the system tentatively introduced in 1887 and to revert to the one previously existing, with the important difference that, whereas the highest pay (Rs. 1,000) under the earlier system had proved insufficient to induce competent officers to adopt the career permanently, the pay of the higher grades was to be so regulated as to make the appointments sufficiently attractive for this purpose. With the same object it was resolved to reserve the appointments in the Judge Advocate-General's Department preferentially (though not exclusively) for qualified Cantonment Magistrates. It was also arranged that officers appointed as Cantonment Magistrates should be seconded in the Military Department after a year, and should, after five years, either return to their regiments or be struck off the strength. The following allowances were provided in addition to Staff Corps pay of rank:—

	Rs.
On first appointment	200
On passing the Departmental Lower Standard Examination ...	250
On passing the Departmental Higher Standard Examination ...	300
After five years' substantive service as Cantonment Magistrate ...	400
After ten years' substantive service as Cantonment Magistrate ...	500

2. These conditions of service, which were approved by Lord Kimberley in October 1892, have remained in force up to the present day. Experience has shown that they do not ordinarily secure a suitable stamp of officer for the Department, and great difficulty has been experienced in recruiting, especially in the case of leave vacancies. The system is defective in failing to provide a stimulus to effort and a check upon inertness, in the shape of promotion by selection. Good work is done in individual cases, but speaking generally the Government of India observe a tendency among officers to assume that their position is assured, and that further advancement is only a matter of length of service, with the inevitable result that the energies of the Department as a whole are impaired. The reluctance of Military Officers to enter the Department under existing conditions has made it almost impossible to replace an officer taking leave except by another simultaneously returning. In some cases it has been possible either to depute a civil or a regimental officer to perform the Cantonment Magistrate's duties in addition to his own, or even to leave the Cantonment Magistracy unfilled for a time. Such arrangements are not satisfactory, but, in many recent cases, even their adoption was impossible, and the leave applied for had to be postponed or refused altogether. Further, the Government of India have received a representation from the Military authorities that the executive duties of Cantonment Magistrates are either neglected or inefficiently performed, owing to the appointment of incompetent officers.

3. In these circumstances the Government of India determined to refer the whole question of the constitution of the Cantonment Magistrates' Department and the causes of its unpopularity and inefficiency to a competent Committee, consisting of Mr. J. P. Hewett, then Home Secretary, Major-General G. Henry, then Quartermaster-General in India, and Lieutenant-Colonel H. B. Thornhill, then Cantonment Magistrate of Bareilly. The Committee considered that, in order to attract officers with the necessary qualifications to the Cantonment Magistrates' Department, it was essential that the prospects of the Department should be improved. In order to effect the required improvement, they recommended—

(a) the addition of two new grades of selected Cantonment Magistrates, viz.:—

	Officers.	Staff pay.
		Rs.
1st grade	3	700 a month,
2nd grade	6	600 a month;

(b) the creation of a reserve consisting of two officers;

(c) the creation of five new appointments of Assistant Cantonment Magistrates at Umballa, Meerut, Mhow, Poona-Kirkee, and Quetta;

(d) the creation of two new appointments of Cantonment Magistrate at Nowshera and Jubbulpore; and

(e) the appointment of an Inspecting Officer of Cantonments on a staff pay of Rs. 1,000 a month.

4. These recommendations have been accepted by the Secretary of State, except that the appointment of an Inspecting Officer of Cantonments has been sanctioned, in the first instance, for a period of five years; and, in promulgating them for general information, the Government of India invite attention to the following remarks and instructions regarding the several matters referred to by the Committee.

5. The Government of India trust that the improved prospects which these arrangements offer will attract suitable officers to the Department. In future promotion to the two highest grades, which carry a staff pay of Rs. 700 and Rs. 600 a month respectively, will be made entirely by selection, vacancies, whether permanent or temporary, being filled as a rule by officers who have completed ten years' departmental service. Cantonment Magistrates of ten years' service will ordinarily, unless adversely reported on, be eligible for a staff pay of Rs. 500 a month. Recommendations for the grant of this rate of pay, as well as for promotion to the grades of Rs. 600 amd Rs. 700, permanent or temporary, will be made by the Quartermaster-General in India (who receives the confidential reports regarding the administrative capacity and judicial work of Cantonment Magistrates) to the Government of India, by whom they will be carefully considered, first in the Military Department and then in the Home Department. The Government of India will examine separately, in consultation with the Quartermaster-General in India and Local Governments, the claims of officers to promotion to the two highest grades, and of officiating officers to confirmation in the Department in connection with the new appointments which have been sanctioned.

6. The object of the creation of a reserve of officers is to provide for leave vacancies; but it is obvious that no reserve of reasonable strength will serve this purpose if an unlimited number of officers are simultaneously allowed to avail themselves of leave. The Government of India have accordingly decided that the number of Cantonment Magistrates who may be on furlough in future shall not exceed 20 per cent. of the cadre posts and that all applications for ordinary furlough in excess of this proportion must be refused. To facilitate the making of the necessary arrangements for the grant of leave, officers should be required to intimate to the Local Government at a date not later than the 1st March their intention to apply for leave during the ensuing hot weather, and Local Governments should give demi-official intimation of the fact to the Government of India. Such intimation is indeed already required by existing orders, but these are not always complied with: and the Government of India desire it to be known that omission to give notice as directed will, unless satisfactory explanation of such omission accompanies the leave application, in future prejudice the officer's chances of obtaining leave.

7. Officers appointed to be Assistant Cantonment Magistrates will receive staff pay as if they were Cantonment Magistrates up to a maximum of Rs. 300 a month, and their services as Assistants will count towards their staff pay when confirmed as Cantonment Magistrates. Regarding appointments to the newly-sanctioned Cantonment Magistracies at Jubbulpore and Nowshera and to the five new Assistant Cantonment Magistracies further orders will be issued subsequently.

8. The appointment of an Inspecting Officer of Cantonments has been decided on, with a view to the improvement of the standards of executive and sanitary work in Cantonments throughout India. The cost of the appointment will be debited to the Military estimates, and the officer will be under the orders of the Commander-in-Chief and attached to the Department of the Quartermaster-General in India, being graded as a Deputy Quartermaster-General; but he will be selected from among the senior Cantonment Magistrates in the Department. The Inspecting Officer will spend the greater part of the year on tour, examining the working of Cantonments, co-ordinating results so that the experience gained in one place may be utilized elsewhere, and advising the Military authorities generally as an expert in matters of Cantonment administration. He will also be expected to acquaint himself with the financial position of Cantonments generally and to advise how that position may be improved. It must be clearly understood, however, that he will inspect and report only on the executive work of Cantonment Magistrates, and that his concern with their judicial work will be restricted entirely to the question of how far its nature or amount may interfere with their other duties.

ORDER.—Ordered that a copy of this Resolution be forwarded to the Local Governments and Administrations marginally named, for information and guidance; and to the Finance and Commerce* and [*and further necessary action.]
and Military Departments, and the Quartermaster-General in India,* for information.

Ordered also that the Resolution be published in the Supplement to the Gazette of India.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS.

THE BHABUAH SUB-DIVISION OF SHAHABAD.

The Hon'ble MAULVI SERAJ-UL-ISLAM, KHAN BAHADUR, in the absence of the Hon'ble BABU CHATURBHOOJ SAHAY asked :—

Will the Government be pleased to state how the matter of providing the Bhabuah Sub-division in the Shahabad district stands with reference to the following points:—

(a) The recommendations of the Irrigation Commission.

(b) Orders of the Government of India, if any, on the subject.

(c) Action taken or proposed to be taken by the Bengal Government in the matter with the result in the former case?

The Hon'ble MR. INGLIS replied:—

"The Answer to the Hon'ble Member's questions is as follows:—

(a) The report of the Irrigation Commission has not yet been published.

(b) No orders have been passed by the Government of India on the subject.

(c) A preliminary survey has been made of the valley and catchment of the river Karmanassa. It has been ascertained that there is a possible site for a reservoir of considerable capacity. It is, however, doubtful whether the reservoir could be made within limits of cost proportionate to the value it would have as a protective work. The question is at present under inquiry."

PILFERING OF PARCELS ON RAILWAYS.

The Hon'ble MAULVI SERAJ-UL-ISLAM, KHAN BAHADUR, asked:—

Has the attention of Government been called to an article in the "Moslem Chronicle" of the 1st August, 1903, headed "Pilfering of parcels on our Railways"?

Will the Government be pleased to direct the Railway Authorities to take steps to redress the grievance so generally complained of?

The Hon'ble MR. INGLIS replied:—

"The Lieutenant-Governor has seen the article referred to, and is aware that complaints of pilfering are frequently made. The Railway Authorities also are keenly alive to the existence of petty thieving and are doing what they can to stop it. In the absence of specific statements which can be verified, no useful action can be taken by Government."

THE BENGAL SETTLED ESTATES BILL, 1903.

The Hon'ble MR BUCKLAND moved for leave to introduce a Bill to facilitate the family settlement of estates in Bengal. He said :—

"The Bill with the Statement of Objects and Reasons was, Sir, under your orders published in the Calcutta Gazette a few weeks ago, so that Hon'ble Members and the public have already had an opportunity of studying it. But I cannot rely upon the formal publication of the Bill as relieving me of the duty of offering an explanatory statement to the Council in making the motion which stands in my name. For some years past the British Indian Association have been applying to Government to legislate for the purpose of maintaining the position of the noble and wealthy families of Bengal, which, under the existing law of the Province, have been liable to fall into decay, owing, among other causes, to the division of estates, and many of which have, in fact, been thereby disintegrated. An incomplete list of the names of 25 such families was prepared without difficulty. The application of the landowners has met with the general approval of successive Lieutenant-Governors of Bengal and their advisers, and after a prolonged correspondence with the Government of India and the Secretary of State (which will show that the subject has been thoroughly discussed), the desirability of undertaking legislation for the family settlement of immoveable and moveable property in Bengal, with the object of preserving old or wealthy families from decay, maintaining their territorial influence and preventing the subdivision of estates of historical and political importance, has been acknowledged by all the authorities, and has found expression in a definite shape in this Bill. In other words, the object of the Bill is to make provision, in special cases approved by Government, for preserving the continuity of noble and influential families whose estates are not protected by the existing law from division on the decease of the proprietor.

"There are several main points to which I desire toinvite the attention of the Council. There is perhaps no sentiment more universal in civilized human nature than that of family pride, and it is only a natural consequence of this sentiment that heads of wealthy families should adopt all the measures in their power to found a family (as it is called , to preserve the continuity of the family, and to improve its status. Thus, in some cases in Bengal, and conspicuously so where there is an impartible Raj, the custom of primogeniture has prevailed, and it has been asserted that in former times large zamindaris could be willed, and descended, when there was no will, to the eldest son exclusively, subject to the rights of other sons to maintenance. The number, however, of cases of indivisibility of property in a family has not been large in Bengal. Speaking generally, Hindu Law makes for the division of estates. That is the character of the local Law of Succession. In cases of intestacy the property must be divided among all the sons. The direct effect of the Dayabhaga Law which prevails in Lower Bengal is to partition and break up landed property on the death of an owner among all his sons. Its principle is that every son should have a share of the father's property, whether ancestral or self-acquired: at the same time it allows the holder of the property for the time being to give away the property by gift or otherwise to any one of his sons to the exclusion of the rest, or even to a stranger. The power of making one son the heir is not exercised generally, because it can only be exercised for one life, and in its operation there is no security against alienations either by sale or mortgage. The universal effect is the division of estates.

"The Mitakshara Law is somewhat different, but, whenever joint-property is divided, all the sons take equally. Under the Mitakshara Law, a father cannot settle property on any one of his sons. Under the Dayabhaga Law, a father, as the sole owner of what he has acquired by inheritance or otherwise, has full power to dispose of it by deed or will in favour of his eldest or another son to the exclusion of the remaining sons; but, as was settled more than 30 years ago in the great Tagore Will case which judgment did not deal with family settlements), he cannot settle it in favour of a son or remoter issue not born at the time of the settlement.

"The result, therefore, is that unless the Legislature intervenes, no Hindu head of a family can make a settlement of his property for the purpose of maintaining or improving the position of the family.

"So, also, the Muhammadans have a law of inheritance, which, it is true, is not peculiar to Bengal, but the effect of which is the universal disintegration of the Muhammadan families. That the Muhammadan community appreciate the ill-effects of the Muhammadan law of inheritance appears from their evasion of the law by the device of a family entail under the name of a religious endowment. This device has been declared by the Privy Council to be invalid. Therefore, unless the Legislature provides a means, the Muhammadans are left without resource. It has therefore been decided to legislate by a permissive measure to give both Muhammadans and Hindus the power, which they have shown themselves desirous of possessing, of making a family settlement of their property. No one can be called upon to take advantage of its provisions against his will. It has been decided also not to insist or rely in any way on primogeniture as the sole condition upon which immoveable property may be settled. The object is to preserve the continuity of the family in the possession of the settled estates, and for this purpose the succession of members of the family other than the eldest son may, within certain limits, properly be recognised.

"And here I would take the opportunity of observing that, though this is a Government measure in one sense, it is not a measure which Government bring forward for their own purposes. It is understood that the principle of the creation and preservation of a body of influential and powerful landed gentry is one which commands the sympathy of the Government of India, and, no doubt, it is to the interest of Government, who are responsible for the maintenance of law and order, to have the native leaders of society attached to them by some form of gratitude. Land-owners all over the world are a loyal and conservative body. This is so even where their tenures are the growth of ancient law and custom. And there are no firmer ties than that of land in India, where many of the tenures are the creation of the Imperial power. On occasions of plague, famine, religious and other disturbances, it is to the heads of the community that Government must turn, and experience shows that their influence can be best maintained, as a rule, by their position as landed proprietors. The heads of families who have a great stake in the country and have, in fact, claimed to be not only important factors in the social economy, but also the real pillars of the State, may be expected, in times of trouble and disturbance, to rally to the side of Government rather than to espouse the cause of its enemies.

"Moreover, wealthy and settled families may be expected to show more consideration to their subordinate tenure-holders and tenants than proprietors who acquire subdivided estates by the partition law or as money-lenders, and look more to making profit out of the land than to the maintenance of position and dignity by possessing it. It is a great satisfaction to Government to see a prosperous and contented peasantry. But what I wish to emphasise is that, though there may be incidental gains which may accrue to the State from the passing of this permissive measure, they are not the objects for which the Bill is being introduced. That the Bill is not a necessity for Government is clear for two reasons. The power of Government is sufficiently strong and established already: on the other hand, there is no ground for making any general charge of discontent or disloyalty against the land-owners of Bengal as necessitating such a measure. The Bill may be useful to Government as an auxiliary support, it is not an indispensable element of strength.

"It has, indeed, been decided by Government that it is impossible to grant in full the application of the Bengal landowners, which originally aimed at obtaining legislation to permit the settlement of estates in perpetuity. It has long been the settled policy of the Statute Law of England to forbid perpetuities. This policy has been accepted in most civilised countries, and is based on the recognition of the principle that economically it is not expedient to fetter the free transfer of property. Departures from this principle can only be supported on the ground of strong political necessity. Exceptions have been made, indeed, from the settled policy of the Government of India and the Secretary of State in favour of certain talukdars of Oudh and in respect of certain ancient zamindaris in the Madras Presidency. But it has been ruled that there is no such necessity for a similar exception to the general policy of the Government of India being granted to the zamindars of Bengal. The law against perpetuities, as it works in England, means that property can be settled for a life or lives in being and 21 years. It has been decided, by slightly varying the English practice, to allow settlements of moveable and immoveable property to be made in Bengal, limited to three generations, not to three lives, and to allow each successive proprietor on succeeding to the property as tenant for life to make a new settlement, should he wish to do so. The right to make a new settlement is to be specifically granted afresh by the Local Government. The rights to be created by or under the family settlement are to prevail over rights derived from family custom or from the general law of succession to which the parties are subject. While a settlement will not have effect beyond the period authorized in the Bill, the opportunity to be given for re-settlement from time to time can be taken if the tenants for life so desire.

"If the Council have borne in mind what I said a few minutes ago about the present requirements of the Hindu and Muhammadan Laws, it will be obvious that this permissive Bill will give the heads of wealthy and influential families in Bengal power to make settlements of property which they cannot at present make. Though such settlements will be of a limited character—not in perpetuity—there will be nothing to prevent the settlement being continued to infinity, if the successive tenants for life are actuated by a becoming family pride and desire to maintain and improve the position of the family according to the provisions of the Bill. In England the settlements of land are strictly limited by law, but they have answered their purpose very well. In the case of almost every great English estate, it is protected by a deed which has no operation beyond the lives of the parties and their children. The main object of the deed is to keep the corpus of the property intact in he hands of the eldest son; the subsidiary object is to provide for the maineenance of widows and younger children. The settlement is renewed once n a generation, usually when the eldest son comes of age, or marries. The ackbone of the English law of settlement is the rule against perpetuities, to hich I have alluded. The question which Government has had to consider as been whether it would be possible to devise a form of settlement which ould enable land-owners in Bengal to do for themselves what English landwners have been doing for many generations. The present Bill is the olution of the question offered. Its provisions I propose to deal with more ully when speaking to the motion for referring the Bill to a Select Committee.

"At present, Sir, I have the honour to move for leave to introduce the Bill to facilitate the family settlement of estates in Bengal."

The Motion was put and agreed to.

The Hon'ble MR. BUCKLAND also applied to the President to suspend the Rules of Business for the purpose of introducing the Bill and referring it to a Select Committee.

The Hon'ble the PRESIDENT having declared the Rules suspended—

The Hon'ble MR. BUCKLAND introduced the Bill and moved that it be read in Council.

The Motion was put and agreed to.

The Bill was read accordingly.

The Hon'ble MR. BUCKLAND also moved that the Bill be referred to a Select Committee, consisting of the Hon'ble Mr. Pugh, the Hon'ble Mr. Gupta, the Hon'ble Mr. Hare, the Hon'ble Maharaja Manindra Chandra Nandy, of Cossimbazar, the Hon'ble Rai Tarini Pershad, Bahadur, the Hon'ble Nawab Bahadur Kwaja Salimullah, of Dacca, the Hon'ble Dr. Asutosh Mukhopadhyaya and the Mover, with instructions to report at the next meeting of the Council. He said:—

"Sir, I said just now that in speaking to this motion I should deal more fully with the provisions of the Bill The Bill itself is based partly upon the Oudh Settled Estates Act, 1900, so far as regards procedure and powers of alienation, and partly upon the Indian Perpetuities Bill in the form originally submitted by the British Indian Association. Many of the provisions of the Oudh Act which appear superfluous and unsuitable to Bengal have been omitted. The framework of the Bill may be briefly described. After the usual preliminary sections containing the title and definitions, there follow sections 3 to 6 which deal with the manner in which applications are to be made for permission to make a settlement and with the preliminary inquiries which are required before Government passes final orders on an application unless it is summarily rejected. Sections 7 to 16 deal with the provisions of such settlements, and explain how they are to be notified, how they may be modified or revoked and what is to be their effect. Sections 17 to 20 explain certain restrictions of the powers of the tenants for life, while sections 21 and 22 are intended to prevent the defeat of settlements under this measure by the operation of the Revenue Sale Law. Sections 23 and 24 deal with notifications and empower Government to make rules under the Act. Such is, speaking broadly, the framework of the Bill. I now turn to particular sections.

"In section 2 a change in the definition of the word 'estate' has recently been introduced by which that word has been made to include not only immoveable property, but also money and jewellery or other moveable property which should, in the opinion of the Local Government, be treated as heirlooms. Sections 3 and 4 particularly avoid specifying any classes of landholders who may be supposed to be entitled to make settlements and leave the power to grant such a concession entirely within the discretion of the Local Government. Section 5 provides for the issue of notifications for the purpose of giving full and free publicity to important transactions of the nature of such a settlement, so that objections may be filed and considered in time. It is thought that, unless such notifications are published, it will be impossible for Government to ascertain the actual financial position of an estate. Section 6 deals with the rejection or approval of applications after notifications have issued.

"Sections 7 and 8 deal with the order of succession. They are intended to provide for settlement for three generations, i.e., (1) the original settlor, the first tenant for life, (2) the second tenant for life, and (3) the ultimate holder.

It is in this section that the variations from the present Hindu law are introduced, as the terms of the section allow a settlement of property upon one son only and upon a person yet unborn. The same section 7 provides that the settlement shall usually follow the natural course of succession, but a departure from this rule may be sanctioned by the Local Government for sufficient reason. There is nothing in the section which can be construed as allowing an estate to be settled away from the family in any case. From the reports that have already reached my hand it is evident that there is a considerable difference of opinion about this section which will require to be very carefully considered by the Select Committee. By a definition in the Bill the word 'son' includes an adopted son, and the Hindu practice of adoption makes it unlikely that settlors will often die without heirs. But section 8 makes provision for this extreme case by requiring that every settlement should contain provisions for further remainders.

"Under section 9 all incumbrances have to be specified in the settlement. Then provision has to be made for the discharge of incumbrances, for the payment of interest, for the maintenance of the widows, unmarried daughters and relatives (other than the second tenant for life) of the settlor. The same section provides for management in possible cases of minority. No restrictions on management, such as are found in English law, are imposed on an adult tenant for life in view of the strong opinion expressed by the British Indian Association in favour of giving the tenant for life absolute control over the property, subject of course to the provisions of sections 17 and 19, which impose restrictions on alienation and leases by the tenant for life.

"Section 10 provides for additions to the settled estate at any time and for the making of a fresh settlement either by the original settlor or by a subsequent tenant for life. The expression used in the Bill is that the fresh settlement is to be in supersession of the former settlement. It is not quite clear to me whether it is meant that the fresh settlement must contravene the former one, or whether it really means that a continuation or renewal of the former settlement will amount to a fresh settlement. I think this point requires examination.

"Sections 11, 12 and 13 state the formalities which must be observed before a settlement can take effect. It will be observed that section 12, sub-section (2), provides that every such deed of settlement should bear a stamp of a value equivalent to one-fourth of the annual net profits of the estate comprised in the settlement, and such stamp-duty is made payable within three years. I am afraid that this provision of the Bill will be regarded as a severe tax by intending settlors, but it has been inserted by the Government of India as the condition on which the privilege of making such settlements is accorded, and it is perfectly clear that, if the condition is not accepted, the Bill, though passed by this Council, will not be approved by the Government of India. There is no alternative between accepting the provision and wrecking the Bill.

"Section 14 contains provisions necessary to prevent the ordinary law of the country or a special custom from operating to defeat settlements made under the Bill. Sections 15 and 16 provide for the revocation and cancelment of a settlement, for it seems proper that it should be possible under due safeguards, such as the sanction of Government, to terminate a settlement at any time.

"Sections 17 to 20 limit the powers of the tenant for life and save the provisions of the Bengal Tenancy Act of 1885. They also contain provisions that, when any portion of an estate is sold or when any premium or fine is taken for a lease, the proceeds shall accrue through official channels to the benefit of the estate, and not to the personal benefit of the tenant for life for the time being. Under the English law, as altered by modern legislation, the life owner of a great estate is usually invested with extensive powers of management: he may, for example, mortgage or sell the estate or part of it, but any capital sums which he may realize by the exercise of those powers are paid over to trustees and held by them on the same trusts as the land. The system works well in England, because it is not difficult to find good trustees. In India it may not be possible to find satisfactory trustees to act without remuneration, so that it is considered necessary, in such matters as the alienation or lease of a portion of a settled estate, to empower some officer of Government to perform the duties of a trustee.

"Sections 21 and 22 deal with the recommendations made by the British Indian Association, that a settled estate should be protected from sale under the Revenue Sale Law for default in the payment of land revenue. If it were possible for a tenant for life to default in the payment of the land revenue of an estate and thereby bring an estate to sale, it would be possible for him, unless otherwise prevented, to pocket the surplus proceeds of the sale. It is well known that in most cases there is a handsome surplus of the sale-proceeds after the arrear of Government revenue has been satisfied in a revenue sale. It has, therefore, been provided that such surplus of the sale-proceeds shall accrue to the benefit of the estate, and not to the personal profit of the tenant for life. The latter will, therefore, have no object in voluntarily incurring an arrear of land revenue so as to bring the estate to sale. Section 21 contains also a proviso to guard against the danger of benami purchases at sales for arrears of revenue. There is nothing more to be said about sections 23 and 24 of the Bill.

"These observations will, I trust, have put the Council in possession of all the points of the Bill which are worthy of their present notice."

The Hon'ble BABU KALI PADA GHOSH said:—"I do not think the Bill, so far as its main principle is concerned, can be open to any serious objection. It proposes to ensure permanence and stability of the ancient aristocracy of the Province, and as such it will be generally regarded as a wholesome measure. But it cannot at the same time be denied that the Bill will make a rather violent change in the existing Law of Succession. Under the Dayabhaga School of Hindu Law, one can bequeath his properties by a testamentary disposition or make a gift thereof in favour of any individual he chooses, and can even disinherit his own issues, but the gift must be to a person in existence and capable of taking effect at the time of the gift. Section 7 of the Bill, however, shows that a person making a settlement of his estate will be entitled to make such settlements in favour of an unborn son and even the son of an unborn son. The change will appear all the more striking in a case where a family is governed by the Mitakshara School of Hindu Law. In such a case a son by his very birth acquires a right to the ancestral property, and the father has not the power to dispose of the property either by will or gift, but under the provisions of the Bill, all the sons except one may be excluded from their legitimate shares in the ancestral property. This is certainly a point deserving of serious consideration, and I do not think it can possibly be intended that the Bill should go so far as to entitle a person to make settlement of a property over which he has no right of disposal under the principles of ordinary law. It seems to me to be desirable that the applicability of the provisions of the Bill should be restricted to large estates, and a pecuniary limit for this purpose should, if possible, be fixed.

"The objectionable feature of the Bill is, however, redeemed to a certain extent by the fact that it is a purely permissive measure, and in its practical application can affect only a few families in the whole of the Province, and that in the case of such as would voluntarily avail themselves of its provisions.

"In matters of detail the Bill is open to objection in several other respects, but I do not think I should be justified in taking up the time of the Council by dwelling upon such questions at this stage, as it will be for the Select Committee to carefully consider all questions of details."

The Hon'ble RAI TARINI PERSHAD, BAHADUR, said:—"I heartily thank His Excellency the Viceroy and Your Honour's Government for the measure which has just been introduced by the Hon'ble Member in charge of it. I must say, Sir, that in the new measure I am not personally interested, for I have no property which is either large or of any importance which will in any way personally interest me in the new legislation. I, however, feel rejoiced at this occasion, as when it becomes law it will be a boon to those who are looking forward to it with unsavoury hearts.

"I must also say that if such a measure had ripened into law much earlier, many estates belonging to ancient families would have avoided a shipwreck and continued at least much longer than they did—many estates of considerable value and extent would have avoided change of hands and dismemberment.

What the Hon'ble Member in charge has with Your Honour's permission introduced into the Council is nothing like anything unknown to this country. It owes its origin to long-established usages and customs existing from time immemorial, Regulation XI of 1793 and subsequent Regulations and the decided cases of the highest Courts testifying to the fact of the existence of such usages and customs.

"I would beg to lay before Your Honour a small mistake in the reply sent by the Bhagalpur Landholders' Association. They were under a wrong impression when considering the Bill that it will generally apply to Bengal proper and to the whole Presidency. It applies really to the whole Presidency, and it is all right.

"The provision in the Bill for stamp duty is looked upon by the public as a very harsh measure, and if it be not in the province of the Local Government and the Council to bring down the rate to a more reasonable and fair level, it had better be left alone, and the Bill, I hope, with certain improvements will become law.

"Another matter I beg to notice is that the definition of 'estates' should be made definite and final once for all, subject only as usual to be modified later on if necessary."

The Hon'ble DR. ASUTOSH MUKHOPADHYAYA said:—"Sir,—Under the Rules for the conduct of Legislative Business in this Council, when a motion is made that a Bill be referred to a Select Committee, the principle of the Bill and its general provisions may be discussed; I trust, therefore, I may, without impropriety, submit to the Council, at this stage, some observations on the measure now before us.

"In the first place, I may be permitted to observe that the proposed legislation is of a very exceptional character. It restricts, in some measure, the operation of the rule against perpetuities and of the other wholesome rules which regulate the creation of future interests and the imposition of restraints on the alienation of property. It is too late in the day to question the policy which underlies these rules, and which has stood the test of criticism for centuries. Any legislative measure which purports to interfere with these rules, and which renders it possible that a considerable proportion of the land and capital of the community may be put in fetters, requires to be jealously scrutinised, and, I may say without hesitation, that if the measure now before us had gone much further than it does, had been of unrestricted application, and had not contained the safeguards to be found in the Bill, I should have found it extremely difficult to give it even my qualified support.

"The principle, however, which underlies the Bill, namely, the preservation of the ancient and aristocratic families of this Province from decay, has my unqualified approval, and, in so far as the provisions of the Bill are calculated to attain that object, they have my hearty support. I am afraid, however, that the extent to which by this Bill a concession is made in favour of our landed aristocracy has been misunderstood and to some extent exaggerated. Under the law as it has now been settled by judicial decision, a Hindu is entitled to deal with his property freely if the estate which he creates is, in respect of quality and quantity, such as is recognised in Hindu law and is not opposed to any principles of public policy. As pointed out by the Judicial Committee in the celebrated case of Tagore vs. Tagore, a Hindu is entitled to create a succession of life estates, provided the donee is a person in existence at the date of the gift. If, therefore, a landowner has his son and grandson alive, he is entitled to give a life-interest in his properties to his son, and subject to such life-estate, an absolute interest to his grandson. The Bill in substance provides that this may be lawfully done even if the son and the grandson are not in existence.

"To this extent the Bill abrogates the rule that the donee must be in existand ence capable of taking at the time when the gift is made; to the same extent, also, the Bill makes the rule against perpetuities inapplicable; subject in each instance to the restriction that the donee is selected with reference to the rule of primogeniture. The exception, therefore, which is made to the ordinary law of the land in favour of the aristocracy is of a limited character and ought to meet with our approval. In the absence of any provision in the law similar to those contained in the Bill, our ancient and wealthy families must ultimately be ruined; their estate must in each generation be divided amongst the owners, and consequently their family prestige and territorial influence considerably diminished.

"The observations I have made are applicable primarily to Hindu families, but they apply with still greater force to the Muhammadan nobility, who live under a law which allows upon the death of a proprietor, not merely his sons, but a number of relations, more or less remote, to partake in the inheritance. Indeed, I may be permitted to observe that so far as these Muhammadan families are concerned, the Bill in one sense comes too late for families in which a number of heirs has already succeeded to the inheritance, and I am happy to find that my views are in entire agreement with those of my hon'ble friend, the Nawab Bahadur of Dacca, when I say that it would have been more satisfactory if some scheme had been devised and embodied in the Bill for vesting the management of the entire estate belonging to such noble Muhammadan families in the eldest male member, who might rightly be regarded as the head of the family, and would be able to maintain its dignity and traditions.

"In the second place, Sir, I may be permitted to point out that the legislation is of a purely permissive character. The provisions of the Bill when passed into law will not be forced upon any of His Majesty's subjects, and it is idle to say that it interferes with the personal law of any member of the community, be he Hindu or Muhammadan. It is entirely optional with a landowner to say whether he will take advantage of the provisions of the Act or not. If he chooses to avail himself of the provisions of the Act, his choice will have to be approved by the Local Government before the settlement can be effected. I hope I am not making too great an assumption when I say that the Local Government may be trusted to exercise the discretion so vested in it fairly and wisely. At any rate, I have seen no substantial reasons advanced as to why such discretion should not be vested in the Local Government.

"I do not, Sir, at this stage propose to detain the Council with an examination of the various provisions of the Bill, but I may be permitted to point out that the details will have to be carefully examined. I may indicate, for instance, one question which will have to be faced, namely, the applicability of the Bill to the great landowners of Bihar, who are governed by the Mitakshara law. Other points which will require careful consideration will be, the number of generations to which the settlement should be limited, the provisions which must be adequate and effective for the maintenance of the relations of the settlor, the payment of the stamp duty on the settlement, the effect of this Bill upon existing laws and customs, and last, but not least, the question of the satisfaction of the debts due to creditors, raised in the very important letter from the Secretary to the Trades Association, which was placed in our hands last night. These and various other questions will have to be carefully considered and minutely scrutinised. I may be permitted, therefore, to express the hope that adequate time will be given to the Select Committee for the fullest discussion of every point connected with the Bill, and for the amplest consideration of representations which may be made by persons interested in or affected by a measure of such vital importance. Though I do not profess to be wholly unfamiliar with the subject, it seems to me that adequate time is absolutely necessary for the consideration of the details of this Bill in their various aspects."

The Hon'ble MAHARAJA MANINDRA CHANDRA NANDY, of Cossimbazar, said:—"I beg fully to support the Hon'ble Dr. Asutosh Mukhopadhyaya. I also thank the Government for the introduction of this Bill, which will be a great boon to noble families of Bengal. There are many matters in this Bill that will require to be carefully considered and discussed, and I beg also that sufficient time be given for this discussion."

The Hon'ble MAULVI SERAJ-UL-ISLAM, KHAN BAHADUR, said:—"The policy that underlies this measure seems to me to be a sound and wholesome one, and the object of the Bill is to preserve the continuity of influential zamindar families, both Hindu and Muhammadan.

"From the Muhammadan point of view, Sir, I may submit that there seems to be no objection to the principle of the Bill, inasmuch as this principle is recognised in the Muhammadan Law itself and is known as Wakf Alal Aulad, or settlement on children. Although unfortunately the Privy Council has given an adverse decision on this point, but a large proportion of Muhammadan lawyers and authorities do not agree with the view of the Privy Council, and maintain that the Muhammadan law recognises this principle in our Wakf Alal Aulad, or settlement on children. That being so there will be no objection from the Muhammadan point of view to the principle of the Bill. No doubt it appears that the Bill trenches on the doctrine of perpetuity, but under section 2, clause (d), of the Transfer of Property Act, the Muhammadan Law is saved from the law of perpetuity. In other words, a Muhammadan can create a perpetuity even in spite of that law, as he is saved by section 2, clause (d). But, Sir, I quite agree with my hon'ble and learned friend, Dr. Asutosh Mukhopadhyaya, that this Bill does not go far enough, and I venture to urge that, unless the suggestion of the Hon'ble Nawab Bahadur of Dacca is adopted, and if this Bill is passed into law as it stands, it will be almost a dead-letter, because there is hardly one Muhammadan property in Bengal of which one person is the sole proprietor. The Bill provides only for cases in which there are no co-sharers, where a man is the sole proprietor, and therefore Muhammadans will hardly be able to avail themselves of the benefits this measure is designed to confer. I trust that this matter will be carefully considered by the strong Select Committee that has been formed, and I hope they will see their way to giving the Bill a wider scope, for otherwise it will be of no avail to the Muhammadans in the Province.

"There is another point to which I should like to refer, and that is with reference to the stamp duty. The Council are no doubt aware that there is a consensus of opinion against the provisions of section 12 as regards the stamp duty, and there also seems to be objection as to whether the power of revocation ought to be given. I commend these matters to the careful consideration of the Select Committee, and while supporting the Bill submit that it ought to have a wider scope."

The Hon'ble the PRESIDENT said:—"Before putting this motion I desire to advert for one moment to the remarks which have fallen from some Hon'ble Members to the effect that full time should be given for the consideration of this Bill before the Select Committee submit their Report. As Hon'ble Members will see the terms of the motion which I have to put before the Council are that the Bill be referred to a Select Committee with directions to report at the next meeting of the Council, and the present intention is that the next meeting of the Council shall be on Friday next. I see that this announcement has been received with some surprise, and I therefore proceed to explain what the reasons are for calling a meeting of the Council at such an early date.

"In the first place, this Council will shortly disperse and the members of Government who compose it will be leaving Calcutta. During the week that is before us it is the intention of the Member in charge of the Bill to have several meetings of the Select Committee so that the work may be got through as quickly and as thoroughly as possible, and that their Report may be prepared by next Friday. After that if the Report is prepared and presented, my intention is that it should be published for thorough and extensive criticism by all those concerned, and that the Select Committee's Report should not be taken up for consideration till some date at the beginning of the cold weather, so that six weeks or two months will be given for a complete study of that Report. Another reason is that it seems most likely that several important matters will be brought forward in Select Committee, and it may be necessary to refer some of them to the Government of India. If the Select Committee submit their Report next Friday, there will be time to submit those matters to the Government of India and to receive their reply before the next meeting of the Council.

"These are the reasons which have led me to think that this Report should be submitted at such an early date. I desire to add that it is always in the power of the Select Committee to submit a supplementary or additional report after receiving further suggestions."

The Motion was then put and agreed to.

The Council was adjourned to Friday, the 14th August, 1903, at 11 A.M.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS.

EXPENDITURE FOR EDUCATIONAL REFORMS.

The Hon'ble DR. ASUTOSH MUKHOPADHYAYA said :—

In the Bengal Financial Statement for 1902-1903, under head 22—Education, Rs. 42,42,000 was budgeted, including an Imperial grant of Rs. 10,00,000, for educational reforms.

(a) Will the Government be pleased to furnish details showing in what manner the normal grant of Rs. 32,42,000 and the special grant of Rs. 10,00,000 were actually spent between the 1st April, 1902, and the 31st March, 1903 ?

(b) Will the Government be pleased to state how much of such expenditure under each head was incurred between the date of the preparation of the Bengal Financial Statement for 1903-1904 and the 31st March, 1903 ?

(c) Will the Government be pleased to state the substance of any instructions given by the Government of India as to the manner in which the Imperial grant of Rs. 10,00,000 was to be spent, contained in their letters dated the 10th March, 1902, 10th May, 1902, and any other letters on the subject ?

(d) Is it true that the Imperial grant of Rs. 10,00,000 was intended to meet, in part, the expenditure which will be the outcome of the recommendations of the Educational Conference held at Simla in September, 1901 ? If so, will the Government be pleased to state what are the recommendations of the Conference which have been so carried out ?

(e) Will the Government be pleased to state what sum out of the ordinary Education grant of Rs. 32,42,000, and what sum out of the Imperial grant of Rs. 10,00,000, included in the Financial Statement of 1902-1903, actually remained unexpended on the 31st March, 1903 ? Will the Government be pleased to state whether such unexpended balance lapsed to Government ?

The Hon'ble MR. EARLE replied :—

"(a) The statistical information asked for in clause (a) of the Hon'ble Member's question is furnished, as far as it is available, in a statement which is laid on the table. The replies to the remaining clauses of the question are as follow :—

"(b) No reply can be given to this question, because, as a matter of fact, the Bengal Financial Statement is under preparation during the month of March : in the current year it was presented on the 27th of that month.

"(c) and (d) (i) The Government of India, in their letter of the 10th March, 1902, referred to by the Hon'ble Member, stated that they had decided to make a recurring grant of Rs. 10,00,000 to Provincial Revenues to meet increased expenditure under Education, while in their letter of the 10th May, 1902, they stated that the grant of ten lakhs was intended to meet, in part, the expenditure which would be the outcome of the recommendations of the Educational Conference held at Simla in September, 1901, and should not be generally utilised for charges falling outside that expenditure. No further instructions have been given with regard to this subject by the Government of India.

"(ii) The Lieutenant-Governor is not able to furnish information showing which of the recommendations of the Educational Conference, held at Simla in 1901, have been carried out, because the proceedings of that Conference are still treated as confidential.

"(e) A sum of Rs. 2,07,774 out of the Provincial grant of Rs. 32,42,000 and a sum of Rs. 2,05,409 out of the Imperial grant of Rs. 10,00,000 remained unexpended on the 31st March, 1903. The unexpended balances lapsed to Government."

The following is the statement above referred to:—

REDUCTION OF GOVERNMENT SCHOLARSHIPS.

The Hon'ble DR. ASUTOSH MUKHOPADHYAYA asked:—

(a) Will the Government be pleased to state whether the junior Government scholarships awarded upon the results of the Entrance Examination of the Calcutta University and the senior Government scholarships awarded upon the results of the F. A. Examination of the Calcutta University have been reduced both in number and amount? If so, will the Government be pleased to state the extent of such reduction?

(b) Will the Government be pleased to state in what year the amount of each scholarship, which has now been reduced, was originally fixed? Will the Government be pleased to state for how many years the number which is now reduced has continued unchanged?

(c) Will the Government be pleased to state (1) the number of candidates who appeared at the Entrance and F. A. Examinations of the Calcutta University in 1903; (2) the number of junior and senior scholarships awarded upon the results of such examinations and the value of each of such scholarships; (3) the number of candidates who appeared at the Entrance and F. A. Examinations of the Calcutta University in the year in which the number and value of the junior and senior scholarships were fixed at the figures which were in force up to 1902; (4) the number and value of each of such scholarships in the year just mentioned?

(d) Will the Government be pleased to state whether it is true that some of the junior scholarships previously awarded upon the results of the University Entrance Examination have been diverted for the encouragement of students passing by the B and C standards under the new bifurcation scheme? If so, will the Government be pleased to state the number and value of the scholarships so diverted? Will the Government be pleased to state the number of students who have appeared, or are likely to appear, at the B and C standard examinations and to whom the competition for the diverted scholarships is confined?

(e) Is the Government aware that though the ordinary monthly tuition fee in the Presidency College is Rs. 12, an exception has hitherto been made in the case of students holding junior scholarships who are required to pay only Rs. 10, being the amount of the junior scholarship of the lowest grade? Inasmuch as the value of the junior scholarship of the lowest grade is now reduced from Rs. 10 to Rs. 8, will the Government be pleased to consider whether the tuition fee in the Presidency College should not be reduced from Rs. 10 to Rs. 8 in the case of students holding junior scholarships?

(f) Has the attention of the Government been drawn to paragraphs 71 to 75 of the Report of the Indian Universities Commission relating to the raising of fees in Colleges and the establishment of a "comprehensive and liberal system of scholarships" for the benefit of "poor but really able students"? Will the Government be pleased to consider whether it is advisable to reduce the number and value of the scholarships when the question of raising the fees and establishing a liberal system of scholarships is under the consideration of the Government of India?

(g) Will the Government be pleased to state the reasons for the reduction in the value of the scholarships? Will the Government be pleased to state what is the amount saved annually by such reduction?

The Hon'ble MR. EARLE replied:—

"The statistical information asked for by the Hon'ble Member, under heads (a) to (d) of this question, is given in a statement which is laid on the table. The replies under heads (e), (f) and (g) are as follow:—

"(e)—Government is aware that junior scholars reading in the Presidency College are required to pay Rs. 10 a month as tuition fees. The question of a reduction of these fees, in the case of these scholars, who now receive stipends amounting to Rs. 8 per mensem only, was fully considered in the year 1902, but it was decided that no change should be made.

"(f) and (g)—Government is fully aware of the remarks recorded in paragraphs 71 to 75 of the University Commission's report, to which the Hon'ble Member has alluded, and those observations are still under consideration. The reduction in the number and value of the scholarships now under discussion was made at the instance of the Government of India, who, in reviewing the Report on the Progress of Education in India from 1892-93 to 1896-97, observed that the amount spent on junior and senior scholarships in Bengal had exceeded the 2 per cent. limit fixed by the Education Commission of 1881. A reduction was, accordingly, effected in the manner above shown, the whole of the amount thus set free (Rs. 14,376 per annum) being allotted for the creation of additional primary scholarships."

The following is the statement above referred to:—

(a)—The number of Junior Government Scholarships awarded upon the results of the Entrance Examination of the Calcutta University has been reduced by 18, but no reduction has been made in the number of Senior Government Scholarships awarded upon the results of the F. A. Examination. The values of both the Junior and Senior Scholarships have been reduced, as shown below:—

JUNIOR SCHOLARSHIPS.

6 Scholarships from Rs. 20 to Rs. 16 a month.

2nd grade.

41 Scholarships from Rs. 15 to Rs. 12 a month.

87 Scholarships from Rs. 10 to Rs. 8 a month.

SENIOR SCHOLARSHIPS.

1st grade.

10 Scholarships from Rs. 25 to Rs. 20 a month.

40 Scholarships from Rs. 20 to Rs. 16 a month.

(b)–The values and number of these scholarships were originally fixed in the year 1889. No change was made in the number of these scholarships till the year 1902.

(c) (1)—The number of candidates who appeared at the Entrance and F. A. Examinations of the Calcutta University in the year 1903 from schools or colleges in Bengal, exclusive of private candidates, who are ineligible for scholarships, was 5,693 and 3,552, respectively.

(2) The number of Junior Scholarships awarded on the result of the Entrance Examination, exclusive of 3 special scholarships for females and 20 special scholarships for Muhammadans, was 134, while the number of Senior Scholarships awarded on the result of the F. A. Examination, exclusive of 2 scholarships for females and 20 special scholarships for Muhammadans, was 50. The values of these scholarships were as shown under (a) above. The values of special scholarships for girls are the same as those of scholarships for boys, while the values of the special Senior Scholarships for Muhammadans are Rs. 10, or Rs. 7 a month, respectively (10 at Rs. 10 and 10 at Rs. 7), and those of special Junior Scholarships for Muhammadans are Rs. 7 a month.

(3) The number of candidates who appeared at the Entrance and F. A. Examinations of the Calcutta University in the year 1889 from the schools or colleges in Bengal, exclusive of private candidates, who are not eligible for scholarships, was 4,761 and 2,099, respectively.

(4) In the year 1889 there were 152 Junior Scholarships, exclusive of 3 special scholarships for females and 20 special scholarships for Muhammadans, and 50 Senior Scholarships, exclusive of 2 special scholarships for girls and 20 special scholarships for Muhammadans. The values of the Junior Scholarships were Rs. 20, Rs. 15 and Rs. 10, and those of the Senior Scholarships Rs. 25 and Rs. 20, respectively. The values of the special scholarships for girls were the same as those of scholarships for boys, while those of special scholarships for Muhammadans were as shown in c (2) above.

(d)–Four Junior Scholarships of the first grade, 6 of the second grade, and 8 of the third grade, of the values of Rs. 16, Rs. 12 and Rs. 8, respectively, previously awarded upon the result of the Entrance Examination, have been transferred to students passing by the B and C standards under the new bifurcation scheme. The number of students who appeared at the recent B and C examinations was 84.

PLACING OF GOVERNMENT COLLEGES UNDER INDIAN PROFESSORS.

The Hon'ble DR. ASUTOSH MUKHOPADHYAYA asked :—

In paragraph 864 of the Bengal Administration Report for 1901-1902, page 313, it is stated that "the policy of Government of placing certain of the Government Colleges entirely under Indian Professors is being gradually carried out."

(a) Will the Government be pleased to state when the policy referred to in the preceding extract was inaugurated, and specify what steps have been taken to give effect to such policy?

(b) Will the Government be pleased to specify the names of the Government Colleges which are now entirely under Indian Professors, and also the names of the Colleges which are intended to be placed under Indian Professors?

(c) Will the Government be pleased to state whether it is intended to include the Presidency College in this category? Will the Government be pleased to state the number of Professors and Lecturers now employed in the Presidency College, and specify how many of these are Indian and how many non-Indian?

(d) In the case of Government Colleges which have already been placed entirely under Indian Professors, will the Government be pleased to state whether it is true that such Indian Professors belong, in the majority of instances, to the Provincial Service, whereas the European Professors whom they have replaced belonged generally to the Imperial Service? Will the Government be pleased to state whether it is true that such employment of Indian Professors has resulted in a substantial saving in the cost of management of such Colleges?

(e) Will the Government be pleased to state whether these Indian Professors, who are on a lower grade and draw a lower salary than the European Professors whom they have replaced, are carrying on educational work with equal efficiency?

The Hon'ble MR. EARLE replied:—

"(a) and (b) The policy of placing certain of the Government Colleges entirely under Indian Professors emanated from a recommendation made by the Public Service Commission in the year 1886-87, to the effect that the English agency employed in the Educational Service should be reduced. This recommendation was, however, qualified by an expression of opinion that there should be, in each Presidency, at least one College with a staff of Professors capable of teaching up to the highest European standards, under a European Principal, and that the same object should, as far as possible, be kept in view as regards the smaller Colleges. In pursuance of this policy, while several officers of the Indian Educational Service have always been attached to the Presidency College, and the Dacca and Patna Colleges have each been provided with a Principal and a Professor belonging to that Service, the Colleges at Hooghly, Krishnagar, Rajshahi, Cuttack and Chittagong, and the Sanskrit College, Calcutta, have usually been manned by officers of the Provincial Educational Service, which consists almost entirely of Indian gentlemen. All the last-named Colleges, with the exception of the Hooghly College, are at present entirely officered by Indian Professors. There is no proposal to increase the number of Colleges which are entirely placed under such Professors.

"(c) As shown above, it is not intended to include the Presidency College in the category of those institutions which are to be placed entirely under Indian Professors. There are at present attached to the Presidency College 15 Indian and 7 European Professors. Owing to the absence, on deputation and leave, of four European Professors from this College, there has recently been some temporary reduction in the number of such officers and a corresponding increase in the number of Indian Professors.

"(d) In the case of Government Colleges, which have been placed entirely under Indian Professors, such Professors usually belong to the Provincial Service. According to present arrangements, however, the Dacca College will shortly be entirely manned by Indian Professors, two of whom will be in the Indian Educational Service. Inasmuch as the rate of pay in the Provincial Service is lower than that which prevailed in the former superior graded service, from which the European Professors were previously drawn, the substitution of Indian for European Professors has resulted in a substantial reduction in the cost of maintaining the Colleges under consideration.

"(e) In order to institute the comparison between the educational work of the Indian Professors and that of the European Professors whom they have replaced, as desired by the Hon'ble Member, it would be necessary to call upon the Director of Public Instruction for a full report. The Lieutenant-Governor is not disposed to take this step."

THE BENGAL SETTLED ESTATES BILL, 1903.

THE Hon'ble MR. BUCKLAND presented the Report of the Select Committee on the Bill to facilitate the family settlement of estates in Bengal.

The Hon'ble the PRESIDENT said:—"Since we last met in this Council Chamber, the Select Committee on the Bill for the family settlement of estates in Bengal have worked with such assiduity that the Hon'ble Mr. Buckland has been able to present to-day their Report on the Bill.

"It will be recollected, however, that on Saturday last I mentioned that there might be certain matters in the Report which might necessitate a reference to the Government of India. I have perused the Report which the Hon'ble Mr. Buckland has just presented, and I find that my expectations have been fulfilled. There are several modifications of importance which the Select Committee have felt themselves obliged to recommend. Therefore, in accordance with the provisions of Rule 7 of the Instructions of the Government of India regarding legislation in Local Councils, I consider it necessary to delay the further progress of this Bill until these matters have been laid before the Government of India and their instructions have been received.

"In these circumstances the Report will not be published at present, and the further consideration of the Bill, to which it refers, will be postponed till some later date."

The Council was adjourned sine die.

Bills introduced into the Council of the Governor General for making Laws and Regulations, or published under Rule 23.

GOVERNMENT OF INDIA.

LEGISLATIVE DEPARTMENT.

The following Bill was introduced in the Council of the Governor General of India for the purpose of making Laws and Regulations on the 28th August, 1903:

NO. 13 OF 1903.

A Bill to amend the Indian Official Secrets Act, 1889.

WHEREAS it is expedient to amend the Indian XV of 1889. Official Secrets Act, 1889; It is hereby enacted as follows:

1. This Act may be called the Indian Official Secrets (Amendment) Act, 1903. Short title.

2. In section 3 of the Indian Official Secrets XV of 1889. Act, 1889, the following alterations shall be made, namely: Amendment of section 3, Act XV, 1889.

(a) in sub-section (1), sub-head (a), for the words "for the purpose of wrongfully obtaining information" the words "without lawful authority or permission (the proof whereof shall be upon him)" shall be substituted;

(b) in clause (ii) of the same sub-section and sub-head,—

(ii) the words "without lawful authority" shall be omitted;

(c) in clause (iii) of the same sub-section and sub-head, the words "without authority given by or on behalf of Her Majesty" shall be omitted; and

(d) in sub-head (c) of the same sub-section and in sub-section (2), for the words "naval or military" the words "naval, military or civil" shall be substituted.

3. For section 5 of the said Act the following sections shall be substituted, namely: Substitution of sections for section 5, Act XV, 1889.

"5. Notwithstanding anything in the Code of Criminal Procedure, 1898, V of 1898. every offence against this Act shall, for the purposes of the said Code, be deemed to be cognizable and non-bailable. Offences under Act cognizable and non-bailable.

"6. (1) Notwithstanding anything contained in section 59 or section 60 of the said Code, any private person or police-officer who has arrested any person on a charge of an offence under section 3, sub-section (1), sub-head (a), and any police-officer to whom any person arrested on any such charge has been made over, may, instead of making over the person so arrested to a police-officer or taking him to the nearest police-station or taking or sending him before a Magistrate having, subject to the provisions of section 7, jurisdiction in the case or before the officer in charge of a police-station, as the case may be, take or send him before the commanding officer for the time being of the nearest military station or such other officer as the Local Government or the Governor General in Council may, by general or special order, direct in this behalf. Procedure after arrest on charge of certain offences punishable under Act.

(2) Where any person has been taken or sent before the commanding or other officer in accordance with sub-section (1), such officer may, if he thinks fit, discharge such person, but, if he does not discharge him, shall, without unnecessary delay, take or send him to the nearest police-station or to any Magistrate having, subject to the provisions of section 7, jurisdiction in the case.

(3) Where any person has been taken or sent to a police-station or to a Magistrate under sub-section (2), the provisions of the Code of Criminal Procedure, 1898, shall, save as otherwise provided by section 7, apply to him as though he had been taken to such police-station or Magistrate without being taken or sent before the officer commanding the station or other officer. V of 1898.

"7. No Magistrate or Court shall proceed to the trial of any person for an offence against this Act except with the consent of the Local Government or the Governor General in Council."

Restriction on trial of offences.

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS.

THE present Bill is designed to remedy certain defects disclosed by experience in the Indian Official Secrets Act, 1889 (XV of 1889), and tending to render it less effective for the objects which it had in view.

Clause 2.—The criminality of the acts specified in section 3 should be made to depend less on the purpose with which they are done—which is hardly susceptible of proof—than on the fact that they are committed "without lawful authority or permission"; the burden of proof as to the grant of such authority or permission being placed on the person charged as a matter especially within his knowledge. It should also be made clear that the section applies to the divulging of secret information connected with the civil administration as well as naval and military affairs, and it is proposed to extend it so as to cover attempts, and further to apply to copies of documents the provisions at present limited to originals.

Clause 5 introduces certain amendments which are necessary to permit of offenders being arrested without delay and to authorise Courts to take preliminary action in cases brought before them in anticipation of Government sanction being obtained to a prosecution. At the same time facilities are introduced by which a person who is arrested may be taken at once before some superior and responsible officer, who will discharge him unless he sees reason for taking the matter into Court.

A Bill to give effect to the Foreign Marriages Order in Council, 1903.

WHEREAS it is expedient to give effect to the Foreign Marriages Order in Council, 1903; It is hereby enacted as follows:

Short title, extent and application.

1. (1) This Act may be called the Indian Foreign Marriage Act, 1903.

2. (1) Notice in writing of a marriage which it is intended to solemnize under the Foreign Marriage Act, 1892, may be given by one of the parties intending such marriage, to—

(a) a Marriage Registrar appointed under the Indian Christian Marriage Act, 1872, where either of such parties is a person professing the Christian religion;

XV of 1872.

(b) a District Magistrate, Chief Presidency Magistrate or Political Agent, where neither of such parties is a person professing the Christian religion:

Provided that the party giving such notice as aforesaid shall have had his usual place of abode for not less than three consecutive weeks immediately preceding the giving of notice within the local limits of the area for which the Marriage Registrar, Magistrate or Political Agent to whom the notice is given, is appointed.

(2) Every notice given under this section shall state—

(a) the name and description of each of the parties intending marriage;

(b) the residence of each of them;

(c) the time during which each of them has dwelt there; and

(d) the place in which the intended marriage is to be solemnized; and it shall contain a declaration by the party giving the notice to the effect that he believes that there is no impediment of kindred or affinity or other lawful hindrance to the solemnization of the said intended marriage.

(3) A copy of every notice given under this section shall be published by being affixed in some conspicuous place in the office of the officer to whom the notice is given.

(4) On the expiration of four clear days after such notice as aforesaid has been published in the manner prescribed by sub-section (3), the officer to whom the notice is given, unless he is aware of any impediment of kindred or affinity or other lawful hindrance to the solemnization of the said intended marriage, shall, on payment of such fee (if any) as the Governor General in Council may fix in this behalf, furnish the party by whom the notice was given, with a certificate, under his hand and seal, to the effect that the notice has been so given and published.

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS.

THE Foreign Marriages Order in Council, 1903, directs that, if a marriage officer proceeding under the Foreign Marriage Act, 1892 (55 & 56 Vict., c. 23), is satisfied that such notice of an intended marriage has been given by a party dwelling in India as may be required by any law of the Governor General in Council giving effect to that Order, such notice shall be sufficient for the purposes of the Statute; and it is further explained that a law of the Indian Legislature shall be deemed to give effect to the Order if it provides—

(1) that notice of a marriage intended to be solemnized under the Statute referred to may be given by one of the parties intending such marriage, who has had his or her usual place of abode for three consecutive weeks immediately preceding in some place in India, to such marriage registrar or other officer as may be designated by the law in this behalf,

(3) that such marriage registrar or other officer, unless he is aware of any impediment or objection which should obstruct the solemnization of the marriage, shall, on payment of such fee, if any, as the law may fix, give a certificate that the said notice has been so given and published as aforesaid.

AUSTRALIA—TORRES STRAIT, WESTERN APPROACHES.

Proudfoot shoal light ship removed.

THE Portmaster, Brisbane, has given notice (No. 7 of 1903) that on and after 31st January 1904, the light exhibited from the Lightship at Proudfoot Shoal, Western Approach to Torres Strait, will be discontinued, and the Lightship will be withdrawn.

The shoal patch of $1\frac{1}{2}$ fathoms marked P.D. on charts south-easterly from the Lightship is believed to be identical with the Bramble Patches. There is no evidence to the contrary, the report of its existence being extremely vague.

Masters of vessels approaching Torres Strait from the westward are recommended to get on the parallel of 10 degrees 45 minutes south before reaching the 20-fathom contour, and continue on that parallel until Booby Island is visible bearing north-easterly, then to steer to pass 2 miles to the north of the Island and thence continue as hitherto.

Vessels bound to the westward after passing Booby Island are recommended to steer south-west magnetic 16 miles, then to steer west half south until a safe direction can be made for their destined port.

NOTE.—Booby Island is visible a distance of 14 or 15 miles; the light (a second order) is visible 17 to 19 miles by night from an ordinary ship's bridge.

No. 1 Leading Beacon and No. 2 Light Beacon will be removed altogether.

In lieu thereof two Beacons showing Green Lights will be placed on the North Bank, one near the present Reflecting Beacon and the other opposite the present No. 1 White Light.

Two Light Beacons (both red) will be placed on the North Bank, which, when in line, will lead through the Cutting to the Bend.

Two Beacons, having White Lights, will be placed on the South Bank, which, when in line, will show the Bend in the Channel.

Sailing Directions.—To enter the River pass the Occulting Buoy at a distance of about 50 feet, and steer between the White Light on a Pile abreast of the old Lighthouse and the first Green Light, which is placed between the Reflecting Beacon and the Cutting, on a N.E. by E. course, passing the second Green Light at a similar distance until the New Lead on the North Bank (now No 1 Lead) comes in line. Keep them in line until the two lights on the South Bank are in line, then steer for No. 3 as before.

RESOLUTION ON THE ADMINISTRATION REPORT OF THE POLICE DEPARTMENT IN BENGAL FOR THE YEAR 1902.

RESOLUTION—No. 2707J.—D.

POLICE.

Dated Darjeeling, the 31st August 1903.

READ—

The Report on the Administration of the Police Department for the year 1902.

Read also—

The Report for the year 1901 and the Resolution of Government recorded thereon.

Mr. W. R. Bright, C.S.I., was in charge of the office of Inspector-General of Police from the 1st January to the 14th April 1902. Mr. A. V. Knyvett officiated as Inspector-General from the 15th April to the 30th April 1902, and again from the 6th December to the end of the year, while for the remainder of the period under review Mr. R. W. Carlyle, C.I.E., the permanent incumbent of the post, was in charge.

2. The total strength of the Police force, officers and men, in 1902, exclusive of the village watch, was 24,742. There was no change in the strength of the superior police staff during the year, but 2 Sub-Inspectors, 6 head-constables, 123 constables, and 1 town chaukidar were added to the subordinate staff. The inadequate strength of the present superior staff is admitted. In consequence of this inadequacy it was, unfortunately, often necessary last year to place Inspectors in charge of districts; and the Inspector-General complains that officers of this class were frequently not available for the investigation of important and difficult cases. The Inspector-General agrees in his predecessor's opinion that the present system by which a certain number of Sub-Inspectors are recruited by open competitive examination has proved a failure. Orissa no longer sends candidates for this examination, as it was found that they were always below the requisite standard, and the Lieutenant-Governor notices that a sufficient number of qualified candidates did not present themselves at the examination held at Patna, and also that the candidates recruited by open competition have often proved unsatisfactory; he is inclined to agree with the Inspector-General that the results of this system have, on the whole, been disappointing. His Honour, however, defers dealing with this question, as with many other questions of police reform, in view of the fact that the conclusions arrived at by the Police Commission will shortly be known. The continued development of the Bhagalpur Training School is a satisfactory feature of the year's work.

3. The discipline of the police force in the year under review has, on the whole, been satisfactory, and in considering the number of charges brought against police officers and the punishments imposed, the figures with regard to total strength should be borne in mind. Cases of police oppression show a slight decrease on the figures of the preceding year. Serious charges of torture have fallen from 18 to 8, and in one case only was a judicial conviction for torture obtained. In 19 cases, charges of extortion were proved, while in over 50 per cent. of the charges under this head, the Courts found the complaint to be groundless. The work and conduct of the police have recently received the fullest examination from the Police Commission; and the Lieutenant-Governor will content himself with saying on the present occasion that while it must be admitted that the Bengal Police too frequently fall short of a reasonable ideal in honesty and thoroughness of work, there has been during his experience in Bengal steady improvement of police administration under all heads. To quicken this improvement must be the earnest care of Government and its officers: the public also can take a part in this amelioration if they will place fewer temptations in the way of the police, and if they will bring cases of misconduct to the notice of the proper authorities, instead of indulging in vague and indiscriminate condemnation. His Honour notices with regret that it was necessary during the year to punish departmentally as many as 20 per cent. of the officers of the force. It is true that this figure compares favourably with 42 per cent. punished in 1893, but the lower figure is still excessive whether it be taken as indicating that the standard of work falls short of what can reasonably be expected or that unduly harsh treatment of subordinates prevails in some districts. The subject of departmental punishments requires the Inspector-General's closest attention, for though they are doubtless often necessary to enforce discipline, nothing is more exasperating to the force or a more fruitful source of discontent than numerous petty punishments.

4. The improvement of the village chaukidars continues. The Inspector-General's remarks as to the manner in which the administration of this force varies from district to district merit attention. In some districts panchayats are appointed for much larger circles than in others; in some districts the Subdivisional Magistrates give more assistance to the District Superintendent of Police, and the District Magistrate in appointing, dismissing, punishing and rewarding chaukidars than elsewhere; and in some districts the assessment of the chaukidari tax on rules prescribed for the guidance of panchayats has been enjoined. The field of work here is almost boundless, and the Lieutenant-Governor commends it again, as it has often been commended before, to the best efforts of the District and Subdivisional Officers and District Superintendents.

Mr. Bourdillon has not failed to notice that much has been recently written in the vernacular press as to the severe incidence of the chaukidari-tax. It is the duty of Magistrates to limit the number of chaukidars to strict requirements, and to take opportunities such as those afforded by vacancies for reducing and amalgamating charges. It is also even more important that the incidence of the tax should be fair; and that the poor, when not exempted altogether, should be taxed as lightly as possible. In this respect the Lieutenant-Governor is forced to admit that the present system is not perfect: much attention has been paid to the subject of late years, and a scrutiny of the chaukidari assessment is one of the matters which is particularly enjoined upon officers when on tour. His Honour has for some time had under consideration a scheme under which a selected Deputy Magistrate should be put on special duty in each Division for the sole purpose of examining into the chaukidari assessments, and he is convinced that much benefit would result from regularising and equalising these assessments.

It is satisfactory to observe that the admonitions of Government with regard to adequately rewarding chaukidars for good services have borne fruit. The total amount of rewards paid to chaukidars has increased from Rs. 55,655 in 1901 to Rs. 62,813, and the total number rewarded has risen from 17,021 to 18,863. There remain some districts in which the orders of Government with reference to rewarding of chaukidars have received insufficient attention; and these districts are also among the districts in which the general results of police work during the year are worst. In the districts of Rangpur and Pabna large balances—Rs. 7,974 and Rs. 8,201, respectively—stood to the credit of the District Chaukidari Reward Fund at the commencement of the year, which at the close of the year had increased to Rs. 10,901 and Rs 9,351 respectively. In both these districts there can be little doubt that the authorities would have been justified in giving rewards to chaukidars more freely; and the attention of the Commissioner of Rajshahi is drawn to the fact that the total of the balances of the chaukidari fund to the credit of the districts in his Division is almost equal to that of any two other Divisions put together. The districts of Midnapore, Murshidabad, and Malda are also remarkable for the small sums distributed in rewards, and it is unsatisfactory to find that, in the district of Murshidabad, out of 2,942 chaukidars, only 25 were departmentally rewarded. It can hardly be that in all the districts named the work of the chaukidars has been so consistently undeserving as the figures would seem to show, and Mr. Bourdillon desires once more to remind District Officers that judicious rewards afford as potent a stimulus to good work as rigorous punishments, and that these two incentives must be employed together.

5. Turning to examine the statistics of crime in 1902, the Lieutenant-Governor observes that 177,635 cognizable offences were reported, or 1,311 fewer than in the preceding year. The percentage of convictions shows an increase.

An increase in the number of offences against property is attributed by the Inspector-General to better reporting, which has been the result of a large increase in refusals to investigate in petty cases. The percentage of refusal to investigate has risen in house-breaking cases from 20·5 to 35·2, and in theft cases from 14·1 to 20. The late Lieutenant-Governor attached much importance to lightening the labours of an overburdened investigating staff by excusing them from the task of taking up cases of theft and house-breaking without theft in which no offender is named or suspected. Mr. Bourdillon fully shares this view, though he considers that the working of section 157 of the Code of Criminal Procedure requires close and incessant scrutiny.

Considerable variation is observable in the figures with regard to enquiries refused when examined Division by Division. The percentage of refusals varies, in house-breaking cases, from 22·1 in the Orissa Division to 41·5 in the Bhagalpur Division; in theft cases from 6·8 in the Patna Division to 40·2 in the Orissa Division. No explanation of the variations has been suggested. The Lieutenant-Governor has no wish to lay down any numerical standard; but it appears to him that a much greater approach to a normal standard is both possible and desirable.

6. The number of cases declared to be maliciously false has fallen from 5,190 to 4,671. The figures under this head show a progressive and steady decrease during the last 20 years. The Inspector-General thinks that Magistrates are becoming more reluctant to declare a case maliciously false on account of the long and tedious proceedings which are likely to result from such a course, but His Honour trusts that the desire to avoid trouble will not prevent Magistrates from doing their obvious duty by denouncing such cases when they really occur, and thus indirectly protecting innocent persons from the danger of a false charge. Prosecutions were instituted in 551 cases declared maliciously false (13 per cent. of the total number); and the results cannot be called satisfactory, as only 204 convictions were obtained. The number of occasions on which recourse was had to section 250, Criminal Procedure Code, by which compensation can be awarded to an accused dragged before the Court on a false or vexatious and frivolous charge, fell from 541 to 476. His Honour trusts that the provisions of this most salutary section will not be overlooked, and that Magistrates will not hesitate to avail themselves of the power thus given to them of checking the harrassment of innocent persons.

7. The number of cases tried by Courts of Sessions was 1,422, and the percentage of convictions was very nearly the same as in 1901, being 70·1 as against 71·9. It is noticed that the results of Sessions trials were unsatisfactory in Bankura, Pabna, Bogra, Faridpur, and Rangpur, where the percentage of convictions was in all cases below 40 per cent. The Inspector-General suggests that an examination of the results of Sessions trials should be omitted from future reports, as it is impossible, in his opinion, to discuss them satisfactorily without touching on matters which should not be introduced into reports which are made public. The Lieutenant-Governor cannot agree, however, in the view that the results of Sessions trials should pass unscrutinized in a report of this character. It is by the results of their efforts to cope with heinous crime that the police must mainly be judged, and Government has the best opportunity of forming this judgment from observation of the judicial results of Sessions trials. While agreeing with Mr. Carlyle that any comments on the manner in which such cases are tried would be out of place in a police report, His Honour will be glad if the Inspector-General will separately analyse in some detail the very unfavourable results in the districts named above in order that it may be seen whether bad police work was responsible for the frequent failures in cases prosecuted before the Sessions Courts. It is to be noticed that four of these districts—Rangpur, Bogra, Pabna, and Faridpur—are adjacent one to another. His Honour requests that the Inspector-General of Police and the district authorities will give specially careful supervision to police investigations in cases of heinous crime in these districts.

8. In examining the detailed heads of the crime of the year, an undesirable increase in the number of true cases, relating to coins, stamps, and currency notes, is observable. A case from the Khulna district, mentioned by the Inspector-General, in which 125 counterfeit coins were produced, appears to show that coining on a considerable scale is going on in the Sundarbans. The careful attention of Police officers should be given to crimes of this nature, which, in the present state of the silver market, must be extremely profitable, and which might become a serious danger.

It is gratifying to notice that riots continue to decrease. True cases of rioting and unlawful assembly were fewer than in any previous year since 1884. The diminishing figures for the Backergunge district, in which last year there was no riot attended with loss of life, are especially satisfactory. The Presidency Division has now taken the place formerly held by the Dacca Division, and holds the unenviable pre-eminence of having the largest number of rioting cases. The diminution of cases under section 107, Criminal Procedure Code, in the Faridpur district may have led to an increase in the number of riots in that district. The more sparing use of this section in some districts is alleged to be the result of a High Court ruling bearing on the application of section 107, Criminal Procedure Code, in land disputes. The total number of cases under this section instituted in the Province, however, in 1902 largely exceeded the figures of previous years, being 3,190 as against 2,639 of the preceding year, chiefly owing to a large increase in the Dacca Division.

9. Crimes of violence against the person showed a small decrease. The very unsuccessful results attending the investigation of murders by poisoning are an unsatisfactory feature in this class of crime; 25 persons out of 30 who were sent up on such charges were acquitted.

The steady increase of cases of administering stupefying drugs with the intention of causing hurt is noticeable. These cases have increased since 1899, when there were 21 cases, to 34 cases in the year under review. This increase may possibly be due to better reporting, but the attention of the police force is required to the fact that offences of this nature are often perpetrated by professional criminals, and, unless checked with a strong hand, they may lead to gangs of professional poisoners being formed in Bengal, as has been the case in other Provinces.

10. There has been a large decrease in the total number of burglaries reported in the Province. This decrease is due, in a very large measure, to the smaller figures for the Patna Division, and is especially to be traced to the district of Gaya, where it is to be feared that bad reporting, rather than a real decrease in crime, is the explanation. A considerable increase in the Dacca Division, accounted for by the returns from the district of Mymensingh, is disclosed. From the report it appears that the Inspector-General is making special enquiries as to the causes of the increase in this district.

Remarkable figures are reported from the district of Monghyr, which has no large city like Patna to swell its returns of burglaries. In this district no fewer than 2,133 burglaries were reported as against 1,164 in the 24-Parganas, 1,160 in Bhagalpur (an adjoining district), and 491 in Cuttack, all of which are districts of approximately the same population and area. Out of this enormous number of cases in Monghyr only 72 were prosecuted to conviction. It is evident that the strenuous efforts of the district authorities are necessary to deal with this class of crime, and the preventive sections of the Criminal Procedure Code should be vigorously employed. The Lieutenant-Governor is inclined to think that these sections may have been somewhat neglected in the past, for in the districts of Mymensingh and Patna, the only two districts where burglary returns approximate to those of Monghyr, 148 and 335 bad-livelihood prosecutions were instituted as against 79 in the district of Monghyr.

11. The number of cases dealt with by the Railway Police increased from 5,952 to 6,777. This increase is mainly due to the returns from the East Indian Railway under the head of minor offences against property. There can be little doubt that better reporting accounts for these results. In view of the frequent complaints of persons sending goods by railway, that consignments, especially of perishable articles, are tampered with, special attention has been paid to the investigation of cases where goods were reported to be missing. No fewer than 259 of such cases turned out on investigation to be cases of theft. The work of the Railway Police shows marks of distinct progress in the year under review, and His Honour has much pleasure in reading the favourable remarks of the Inspector-General on the work of Mr. Fasson, the Assistant Inspector-General at Howrah.

12. The number of bad-livelihood cases instituted has fallen from 3,782 in 1901 to 3,432, but prosecutions have been more successful, and an improvement has taken place in the number of cases under this section, which have been tried locally. In the districts of Birbhum and Puri, which had respectively only 4 and 5 cases, this section appears to have been used very sparingly. It is probable that these figures indicate apathy on the part of the district police, more especially as there appears to be no lack of offences against property in either district. Last year the Lieutenant-Governor drew attention to the extraordinary discrepancy between the Divisional figures showing the proportions of persons who furnish security under this section and those who are unable to do so. This discrepancy is as marked as ever. In the Patna Division 753 cases ended in conviction, and in 705 cases either no security was offered, or, if offered, was refused. In the Bhagalpur Division 340 persons were called upon to give security, and all without exception failed to furnish it. In the Presidency Division 280 cases resulted in conviction, and the security of 63 persons was accepted. It is no doubt the case that in the districts of Bihar many persons belonging to wandering tribes are dealt with under this section; but making due allowance for this fact, these figures prove the need of careful scrutiny by District Magistrates of the cases in which security is offered but refused.

13. The number of remands granted by the Courts in the disposal of police cases shows an unsatisfactory increase. The percentage of cases disposed of at the first two hearings has fallen steadily during the last four years from 54·6 in 1899, 53·3 in 1900, 49·2 in 1901 to 48·6 in the year under review; and in 8·4 per cent. of the total disposals six or more remands were granted. The Lieutenant-Governor is disposed to attach more importance to the scrutiny of delays in the disposal of cases where remands are large in number than to merely considering the cases where there are more than two remands; for in many border districts it is often impossible to trace the antecedents of the accused by the date on which the case is submitted for trial, and in such circumstances remands are unavoidable. This probably explains the low percentage of disposals in two hearings in the districts of Shahabad and Saran. His Honour, however, on consideration of all these figures, and after making all due allowance for local circumstances, is constrained to say that he detects a growing tendency for Courts to be more and more dilatory in the disposal of police cases. This is a matter that appears to him of vital importance, and the tendency must be rigidly repressed. Undue delay in the disposal of police cases is a matter which paralyses the administration of criminal justice. It is unfair to the accused, it unduly hampers the police in the execution of their duty, it harasses the complainant, and inflicts a grievous wrong upon the witnesses, who, often with no personal concern in the case, find themselves withdrawn day after day from their normal avocations; in an agricultural country such interruptions of the daily task are ruinous. In this connection it is lamentable to observe that in the district of Monghyr out of 781 A forms, no fewer than 102 were remanded more than six times. These figures are so much worse than those of the remaining districts of the Province that special enquiries must be made as to the cause of such excessive delay in the disposal of police cases in this district. On the other hand, Mr. Bourdillon observes that in the district of the 24-Parganas, out of 1,435 A forms, only 25 were remanded more than six times. It does not appear at all likely that the disposal of cases in the 24-Parganas is more easy or less subject to delays than in the district of Monghyr.

14. The percentage of reconvictions (13·1) is the highest on record. It is evident that old offenders, owing to the finger-impression system, have now much less chance of escaping detection. The district of Darbhanga exhibits an extraordinarily small percentage of reconvictions as compared with the other districts of the Patna Division. The Inspector-General does not comment on the figures for this district, but there is no ground for believing that old offenders habitually refrained from committing crime in Darbhanga; nor is the amount of professional or semi-professional crime small in this district. For these reasons it would seem advisable that special care should be taken in scrutinizing the work of the Darbhanga police in respect of the ascertainment and verification of the antecedents of offenders.

15. An unsatisfactory feature of the working of the police is the increase in the number of absconders entered on the police registers. There is an increase for the whole Province from 2,979 to 3,184, and the results in certain districts are particularly bad. In Dacca alone 339 persons are borne on this register. There can be no greater encouragement to the criminal classes, no more unsettling factor in district police work, and no clearer indication of inefficiency than the existence of a large number of absconding accused whom the police are either unable or unwilling to arrest.

16. The Lieutenant-Governor thanks Mr. Carlyle and Mr. Knyvett for their zealous and efficient administration of the Police Department, and his acknowledgments are also due to Mr. Carlyle for a concise and careful report.

ORDER.—Ordered that copies of this Resolution be forwarded to the Inspector-General of Police, the Commissioner of Police, Calcutta, and all Commissioners of Divisions for information.

Ordered also that the Resolution be published in the Calcutta Gazette.

By order of the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal,

W. C. MACPHERSON,

Offg. Chief Secy. to the Govt. of Bengal.

WORKING OF THE BENGAL LICENSED WAREHOUSE AND FIRE-BRIGADE ACT IN THE COSSIPORE-CHITPUR, MANIKTALA, AND GARDEN REACH MUNICIPALITIES DURING THE YEAR ENDING THE 31ST MARCH 1903.

No. 84M., dated Calcutta, the 22nd July 1903.

From—P. C. Lyon, Esq., Offg. Commissioner of the Presidency Division,
To—The Secretary to the Government of Bengal, Municipal Department.

With reference to the orders of Government, No. 1810M., dated the 8th July 1903, I have the honour to submit herewith copies of the reports on the working of the Bengal Licensed Warehouse and Fire-Brigade Act, I of 1893, for the year ending 31st March 1903, in the Cossipore-Chitpur, Maniktala, and Garden Reach Municipalities, as received from the Chairmen of those Municipalities.

No. 1262M., dated Alipore, the 15th July 1903.

From—C. J. Stevenson-Moore, Esq., c.s., Magistrate of the 24-Parganas,
To—The Commissioner of the Presidency Division.

With reference to your letter No. 159M., dated the 6th July 1903, calling for submission of the report on the working of the Bengal Licensed Warehouse and Fire-Brigade Act for the year 1902-1903, I have the honour to submit herewith copies of the reports, together with copies of necessary statements, as received from the Chairmen of the Cossipore-Chipur, Maniktala, and Garden Reach Municipalities.

No. 141,G.M., dated Garden Reach, the 9th July 1903.

From—The Chairman, Garden Reach Municipality,
To—The Magistrate of the 24-Parganas.

With reference to your circular memorandum No. 28M., dated the 7th instant, I have the honour to submit the following report on the working of the Bengal Licensed Warehouse and Fire-Brigade Act in this Municipality for the year 1902-1903.

2. The annexed statement will show the number of warehouses within the Municipality and the amount of fees received from them during 1902-1903. The Municipality contributed Rs. 416 towards the maintenance of the Metropolitan Fire-Brigade. The amount of fees levied was not equal to the amount of the contribution made, owing to the fact that some of the wood depôts ceased to exist, and that Messrs. Macneill & Co. paid six months' fees in respect of the two jute godowns for 1902-1903 in advance during 1901-1902.

3. No fire was reported to have broken out during the year under report.

No. 368., dated Narikeldanga, the 10th July 1903.

From—R. D. Mehta, Esq., C.I.E., Chairman, Maniktala Municipality,
To—The Magistrate of the 24-Parganas.

With reference to your circular memorandum No. 28M., dated 7th July current, forwarding copy of Divisional Commissioner's letter No. 159M. of the 6th idem, calling for a report on the working of the Bengal Licensed Warehouse and Fire-Brigade Act for the year 1902-1903, have the honour to submit as follows.

1. The Fire-Brigade Budget for the year under report was prepared by the Commissioner of Police under section 26 (1) of the Act I of 1893, and, so far as it related to this Municipality, was accepted by the Commissioners at their meeting held on the 21st February 1902.

2. The proportionate share of contribution at 1 per cent. of the estimated amount of Rs. 83,295 towards the maintenance of the Fire-Brigade establishment for the year 1902-1903, viz., Rs. 833, was paid in two instalments. The total amount realised as fees from the warehouses under the Act was Rs. 1,559-14-6, against Rs. 1,428-7-6 of the preceding year. The increase of Rs. 131-7 was due to certain trades of description other than jute warehouses, such as depôts of durmah mats, fire-wood, etc., having newly opened during the year under report.

3. Licenses for 9 jute warehouses and 89 trades in other inflammable materials, such as firewood, hay, straw, golpatta, packing-case depôts, saw-mills, etc., were issued during the year under report, against 9 and 81 of the preceding year.

4. License fees on jute warehouses were levied at 4 and 6 per cent. on the annual value of holdings as assessed for municipal taxes, and at 10 per cent. on trades of other descriptions mentioned above.

5. All the owners of the warehouses paid their license fees in due time, except five whose names as defaulters had been sent to the Commissioner of Police, as asked for in his letter No. 2070, dated 27th February 1903.

6. The jute godowns and firewood, packing-case depôts, etc., are mostly situated near the Circular Canal, which forms the western boundary of this Municipality. The Surah Jute Mills are the only mill, within the Municipality for the manufacture of gunny-bags, situated on the north side of Narikeldanga main road.

7. I am happy to report that no conflagration took place within the Municipality during the year under report, and the assistance of the Fire-Brigade was not required.

No. 879, dated Talla, the 10th July 1903.

From—Babu Benode Bihari Mukherjee, Chairman, Cossipore-Chitpur Municipality, ANNUAL REPORT ON THE GOVERNMENT CINCHONA PLANTATION AND FACTORY IN BENGAL, FOR THE YEAR 1902-1903.

The 2nd September 1903.—The following extracts from the Annual Report on the Government Cinchona Plantation and Factory in Bengal for the year 1902-1903, are published for general information.

L. P. SHIRRES,
Secy. to the Govt. of Bengal.

No. 2056—54C., dated Royal Botanic Garden, Sibpur, the 13th July 1903.

FROM—MAJOR D. PRAIN, M.B., I.M.S., Superintendent, Royal Botanic Garden, Calcutta, and of Cinchona Cultivation in Bengal, and Government Quinologist,

To—The Secretary to the Government of Bengal, Financial Department.

I HAVE the honour to submit the report of the Cinchona Plantation and Factory for the official year 1902-1903.

Forty-first Annual Report of the Government Cinchona Plantation in Sikkim, being that for the financial year 1902-1903, and also the Report of the Factory for the same year, by MAJOR D. PRAIN, I.M.S., Superintendent of Cinchona Cultivation in Bengal, and Government Quinologist.

1. Weather and general.—The rainfall during the year was much above the normal; 171·46 inches as against an average of 122·62 for the preceding 28 years. The heaviest fall occurred on 27th September 1902 when 14·7 inches were measured. Although the total was so much greater than during the year 1901-1902 when only 92·69 inches fell, and exceeded the fall registered in any of the preceding 28 years, there was little damage done by landslides on the plantation. Munsong, the new extension in the Dumsong forest, shared in the excessive rainfall, there 106·54 inches fell, as against 88·42 in 1901-1902. The heaviest fall at Munsong, 8·83 inches, also occurred on 27th September 1902.

2. Plantation and crop.—The number of plants put out during the year was 458,927. These included 402,343 Ledgeriana, 26,459 Succirubra, 29,360 Hybrid No. I, and 765 Hybrid No. II.

The area planted at the head-quarters plantation (Mungpoo and Sittong) was 91·06 acres; here 160,867 Ledgeriana plants, all the Succirubra and all the Hybrid No. I plants were put out. At Munsong 89·1 acres were planted with 241,376 Ledgeriana and all the Hybrid No. II plants.

The nursery stock of seedlings on 31st March 1903 was 155,328. The stock included 8,000 more Hybrid No. I, 2,500 more Succirubra, and 123,386 more Ledgeriana, but 58 fewer Hybrid No. II seedlings than were in the lines on 31st March 1903, indicating that about 134,000 more plants had to be put out after 1st April 1903 than was the case at the same date in the preceding year. The delayed planting season which these figures indicate was due to the severe and continued drought that began in October 1902 and had not broken at the close of the year under review.

The total number of living trees of all kinds in the permanent plantations on 31st March 1903 was 3,015,600. Of these 1,977,315 were at Mungpoo (including Rungloo and Labdah) and 208,331 were at Sittong. At Munsong, in the Dumsong Forest, there were 829,954. The trees included 2,.08,656 Ledgeriana, 256,711 Succirubra, 2,130 Officinalis, 439,003 Hybrid No. I and 8,200 Hybrid No. II. The increase as compared with 31st March 1902 was 252,314.

Planting at Munsong, notwithstanding the unusual drought, has been more successful than during 1901-1902. The unfavourable planting conditions have, however, prevented the complete fulfilment of the year's programme prior to 31st March 1903, since only 89·1 acres out of 100 acres prepared for planting had been put out at the close of the year. This will, of course, be recorded as completed in the opening months of 1903-1904. But the dryness of the planting season has made it further impossible to overtake entirely the filling up of the vacancies due to the casualties explained in last annual report. After a close personal examination of the extensions and careful discussion with the Deputy Superintendent of this subject in all its bearings we are agreed that in the interests of the extension the programme of work for 1903-1904 must be modified slightly. Instead of attempting to put out the full extension of 100 acres for that year, it will be necessary to be contented with a smaller area and devote the seedlings which otherwise would have filled the complete extension to the replacement of the 1901-1902 vacancies. The factor which renders this decision essential is the labour one; this, as regards Munsong, is not capable of temporary modification.

During the year 600 maunds of bone meal at the rate of 10 maunds per acre were applied to other sixty acres of 4-year old cinchona. The application of this manure is now beginning to show its effects on the plants previously so treated, their foliage being decidedly more abundant and healthy looking; their stock of fresh surface-feeding roots more plentiful; and their growth, except in trees already diseased, more vigorous. The results are such as to amply justify an increase in future of the quantity of bone-manure applied, and an extension of the acreage annually so treated. The method of deep trenching and more intensive cultivation systematically adopted during the past few years is now showing its full effects in a diminished mortality among the young cinchonas and a marked decrease in the amount of canker present in the extensions, and great credit is due to the Deputy Superintendent, Mr. Pantling, for the care and energy with which he has carried out this improved method of cultivation. Early planting, in years when it can be carried out, appears entitled to credit for a share in this improvement. Unfortunately, however, early planting is not always possible and has its own special risks which are however, on the whole, well worth incurring. Grafting experiments have been continued by Mr. Green, Nursery Assistant, with hopeful results.

The crop taken from the plantation during the year has been 235,605lbs. of dry bark. From Mungpoo the quantity taken was 209,219lbs.; from Sittong, 25,781 lbs.; 605 lbs. were also taken from thinnings at Munsong. The crop has been composed of 140,669 lbs. Ledgeriana, 12,580 lbs. Succirubra, and 82,356 lbs. Hybrid No. I. The whole of the bark thus harvested has been made over as usual to the Quinologist.

3. Factory and Outturn.—Work in the factory has gone on throughout the year without accident or delay. The systematic examination of the arrangement and method of working in connection with the separation of quinine has now been completed and the renewals and additions to factory plant mark the close, for the present, of this stage of enquiry and improvement, for carrying out which great credit is due to Mr. R. Pantling, Deputy Superintendent of the Plantation. Considerable advance has been made with the next stage of the enquiry which will incidentally involve a recasting of the methods adopted for the preparation of cinchona febrifuge.

The raw material worked up during the year included 392,250lbs of Ledgeriana, Hybrid No. I, and Officinalis bark which provided 11,927¼lbs. sulphate of quinine, the average yield being 3·04 per cent., the residual alkaloids left over in the process, accounted for during the year, amounted to 3,516 lbs. In addition to the foregoing quantity of bark 84,800 lbs. of mixed Succirubra and Hybrid bark, to which 3,036 lbs. of residual alkaloids were added, yielded 4,343 lbs. of cinchona febrifuge. The total outturn of manufactured products for the year has thus been 16,275 lbs. 4 oz., an increase as compared with the previous year of 2,840 lbs. 8 oz. This increased quantity included 1,916 lbs. 8 oz. of sulphate of quinine and 924 lbs. of cinchona febrifuge.

4. General charges.—The charges debitable against the department as a whole have amounted to Rs. 21,604-6-9 as against Rs. 25,632-7-11. These charges include pay of clerical and menial establishment Rs. 4,962-10-3; postal and telegraph charges Rs. 507; advertising manufactured articles Rs. 680; and taxes (road and public works cesses) Rs. 1,475. They include, besides, the expenditure incurred in adding to factory plant and appliances; the charges under this heading amounted to Rs. 3,908-2-9. Besides the above, Rs. 1,000 were expended in constructing a new road to the Sonada station of the Darjeeling-Himalayan Railway.

5. Plantation charges.—The charges debitable against the plantation have been Rs. 85,285-12-4 as against Rs. 73,126-13-6 for 1901-1902. The increased expenditure has been mainly on labour utilized in more effective and thorough cultivation. Against this outlay has to be placed the harvest, 235,605 lbs. of dry bark obtained during the year.

6. Factory charges.—The expenditure incurred in connection with the factory was Rs. 86,429-4-4. Of this sum Rs. 38,000 represents the purchase money and Rs. 1,557-12-2, the cost of carriage to the factory of 84,301 lbs. 12 oz. of cinchona bark acquired from private growers; the actual working expenses of the factory for the year were therefore Rs. 46,871-8-2 being Rs. 39,903-0-2 incurred in the manufacture of sulphate of quinine and Rs. 6,968-8 for the manufacture of cinchona febrifuge.

In order to produce 11,927 lbs. 4 oz. of sulphate of quinine, 205,348 lbs. of Ledgeriana bark, 46,368 lbs. of Hybrid No. I bark, and 70,570 lbs. 8 oz. of Officinalis bark from the stock held on April 1st, 1902 were used. The value of this bark was Rs. 46,602-5-2. In addition 69,957 lbs. 8 oz. of Officinalis bark purchased during the year for Rs. 31,918-1-9 were employed. The total value of bark used was thus Rs. 78,520-6-11. Of the residual alkaloids left as a bye-product in the manufacture of quinine 3,036 lbs. treated along with 84,800 lbs. of Succirubra and Hybrid No. I bark provided 4,343 lbs. of cinchona febrifuge. The value of the bark used was Rs. 7,047-6-4; of the residual alkaloids Rs. 2,877-14.

7. Issues of manufactured articles.—The issues of sulphate of quinine for the year amounted to 10,950 lbs. 5 oz., an increase of 1,157 lbs. 2 oz., as compared with 1901-1902. There was an increased demand for 800 lbs. on the part of Medical Depôts, for 523 lbs. 2 oz. in connection with pice-packet system and for 46 lbs. on the part of the Inspector-General of Jails, Bengal, but a decrease of 213 lbs. 10½ oz. on the part of Government dispensaries.

The issues of chinchona febrifuge for the year amounted to 4,505 lbs. 12 oz., an increase of 835 lbs. 8 oz., as compared with 1901-1902. There was an increase in the demand on the part of the public generally of 329 lbs., the Principal Veterinary Surgeon, South Africa, received 500 lbs., as compared with 300 lbs. in the preceding year.

8. Receipts.—The receipts for the year have amounted to Rs. 2,11,784 8-4, as compared with Rs. 1,91,922-5-2 for the preceding year. Cash receipts have amounted to Rs. 81,438-11 and include, besides the receipts for manufactured articles (quinine Rs. 47,088-15 and cinchona febrifuge Rs. 32,441-8), the sum of Rs. 1,799-7 as receipts for crude products (bark Rs. 269-7, seed Rs. 190, and residual alkaloids Rs. 1,340) and the sum of Rs. 108-13 as receipts for miscellaneous articles (empty soda-drums, old gunny-bags, &c). The book credits for the year amounted to Rs. 1,30,345-13-4 and have included Rs. 36,670-8 for issues in connection with the pice-packet system, with an additional credit as regards Bengal, reported by the Accountant-General, Bengal of Rs. 6,403-15-3; Rs. 85,783-5-4 for issues to Medical Depôts; Rs. 400 for issues to the Inspector-General of Civil Hospitals, Bengal; Rs. 2,452 for issues to the Inspector-General of Jails, Bengal; Rs. 5,000 for issues to the Principal, Veterinary Surgeon, Cape Town; and Rs. 90 for issues to the Colonial Secretary, Sierra Leone. The outstandings representing cash issues made during the last few days of the financial year, the transactions in connection with which were not completed on 31st March 1903, amounted to Rs. 5,709-4. It has been necessary, under the advice of the Government Solicitor, to write off as a bad debt Rs. 24 of the outstandings on 31st March 1902; the remainder of the outstandings at that date were recovered in due course.

9. Stock account.—The manufactured articles in stock on 31st March 1902 consisted of 3,924 lbs. 14 oz. of Sulphate of Quinine and 2,377 lbs. of Cinchona Febrifuge; their respective values were: Quinine Rs. 59,023-2 and Febrifuge Rs. 23,770, these sums representing the average price at which stock of similar quality was sold during the year. Raw material and unmanufactured products included 230 lbs. of residual (amorphous) alkaloids in stock at Calcutta, valued at Rs. 218-0-4 and 1,238,903 lbs. 15 oz of dry Cinchona bark, valued at Rs. 2,32,527-3-6. The value of stores in stock was Rs. 1,989-10-8, consisting of oils Rs. 1,071-0-6, chemicals, Rs. 577-14-5, sundries (charcoal for purification) Rs. 340-2-9.

* * * * *

10. Balance sheet—* * * * As directed by the Government of India the stocks of Bark, Quinine, and Febrifuge are valued at the average price at which stock of similar quality was sold during the year. This involves an enhancement of the stocks held at the close of the year by Rs. 1,20,771-12-7; at the same time, as directed by the Government of India, non-recurrent general charges, which amounted for the year to Rs. 4,908-2-9, are excluded from the debit side of this account. The balance on this account is thus Rs. 1,74,088-4-6. Excluding this enhancement in the value of the stock, which is due mainly to a different method of calculation, and allowing for the non-recurrent charges, the net surplus for the year amounts to Rs. 48,408-5-2.

11. Sale of Quinine at Post Offices.—The quantity of quinine issued to the Jail Department during 1902-1903 was 2,529 lbs., being 518 lbs. in excess of the supply during 1901-1902, but still nearly 1,000 lbs. below the quantity issued for this purpose during 1900-1901. This falling off proves, on enquiry, to be due to the diminished prevalence of malaria in the Lower Provinces and Assam.

12. Miscellaneous—(a) Fuel Plantation.—Fifteen acres of the Khasia Oak plantation were coppiced during the year. The yield was 27,603 maunds or 1,840 maunds per acre; of this, 24,103 maunds consist of oak fellings or 1,606 maunds per acre of firewood of the highest quality. The eight acres coppiced during the previous year have produced a healthy growth and all vacancies have been filled up.

(b) Land Rent.—The revenue collected from settlers within the Cinchona reserves for grazing and land rent amounted to Rs. 3,429-1-6, being Rs. 117-10-3 less than the previous year's revenue. This sum was, according to custom, paid into the treasury at Darjeeling, no credit being taken for it in the accounts of the Cinchona Department.

The mean pressure, temperature, etc., are deduced from the traces of the Barograph and Thermograph, and from eye observations.

The maximum and minimum temperatures are obtained from self-registering thermometers. All the thermometers are verified and the readings have been corrected to a standard constructed and verified at the Kew Observatory. They are exposed under a thatched shed open at the sides, and are suspended four feet above the ground.

The barometer readings are corrected approximately to those of the standard, Newman's No. 86 formerly at the Surveyor-General's Office.

The hygrometric elements are obtained from Tables III, IV and V of the official tables computed in the Meteorological Office, and based on Regnault's modifications of August's formula.

The directions and the movement of the wind are taken from the trace of a Beckley's anemograph.

The mouth of the rain-gauge is one foot above the ground. Rainfall reported on any day is for the 24 hours preceding 8 A. M. of that day.

o, overcast; p, passing temporary showers; d, drizzling rain; t, thunder.

No. 2093T.R.—The 12th September 1903.—The Lieutenant-Governor is pleased to direct that, with effect from the 1st April 1904, the following revised rules shall be substituted for those published at pages 1015-1031, Part I of the Calcutta Gazette of the 7th October 1896 with the Government Notification No 3946L R., dated the 6th idem, on the subject of the payment of land revenue and cesses by means of postal money-orders.

RULES RELATING TO REVENUE MONEY-ORDERS.

1. These rules are divided into four parts :—

PART I.—Form of Revenue Money-order.
PART II.—Issue of Revenue Money-orders.
PART III.—Payment of Revenue Money-orders.
Section A.—Payment from Disbursing Offices at the Head-quarters of Districts.
Section B.—Procedure to followed in the Collectorate.
PART IV.—Disposal of Acknowledgments.

2. The forms in use are given in Appendix D.

PART I.

THE FORM OF REVENUE MONEY-ORDERS.

The form.

1. There are two forms of Revenue Money-order, viz., Form $\frac{1}{R.M.O.}$ on white paper for land revenue and zamindar dâk cess, and form $\frac{1A}{R.M.O.}$ on pink paper, for Road and Public Works cesses. Each of these forms is divided into four parts, viz. :—

(a) The Money-order.
(b) Lower portion of Money-order, or the Receipt.
(c) The Coupon or Chalan.
(d) The acknowledgment.

2. Parts (a) and (b) require no description, as they are exactly like the corresponding portions of the ordinary Inland Money-order form. Parts (c) and (d) are considerably larger than the Coupon and Acknowledgment of an ordinary Money-order. Part (c) contains on one side all the particulars required by the Treasury, and on the reverse instructions for remitters of Revenue Money-orders. Part (d) is on one side a duplicate of the Chalan and is returned to the remitter as his receipt; on the reverse of this part are the remitter's name and address.

Not to be used for any other purposes.

3. From $\frac{1}{R.M.O.}$ is to be used for remittances of land revenue and zamindari dak cess and Form $\frac{1A}{R.M.O.}$ for remittances of Road and Public Works cesses, and for no other purpose.

To be freely distributed.

4. The forms of Revenue Money-order should be freely distributed among the revenue-paying classes, and no restrictions whatever should be placed in the way of zamindars obtaining these forms.

Supply of forms.

5. Every Postmaster, Sub-Postmaster, and Branch Postmaster will be personally responsible that a sufficient supply of Revenue Money-order forms of each kind is always available in his office. In cases of emergency, supplies may be obtained by telegraph direct from the Stock Depôt of the Circle. Divisional Superintendents and Inspectors, when visiting post-offices, will see that a sufficient supply of Revenue Money-order forms of each kind is available, and mention in their diaries and inspection reports that they have done so.

5A. The Revenue Money-order system does not apply to remittances of revenue payable to any Native State. Such remittances should be made by the ordinary Money-order form and be dealt with under the ordinary rules for Money-orders.

PART II.

ISSUE OF REVENUE MONEY-ORDERS

Issue of Revenue Money-orders.

6. Revenue Money-orders are issued from every Head, Sub, and Branch Post-office under the rules which govern the issue of ordinary Inland Money-orders. The following paragraphs contain additional instructions, which relate solely to the issue of Revenue Money-orders Limit of amount.

7. The rules in the Postal Guide fixing the limit of value of a single ordinary Inland Money-order apply to Revenue Money-orders. The rule prohibiting the inclusion of pies (fractions of an anna) in the amount of a money-order is not applicable to Revenue Money-orders, which may be for amounts including any fraction of an anna not less than one pie.

Office of Issue to help remitter in making entries.

8. The Office of Issue will help the remitter in making the requisite entries, and, if necessary, will make entries for him in the form of a Revenue Money-order, but no fee or any other gratification whatsoever is to be demanded or accepted, either directly or indirectly, by any official of the Postal Department for this service. Disregard of this order will be punished by dismissal of the official in fault, who will, moreover, be liable to any further penalties provided by law. If, notwithstanding, the assistance thus offered, the remitter is unable to fill up the entries himself or to give the information necessary for the purpose, the Money-order should be returned to him and should not be issued by the Post-office, till the information is complete.

Note.—Remitters should also be advised to allow ample time for their Revenue Money-orders for land revenue to reach the Treasury before kist day, as the acceptance of a Revenue Money-order after kist day does not exempt an estate from sale, except as permitted by the rules applicable to personal payment of land revenue after kist day.

Responsibilities of the Office of Issue.

9. The Office of Issue is responsible that no Revenue Money-order is issued of which the Coupon (Chalan) is blank or is not completely filled up. The Post-office has no means of ascertaining the correctness of the information supplied by a remitter; all that it is necessary to see is that entries are made against every printed item in the Coupon (Chalan), that these entries are made against the appropriate printed items, that all the items are understood by the remitter, and that the Money-order is not for a larger sum than is allowed by the rules for ordinary Inland Money-orders. The spaces in the Acknowledgment and Chalan for the entry of interest, penalty and expenses (kharcha) are intended to meet the requirements of remitters who are in arrears as regards the payment of their cesses, and have incurred liabilities for interest, penalty, process fees, or other costs of proceedings. Every alteration or correction in the Money-order must be attested by the initials of the remitter.

Distinguishing of Revenue Money-orders.

10. The letter "R" should be written before the number of every Revenue Money-order, and this mode of distinguishing Revenue Money-orders should be adopted wherever the number is entered.

Number to be assigned to Revenue Money-orders.

11. The number assigned to a Revenue Money-order by the Head Office or Sub-Office of Issue will also be entered at the top of the Coupon (Chalan) and Acknowledgment by the Money-order Clerk of the Head Office of the Sub-Postmaster of the Sub-Office of Issue, as the case may be.

PART III.

PAYMENT OF REVENUE MONEY-ORDER.

SECTION A.—Procedure in the Disbursing Office.

12. When the Revenue Money-orders are in all respects* ready to be handed over to the Postman, a list in triplicate† (Form $\frac{R}{M.O}$) should be made out by the Money-order Clerk, and the entries in the money column of the list should be carefully totalled. The Money-orders should be entered in the list according to the offices of issue. The original copy of the list will take the place of the journal of Money-orders paid, the duplicate of the list will be sent to the Treasury under the procedure described below, and the triplicate of the list will be the list for the Comptroller. When the number of Revenue Money-orders for payment in one day is more than enough to fill a single sheet of Form $\frac{R}{M.O}$, each sheet should be separately totalled and a grand total should be made at the end of the last sheet of the list or on a separate sheet. The date stamp of the office of payment should be impressed on the space provided for it on the reverse of the acknowledgment portion of each Money-order.

13. The Postmaster should then check the entries in the list with those on the Money-orders, and also check the total of the money column. He will then prepare a Treasury Voucher Form (A/c 12), representing the total value of the money-orders as entered at the foot of the list. The amount represented by the Treasury Voucher will not be charged against the letter of credit, and will be paid quite independently of the balance of any letters of credit held by the Treasury in favour of the Post-office. Postmasters before sending Revenue Money-orders to the Treasury should examine them carefully, and any error which might have been avoided should be brought to the notice of the Superintendent.

14. The Money-orders, the duplicate copy of the list, and the Treasury Voucher duly filled up, should then be made over to the Postman for delivery at the Collectorate, the Postman's receipt for the documents being taken in the usual manner in the Register of Money-orders received.

* Only the total number and amount of Revenue Money-orders received for payment need be entered in the Register of Money-orders received. In order, however, that the record may be complete, it will be necessary to make a note in the last column of the Register whenever all the Revenue Money-orders received in one day are not included in the list of that date. For example, if in the Register of Money-orders received on the 5th July there are shown 500 Revenue Money-orders for Rs. 10,000 but 300 of these orders for Rs. 7,000 were received too late for inclusion in the list sent to the Collectorate on the 5th, there should be an entry in the last column of the Register in this form :

300 for Rs. 7,000 included in list of 6th.

† The duplicate and triplicate will be prepared by carbonic paper, and a hard pencil must therefore be used in writing the list.

15. The Postman will take the duplicate copy of the list, the Money-orders and the Treasury Voucher to the Accountant, and will receive back from the Accountant the Money-orders without the coupons and acknowledgements. The Postman will be careful to see that he receives back all the Money-orders, and that they are all duly receipted by the Accountant, and in the case of Money-orders for amounts exceeding Rs. 500, by the Treasury officer also.

16. The paid Money-orders received back from the Treasury will be examined by the Money-order Clerk in the same way as ordinary Money-orders, and checked in detail with the original list. The total amount of the Money-orders will then be entered in the journal of Money-orders paid by a single entry thus: "As per Revenue Money-order list ." The Money-orders will be disposed of in the usual way.

17. The original and triplicate lists will be kept with the journal of Money-orders paid until the next list of ordinary Money-orders paid is sent to the Comptroller, when the corresponding list of Revenue Money-orders paid will also be sent, the paid Money-orders being arranged in order and attached to the lists. The original lists will then be filed, a separate file of original lists being kept with each journal of Money orders paid, so that the dates of the journal and file of Revenue Money-order lists correspond.

Entries in accounts.

18. The amount of the Treasury voucher will be entered in the head office summary, and the head office cash-book on the receipt side opposite the item "Drawn from treasuries," and will be included in the sum entered on the disbursement side under the head "Money-orders paid." The amount will also appear in the Treasury Pass-book and Register of transactions with the Treasury as money drawn from the District Treasury. All these entries must be made on the same date.

Note.—The date referred to above is the date on which the money-orders are sent from the Post-office to the Collectorate. If the procedure to be followed in the Collectorate is correctly observed, the money-order will be credited in the Treasury on the same date. If, owing to press of work or other reasons, the money-orders are not credited in the Treasury on the same date, the entries in the Head Office summary, the Head Office Cash-book and the Treasury Pass book should still be made as prescribed in rule 18 on the date on which the money-orders are sent to the Treasury for payment.

The money-orders should also be entered as paid on the same date in the paid list of money-orders, and if any Revenue money-orders sent to the Collectorate have not been received back when the paid list is due to be sent to the Comptroller, the paid list should still be sent and the money-orders should be forwarded on receipt, a note explaining the reason for their absence being submitted at the same time to the Comptroller.

19. On receipt of the acknowledgements duly signed the Money-order Clerk will examine and compare them with the original list already in his possession, and with the duplicate presented to him along with the acknowledgments, and, if all are found correct, the Postmaster will sign the duplicate list and return it to the Collectorate official who brought back the documents to the Post Office.

Acknowledgments for Money-orders.

20. The Money-order Clerk should be particularly careful to see that he receives from the Collectorate an acknowledgment for every Money-order, except when a note has been made on the duplicate list against any order showing that it was not for Land Revenue, Road, or Public Works Cess, or Zamindari Dák Cess. The Money order Clerk will also see that every acknowledgment which he receives is in acknowledgment of the full amount of the Money-order to which it appertains, and that the date of credit entered on each acknowledgment agrees with the date of payment of the Money-order.

Comparison of the duplicate list with the original.

21. Before the duplicate list is returned to the Collectorate, the Money-order Clerk will carefully compare it with the original, and see that they are exactly alike, any remarks recorded in the one list (either in the Collectorate or by the Money-order Clerk, or the Postmaster) being copied in the other list.

Duties of Money-order Clerk in respect of reports to Postmaster.

22. It will be the duty of the Money-order Clerk to report to the Postmaster if the signed acknowledgments and the duplicate list are not returned to him at latest by 4 P.M. on the day following that on which the Treasury voucher was sent to the Collectorate. On receipt of such a report, the Postmaster should at once bring the matter to the notice of the Treasury Officer. Any serious or oft-repeated delay in the return of the acknowledgments should be reported to the Head of the Circle. The Money-order Clerk should report to the Postmaster every case in which Revenue Money-orders are not received back on the same day that they are sent to the Treasury, and if it is found that this happens frequently, the Postmaster should bring the matter to the notice of higher authority.

23 The Money-order Clerk will report to the Postmaster every case in which the Coupon (Chalan) of a Revenue Money-order received by him is blank or is imperfectly filled up, and each such case should be reported by the Postmaster to the Superintendent of the Division, in which the Office of Issue is situated.

Return of all Revenue Money-orders received during previous month.

24. On the 5th of every month, the Money-order Clerk will prepare a return (From $\frac{4}{M.O.}$) of all Revenue Money-orders received during the last month, and this return will be submitted by the Postmaster to the Head of the Circle.

SECTION B.—Procedure to be followed in the Collectorate.

25. On receipt in the Treasury of the duplicate copy of the list, the Money-orders, and Treasury Voucher, the Accountant will check and compare the documents. If there is any error, he will return all the documents to the Post-office with a note of the error or errors This error note will be signed by the Accountant and the Tauzi Navis of the Department concerned; when the documents are correct, the Accountant will at once cut off the portion of each Money-order containing the coupon and acknowledgment, sign and date the Money-orders (as payee), and return the paid Money-orders to the Postman. In the case of Money-orders for amounts exceeding Rs 500, the Treasury Officer also shall sign and date the Money-orders as payee. The Accountant will retain the lower portion of each Money-order, including the coupon and acknowledgment, the duplicate list of Money-orders (Form $\frac{1}{\text{R.M.O.}}$) and the Treasury voucher. No Money-order received from the Post Office may be refused.

The acceptance of the Revenue Money-order after kist day is to be treated in the same manner as the receipt of a personal payment of revenue after kist day.

Entries in accounts.

26. The Treasury Officer will, on the same day, charge off the amount represented by the Treasury voucher (A. C. 14) by transfer, and credit the amounts of the several money-orders as shown in the list, and on the acknowledgments to the appropriate departments.

If the estate on account of which a remittance of Land Revenue has been received is situated in another district, the remittance should be credited in the usual way, and the Collector to whom the money order should have been addressed should be advised of the credit, according to the procedure in Chapter II, Section XII, Rule 2 of the Board's Tauzi Manual 1899. The remitter should also be advised of his error by a note on the money-order acknowledgment.

In the case of Road and Public Works Cess and Zamindari Dâk Cess, the amount thus erroneously remitted should be transmitted by remittance transfer receipts to the Collector of the district to which the cess properly belongs, and the remitter of the money-order should be advised of his error, as in the case of land revenue.

If it should be found that a revenue money-order has been erroneously issued for a remittance of some due other than Land Revenue, Road or Public Works Cess or Zamindari Dak Cess, the Treasury Officer should make a note to that effect against the entry of the money-order on the duplicate list, and forward the coupon and acknowledgment with an advice list (Form 4, G. M. O.) to the appropriate department for disposal under the rules in Part III of the Rules for Government money-orders other than Revenue money-orders.

Money-orders which cannot at once be credited in the Treasury accounts.

27. If it should be found that any money-order represents a remittance apparently not due to or intended for Government or any department or authority having an account in the Treasury, or that the amount of the money-order cannot for this or any other reason be credited at once in the Treasury accounts, the amount should be disposed of according to the standing rules and practice of the Account Department, or be made over in cash to the officer who would have been entrusted with it had the money been paid in cash instead of by money-order, or had it been sent as cash in an ordinary or registered letter.

Responsibility of Treasury Officer.

28. The Treasury Officer will be responsible that the total of the amounts credited to the different departments, and any sum made over in cash under rule 27, is equal to the amount of the Treasury voucher received from the Post-office, and debited to the Postal Department.

Examination of Money-orders.

29. The next business to be done in the Collectorate will be a rough examination of the Acknowledgments and Coupons to see that the necessary particulars of remittance are given in each case. This examination should be made by the Tauzi Navises of the Land Revenue and Cess Offices, and by the Certificate Department, if a certificate has issued on account of Road and Public Works Cess. If the amounts due on account of any cess, interest, penalties, and expenses are wrongly distributed by the remitter in the Money-order, the Land Revenue or the Cess Department will correct the distribution. It is not necessary at this stage that the Money-orders should be sent to, or examined by, the Zamindari Dak office, even when they contain remittances of Zamindari Dák Cess. The fact that the amount remitted is less or more than is due is immaterial. If more than is due is remitted, the excess will be treated as a payment in advance; if less then is due is remitted, it will be treated as a payment on account.

If owing to omissions or errors in the particulars of remittance, there is any uncertainty as to whether a remittance can be correctly credited according to the intentions of the remitter, a note should be made across the acknowledgment in red ink, stating how the remittance has been credited or what further particulars are required, and in the latter case the remitter should be asked to send the required information immediately by letter. If a remittance of land revenue by Money-order is received in the Treasury after the sunset of kist day, a note should similarly be made across the acknowledgment in red ink to the effect that the payment is "too late for kist day."*

Documents to be returned to the Post office and to be retained in the Collectorate.

30. Immediately after the examination prescribed in the preceding rule, the acknowledgments should be signed, dated, and returned with the duplicate list to the Post-office. The date on the acknowledgments must be the date of receipt of the Treasury Voucher by which

* It is to be understood that the date of receipt of the Money-order in the Treasury is the date of the Treasury voucher by which is paid, and not necessarily the date on which the acknowledgment is examined, signed or returned.

the Money-orders were paid. The Treasury Officer will be responsible that the acknowledgments and duplicate list are returned to the Post-office at latest by 4 P.M. on the day following that on which they were received in the Collectorate. The chalans will be retained in the Collectorate.

Treatment of Chalans.

31. After the return of the acknowledgments to the Post-office, the chalans of Form $\frac{1}{R\ M.O.}$ should be sent to the land revenue tauzi office, and those of Form $\frac{1A}{R\ M.O.}$ to the cess tauzi office, so that the remittances may be entered in the departmental registers. The chalans should be initialled by a responsible officer of each department, and then be returned to the Collectorate. On each coupon is to be noted by the muharrir the date when he posted in the tauzi ledger the amount referred to in the coupon. The muharrir is to sign such note.

Duplicate list to be filed.

32. When the duplicate list, with the Postmaster's acknowledgment for the documents returned to him, is received back from the Post-office, it should be attached to the chalans and filed in the Collectorate.

PART IV.

DISPOSAL OF ACKNOWLEDGMENTS.

Acknowledgments.

33. The Acknowledgments appertainining to Revenue Money-orders received from the Collectorate, will be sorted separately for each Office of Issue, and enclosed in envelopes (Form $\frac{4}{R\ M.O.}$) addressed to the Postmasters of those offices. The total number of acknowledgments closed in each envelope will be the registered number assigned to that envelope. The acknowledgments for orders issued at Branch office are not to be returned to the Branch office direct, but through the Account office.

Envelopes containing acknowledgments.

34. The money-orders issued by each office will then be bracketed together in the remarks column of the original issue list, and the register number of the envelope enclosing the corresponding acknowledgments will be noted against each bracket. The closed envelopes will then be made over to the registration clerk for despatch, his receipt for the total number of envelopes 'numbered as above' being taken at the foot of the original list.

Disposal of envelopes and acknowledgments.

35. On arrival in the Office of Issue, the envelopes will be opened and the acknowledgments contained in each envelope will be checked with the registered number of the money-order. The envelopes will then be destroyed. The acknowledgments will then be stamped with the Money-order stamp, and be sorted for distribution to postmen and village postmen. The numbers of all acknowledgments given to each postman and village postman will be detailed separately by the Money-order Clerk, Sub or Branch Postmaster in the postman's book or the village postman's register, the entries being repeated as often as the acknowledgments are given out for delivery.

36. The postman will obtain the remitter's signature or mark when delivering each acknowledgment in the postman's book.

Non-delivery and disposal of such.

37. Acknowledgments which cannot be delivered in consequence of the remitter not being found will be returned by the Postman to the Money-order Clerk, Sub-Postmaster, or Branch Postmaster as the case may be, who will sign for them in the Postman's Book or Village Postman's Register.

Undelivered acknowledgments.

38. Undelivered acknowledgments will be kept in the Office of Issue (if a Head Office) for a period of 12 months, and, if still unclaimed, will be destroyed.

39. In Sub-Offices and Branch Offices undelivered acknowledgments will be retained for a period of three months, and if still unclaimed, will be forwarded to the Head Office under a Postal Service registered cover. Such acknowledgments will be kept in the Head Office for a further period of nine months, and, if then still on hand, will be destroyed.

Responsibility of Post-office for delivery of acknowledgment.

40. Postmasters, Sub-Postmasters, and Branch Postmasters of the Offices of Issue will be responsible that acknowledgments are delivered to remitters of Revenue Money-orders without any unnecessary delay and free of charge. Enquiries as to the punctual and free delivery of acknowledgments should be made from time to time from zamindars, who may call at the Post Office to have Revenue Money-orders issued.

Remitter to examine acknowledgments.

41. Remitters of Revenue Money-orders should be advised to examine carefully their acknowledgments for the Money-orders, in case there should be any red-ink note by the Collectorate calling for further particulars, or indicating a doubt as to whether a remittance has been correctly credited according to the intentions of the remitter.

AUSTRALIA—TORRES STRAIT, WESTERN APPROACHES.

Proudfoot shoal light ship removed.

THE Portmaster, Brisbane, has given notice (No. 7 of 1903) that on and after 31st January 1904, the light exhibited from the Lightship at Proudfoot Shoal, Western Approach to Torres Strait, will be discontinued, and the Lightship will be withdrawn.

The shoal patch of $1\frac{1}{2}$ fathoms marked P.D. on charts south-easterly from the Lightship is believed to be identical with the Bramble Patches. There is no evidence to the contrary, the report of its existence being extremely vague.

Masters of vessels approaching Torres Strait from the westward are recommended to get on the parallel of 10 degrees 45 minutes south before reaching the 20-fathom contour, and continue on that parallel until Booby Island is visible bearing north-easterly, then to steer to pass 2 miles to the north of the Island and thence continue as hitherto.

Vessels bound to the westward after passing Booby Island are recommended to steer south-west magnetic 16 miles, then to steer west half south until a safe direction can be made for their destined port.

NOTE.—Booby Island is visible a distance of 14 or 15 miles; the light (a second order) is visible 17 to 19 miles by night from an ordinary ship's bridge.

In lieu thereof two Beacons showing Green Lights will be placed on the North Bank, one near the present Reflecting Beacon and the other opposite the present No. 1 White Light.

Two Light Beacons (both red) will be placed on the North Bank, which, when in line, will lead through the Cutting to the Bend.

Two Beacons, having White Lights, will be placed on the South Bank, which, when in line, will show the Bend in the Channel.

Sailing Directions.—To enter the River pass the Occulting Buoy at a distance of about 50 feet, and steer between the White Light on a Pile abreast of the old Lighthouse and the first Green Light, which is placed between the Reflecting Beacon and the Cutting, on a N.E. by E. course, passing the second Green Light at a similar distance until the New Lead on the North Bank (now No 1 Lead) comes in line. Keep them in line until the two lights on the South Bank are in line, then steer for No. 3 as before.

This affects Admiralty Chart No. 1750.

SUMMARY OF THE METEOROLOGICAL AND RAINFALL OBSERVATIONS TAKEN IN BENGAL, AND OF THE METEOROLOGICAL OBSERVATIONS TAKEN IN ASSAM, FOR THE MONTH OF AUGUST 1903.

DURING July rainfall had been much in defect over a great part of the Province owing, apparently, to the repeated occurrence over the north of the Bay of small cyclonic disturbances, which moved westward instead of in the usual north-westerly direction. The last of the series was in the north of the Bay at the beginning of August, and weather was unchanged in Bengal. Light showers fell in Orissa and Bengal Proper, but in Bihar skies were almost cloudless, rainfall practically nil, and temperature about 10° above the normal of the season.

A change, however, was in progress, and was first shown by the course of the shallow depression after it crossed the Orissa coast. It moved in the same westerly direction as the earlier members of the series, until it was over Central India; but instead of continuing towards the west, it recurved and entered Bengal from the west about the 4th. General rain began on the 5th in Bihar and continued during the four succeeding days. Well-marked monsoon weather prevailed over the Province, and rainfall was heavy in places. After four days of generally unsettled weather pressure rose rapidly about the 8th, rainfall partially ceased, and weather was fine in the western districts.

On the 10th and 11th pressure was high over the north of the Bay, excess at the Orissa stations being nearly ·2 inch. But on the latter date a noticeable change had commenced. Pressure began to fall along the hills, and extended southward over the Province during the day. Strong southerly winds were general over the Province, and very heavy rain fell in the northern and eastern districts and in Assam. The falls were exceptionally heavy near the Himalayas Between the 12th and 14th Baxa received 26 inches, and several other North Bengal stations had daily falls of 4 to 5 inches, while in Champaran the rainfall was in places even heavier than in North Bengal. The fall at Bagaha on the 12th and 13th was 15 inches, and at Ramnagar 13 inches.

Over the Province during these days rainfall was general, and was probably caused by local thunderstorms

The fall of pressure, which began in the east and passed along the Himalayan range, was followed by the usual rise and its accompaniments—heavy rainfall and low temperature. The area of lowest temperature was over North Bengal on the 12th, Bihar on the 13th, and after a local fall in Assam on the 14th a general recovery took place on the 15th.

For some days subsequently ordinary weather prevailed, with light general showers in all parts of the Province. About the 18th a shallow depression began to form over the Bay farther south than is usual at that season of the year. It developed very little and crossed the Orissa coast on the 20th. The strongest winds experienced after the depression passed inland were just over 20 miles an hour at Puri.

As usual rainfall diminished inland while the depression was over the Bay, and almost ceased in Bihar, but afterwards there were several days of general rainfall, beginning in Lower Bengal on the 21st and in Bihar on the 24th. This burst of rainfall continued until the 27th, when another depression began to form over the Bay.

As before, the depression was off the coast of the Circars and attained to no great depth. Weather was more disturbed, however, over the Bay, and became squally over a wide area The central area of the depression crossed the coast on the 30th, and thereafter strong winds were reported from stations on the coast between Puri and Vizagapatam.

The strongest wind was 32 miles an hour at Gopalpur on an average for the 31st.

On the 30th and 31st rainfall was again general in all parts of the Province except Bihar, to which the showers extended in the early days of September.

Pressure oscillations were generally small, and the variation from the normal was rarely more than moderate in Bengal. Over the Bay the greatest defect occurred near the end of the month when the third depression developed, and then it was only 2 inch. The depression at the beginning of the month and the second just after the middle of the month were shallow for the time of the year.

The changes of greatest interest were those which occurred in Bengal at the end of the first week and early part of the second. An important general change was then in progress, shown by the recurving of the depression at the beginning of the month, probably due to the development of low-pressure conditions to the north of the area of observation. The large oscillations of pressure on the 7th and 8th were no doubt connected with that general change. Three days later the fall of pressure was shown along the Himalayan range, and a period of disturbed weather began with heavy rainfall in the extreme north.

During the latter part of the month pressure changes were generally unimportant in Bengal.

Mean pressure for the month as a whole was in slight excess except in the west of Bihar, where there was a small defect.

Temperature was very high for the season in the north of the Province at the beginning of the month, especially in the west of Bihar, where excess was in places as much as 10°. As the general change then in progress developed and cloud with rain increased in the northern districts, this excess disappeared and was followed by a considerable defect—greatest in North Bengal.

Maximum temperature for the month was above the normal by 1° to 2° except in North Bengal and the east of North Bihar, where there was defect of half a degree. The difference from normal minimum temperature varied from defect of half a degree in East Bengal to excess of nearly 1° in Orissa and Chota Nagpur.

Mean excess was about 1° in North Bengal and Bihar, and about half a degree in other divisions except East Bengal, where mean temperature was practically normal. In Assam there was defect of nearly 1°.

Rainfall.—The partial drought, which was so noticeable a feature in the north of the Province in July, came to an end on the 4th of August, when with the recurving of the shallow depression from the Bay general rain began in all parts of Bengal. From that time onwards to the end of the month showery weather continued with brief interruptions when the depressions during the latter half of the month were forming over the west of the Bay.

The most noteworthy occurrence, subsequent to the important change which was developing during the early days of August, was the very heavy rainfall in the northern districts and the Lower Himalayan slopes—on the 12th and 13th, general along the hills, but most marked in North Bengal and the west of Bihar. Chiefly owing to the falls of those days a large excess is shown in the Jalpaiguri district and the northern parts of the Purnea, Bhagalpur, and Champaran districts. A large excess is also shown in Mymensingh and the south of Chittagong.

Generally over the Province there was a small and somewhat irregular excess in the eastern districts with the exception of the Sundarbans, and a small defect in the western districts. In small isolated tracts defect was as much as 5 inches. The more important of these areas of deficient rainfall are in the Midnapore, Singhbhum, and Lohardaga districts, showing an irregular and comparatively narrow tract of country, extending from the mouth of the Hooghly north-westward as far as Shahabad, in which the deficiency averaged about 5 inches. The average defect in Chota Nagpur is 3 inches, in Orissa 1·7 inch, and in South-West Bengal half an inch. In the other divisions there was excess, small in Bihar, but considerable in East and North Bengal.

The comparison of the actual rainfall in the various large divisions of the Province with the normal is most accurately and conveniently shown in the form of a percentage. The figures representing the rainfall for the month, calculated in this way, are included in the table below under the heading of August. This table really gives a condensed summary of the rainfall statistics of the present year up to date for each meteorological division, the first eight columns giving the actual average rainfall in each division in each month, expressed as a percentage of the normal, while the ninth column gives the total rainfall for the first eight months expressed as a percentage of the normal rainfall for that period:—

The mean pressure, temperature, etc., are deduced from the traces of the Barograph and Thermograph, and from eye observations.

The maximum and minimum temperatures are obtained from self-registering thermometers. All the thermometers are verified and the readings have been corrected to a standard constructed and verified at the Kew Observatory. They are exposed under a thatched shed open at the sides, and are suspended four feet above the ground.

The barometer readings are corrected approximately to those of the standard, Newman's No. 86, formerly at the Surveyor-General's Office.

The hygrometric elements are obtained from Tables III, IV and V of the official tables computed in the Meteorological Office, and based on Regnault's modifications of August's formula.

The directions and the movement of the wind are taken from the trace of a Beckley's anemograph.

The mouth of the rain-gauge is one foot above the ground. Rainfall reported on any day is for the 24 hours preceding 8 A.M. of that day.

o, overcast; g, gloomy; d, drizzling rain; p, passing temporary showers; t, thunder.

AUSTRALIA—GULF ST. VINCENT.

Port Adelaide river—Alterations in beacons consequent on Light's Passage harbour works.

WITH reference to Notices to Mariners No. 204, dated 15th June, and No. 289, dated 29th August 1903, issued by this Office, the British Admiralty has given further notice that the following alterations which have been found necessary will be made on or about the 30th August next:—

The Beacons forming No. 1 Lead will be removed altogether.

In lieu thereof two Beacons showing Green Lights will be placed on the North Bank—one near the present Reflecting Beacon and the other opposite the present No. 1 White Light, as shown on plan which may be obtained at these offices.

Two Light Beacons (both red) will be placed on the North Bank, which, when in line, will lead through the Cutting to the Bend, and will be hereafter termed No 1 Lead.

Sailing Directions.—To enter the River pass the Occulting Light Buoy at a distance of about 50 feet, and steer between the White Light on a Pile abreast the old Light-house and the first Green Light, which is placed between the Reflecting Beacon and the Cutting on a N.E. by E. course, passing the second Green Light at a similar distance until the New Lead on the North Bank (now termed No. 1 Lead) comes in line. Keep them in line until abreast of No. 2, then steer for No. 3 as before.

This affects Admiralty Chart No. 1750.

P.S.—Owing to the nature of the work in progress this notice may require to be amended from time to time, and therefore should be treated as tentative only.

During the progress of the work at the Light's Passage Harbour, Masters exempt from pilotage may, if they so desire, avail themselves of the services of a pilot to assist them in passing the works, either in or out, at one-half of the usual pilotage rates.

If the usual exemption flag is not hoisted, it will be taken as a signal that a pilot is required. At night, if a pilot is wanted, the usual signal for a pilot should be shown.

NOTICE TO MARINERS—No. 303.

[First Publication.]

KOREA—QUELPART ISLAND, SOUTH COAST.

Navoska rock—Non-existence of.

THE British Admiralty has given notice (No. 664 of 1903) that as the results of numerous searches for the Naboska rock to the southward of Quelpart island show no indication of its existence, it has been expunged from the charts.

Approximate position, lat. 32° 59′ N., long. 126° 13′ E.

This rock, on which the Russian transport Naboska was reported to have been lost in April 1870, was unsuccessfully searched for by H. M. surveying vessel Sylvia in 1877, when a sounding of 57 fathoms, mud bottom, was the least water obtained anywhere within two miles of the reported position.

Mr. G. C. Anderson, Master of the ship Conquest, reports having frequently passed in 1875 and 1876, within two miles of the supposed position of this rock, without seeing any indication of shoal water.

A thorough search was also made in 1885 by Captain Phythian, U.S.S. Trenton, and latterly in February 1903 Captain A. A. Dalweritz, of the American schooner Forester, reports having passed close to the assigned position of this rock, obtaining at the same time a sounding of 55 fathoms, mud bottom, without seeing any sign of shoal water.

RESOLUTION REVIEWING THE ADMINISTRATION REPORT OF THE CALCUTTA MUNICIPALITY FOR THE YEAR 1902-1903.

MUNICIPAL DEPARTMENT.—MUNICIPAL.

Darjeeling, the 19th September 1903.

RESOLUTION—No. 2484T.—M.

READ—

The Administration Report of the Calcutta Municipality for the year 1902-1903.

Read again—

The Reports for the years 1900-1901 and 1901-1902 and the Resolutions recorded by the Lieutenant-Governor thereon.

More than three years have now elapsed since the beginning of April 1900, when the amended new Calcutta Municipal Act of 1899 came into force; and the first body of Commissioners who have held their appointments under the new Act have completed their term of office. The Lieutenant-Governor, therefore, gladly avails himself of the present opportunity to review as a whole the work which has been accomplished during that period.

2. The first impression conveyed by a perusal of the report for the year 1902-1903 is that it is a record of strenuous and many-sided activity. Two hundred and thirty-one meetings of various kinds were held during the year, and the results are apparent in the Departmental Reports and in the long statement of 129 improvements, completed or in progress during the year, which is to be found in pages 53—56 of the appendices to Part I of the Report. The table in question contains only those improvements of which the cost exceeds Rs. 1,000, and the aggregate sanctioned expenditure on the works included in the list amounts to over 14 lakhs. To the evidence contained in the report and its appendices Mr. Bourdillon is able to add his personal testimony, for he had the advantage of sitting as a Commissioner and as a Member of the General Committee during a short period of the year under review, and he was much struck not only with the immense amount of work that came up for disposal, but with the business-like manner in which it was despatched.

3. In accordance with instructions issued by Government in reviewing the report for 1901-1902, the Corporation appointed a Special Committee to examine the Chairman's Report and adopted the review which was in due course submitted to it. Almost the whole of the review was taken up with an examination of the manner in which the accounts were exhibited, and of cases in which the budget grants were exceeded. The Committee explained that they drew attention to these instances of excess expenditure, because they deemed it desirable that in future the Corporation should be in a better position to exercise a check such as had been possible in past years. This criticism is sound, and is in fact applicable to the general business of the Corporation; for the Lieutenant-Governor is constrained to say that in the Municipal Administration of Calcutta in the past year sufficient regard has not invariably been paid to the formalities prescribed by the law. The Chairman's attention has been drawn to this matter on more than one occasion, and an improvement in this respect is confidently anticipated. To prevent a recurrence of the illegality noticed by the Special Committee, the simplest expedient would be for the Corporation to pass a revised budget before the close of each year. Such a budget must necessarily be prepared, either formally or informally, before that for the ensuing year can be accurately drawn up; and the procedure now recommended is already followed by the Supreme Government, by all the Local Governments in India, and by the Mufassal Municipalities and District Boards throughout the Province. With reference to one of the suggestions made by the Committee, that there should be a fuller tabulated list of all the appendices and statements, the attention of the Chairman will be drawn to the concluding portion of paragraph 2 of Mr. Collin's letter No. 3111M., dated 3rd December 1902, in which it was suggested that a list and index of the appendices, showing clearly the subjects to which they relate, should be furnished at the commencement of the report.

4. The Lieutenant-Governor is glad to note that the financial position of the Corporation is thoroughly sound. Their net indebtedness, that is the amount they owe less the amount to credit in the sinking funds, has increased by a little over 15 lakhs in the last three years, but in the same time their borrowing power has increased by nearly 21 lakhs. During that period the Commissioners borrowed 38¼ lakhs, of which 31 lakhs have been invested in drainage and water-supply schemes and in other improvements. Nor do there seem to be any valid grounds for the apprehensions that have been expressed from time to time that when the present reassessment operations are complete the municipal income will cease to expand at the same rate as heretofore. It is true that in the last ten years the assessed valuation of the town has increased by 28·3 per cent., but in the same period the population has increased by 24·8 per cent., excise receipts by 32 per cent., exports and imports by 40 per cent., and income-tax receipts by 52·1 per cent. It is well known also to those who live in the central portion of Calcutta that the rise of rents in recent years has been very great. There seems therefore no reason for regarding the expansion which has taken place in the municipal revenues as in any way abnormal, or for expecting that it will proceed at a less rapid rate in the future.

5. The most important task accomplished in the last three years, and that by which no doubt the late administration will be chiefly remembered, has been the reorganisation of every department by which the work of the municipality is carried on. The reforms proceeded on the well-known and well-tried lines of definition of authority, devolution of powers, and increase in the numbers and pay of the supervising staff.

6. The first and most important reform undertaken was the reorganisation of the three great spending Departments of the Corporation, viz., those of Engineering, Public Health, and Conservancy. A consideration of the problems involved and of the best way of solving them led eventually to the adoption of the following measures:—

(a) the amalgamation with the Engineering Department of the Conservancy Department which had hitherto been under the Health Officer;

(b) the formation of a separate Building Department under an officer possessing the qualifications of an Architect and an Engineer for whom a salary of Rs. 750 rising to Rs. 1,000 was sanctioned; and

(c) the decentralisation of municipal work by the division of Calcutta into four districts, each equipped with a complete establishment for the working of—

(1) the Health Department under a District Health Officer;
(2) the Building Department under a District Building Surveyor, and
(3) the amalgamated Engineering and Conservancy Department under a District Engineer.

7. The rather curious amalgamation of the Conservancy and Engineering Departments was due to the fact that their work had in practice been found to overlap. The Engineer was in charge of the repairing and the watering of the roads and the cleaning of the surface drains, while the Health Officer was responsible for the scraping of the roads and for all other conservancy matters. Thus different gangs of coolies under separate control worked at the same place, and moreover the gowkhanas which were in charge of the Health Officer had to supply cattle both for watering the roads and for conservancy purposes. So long as this arrangement was in force complaints were received that conservancy coolies had been seen throwing rubbish into the ditches for engineering coolies to remove, and vice versâ, and there was also friction in connection with the supply of cattle to the two Departments. The amalgamation of the two Departments was no doubt a simple and effective remedy for this antagonism, but the reform might have been made on different lines, and the Corporation should consider whether it is not advisable to appoint a separate conservancy officer for each of the four districts. The effectual supervision of the conservancy arrangements in one-fourth part of Calcutta is certainly a task sufficient to occupy the whole time of one officer, and it is obviously desirable that the district conservancy officers should be completely subordinate to the Health Officer of Calcutta instead of being under the Engineer of the Corporation.

8. The creation of the four districts referred to was undoubtedly the most far-reaching of all the reforms carried out. The establishment necessary for the working of the scheme has been appointed, and the material equipment has been supplied or is at present under construction. Of the four gowkhanas required two are already in existence, and two are being provided. Two new district offices are also being erected, while the new buildings for the head office will supply the needs of a third, and the fourth is at present located in a hired house. It is reported that the practice of holding meetings of the Ward Commissioners in these district offices has been introduced with good results: it is said that useful improvements and schemes are suggested and discussed at these meetings, and that the wants of the rate-payers are thus brought directly to the notice of the executive staff. The Lieutenant-Governor endorses the opinion expressed by the Chairman that the development of this system appears to offer the most promising results for the development of Municipal Administration in Calcutta. What course the development shall take is, however, a matter of extreme importance. If the Ward Commissioners are allowed a considerable measure of autonomy, the question of financial decentralisation will necessarily arise; for even if no other reason exists, it is in this way alone that the Ward Commissioners can be given a sufficient incentive to economy. If the reform arrives safely and satisfactorily at this stage, it will afford much needed relief to the central Committees, and to all the offices and officers at head-quarters; but if the movement is a healthy one, these questions will arise in the natural course of development and will not require to be unduly forced.

9. The reorganisation of the Accounts Department, which has undoubtedly been one of the weak spots in the Municipal Administration of Calcutta hitherto, was undertaken early; but owing to the magnitude and difficulty of the task it was almost the last to be finished. In November 1900, the services of Mr. U L. Mazumdar, Assistant Accountant-General, Bengal, were lent to the Corporation for this special duty; but after he had been at work for some months, and had drawn up a report, it was found that certain internal reforms in the Engineering Department which were urgently called for, could best be effected by changes in the system of accounts. In the course of his arbitration report on the so-called "invalid contracts" Mr. Buckley, C.S.I., pointed out that matters which Subordinate Engineers ought to have disposed of themselves on the spot, and which they alone ought to have been held responsible for, were referred to the Central Office; and that in consequence of this defect in procedure delays occurred, responsibility was divided and lost, and there was overlapping of authority and jurisdiction. In order to remedy these evils he suggested that this branch of the accounts should be modelled on those of the Public Works Department. His proposal was accepted, and Mr. W. F. Barrow, Examiner, Public Works Accounts, Bengal, was called in to complete the scheme of reorganisation in accordance with his suggestion. Mr. Barrow's recommendations, many of which had been introduced under his supervision in the course of the year under review, were finally adopted by the Corporation after its close. The Corporation further decided to appoint a Chartered Accountant with experience of Municipal Accounts to be the head of the Department, and steps were taken to secure the services of a thoroughly competent man, the salary offered being Rs. 750 rising to Rs. 1,000. This last decision has received the approval of the Lieutenant-Governor on two grounds: first, because, if the accounts are to be audited by a firm of Chartered Accountants, it is desirable that the head of the Department should be a Chartered Accountant; and in the second place because the system of accounts to which a Chartered Accountant is trained is a commercial system specially devised for the purpose of showing profit and loss, and it is desirable that the Corporation should know precisely how they stand in regard to the various paying and spending Departments under them.

10. While the reforms which have already been considered have undoubtedly borne good fruit, none of the efforts of the Corporation towards improvement have been rewarded with such immediate and gratifying proofs of success as their remodelling of the Collection Department. Under the former system the Collector was paid a commission of Re. 1-4 per cent. on collections in the town area, and the Joint-Collector received Re. 1-6 per cent. on those in the added area. These rates were reduced in October 1900 to Re. 1-1 and Re. 1-5, respectively. Only sums voluntarily paid were, however, realised by this agency, and all bills which were not satisfied on presentation were transferred to a separate Warrant Department for disposal. Chiefly owing to the delays which resulted from this system there was a heavy accumulation of arrears, which constantly elicited the unfavourable comments of the Government, and which amounted to over 7¼ lakhs on the 31st March 1900. The Collection Department was reorganised with effect from 1st May 1901. A Collector, who was vested with the powers hitherto exercised by the Warrant Officer, was appointed on Rs. 750 rising to Rs. 1,000 a month, and he was provided with a sufficient establishment. The task of clearing off the old arrears proved to be one of extreme difficulty, as the accounts and the bills had got into very great confusion; but the working of the new Department left little to be desired The current collections in 1901-1902 amounted to 98·33 per cent., and in 1902-1903 to 99·08 per cent., of the net current demand. Moreover in the latter year less than 2 per cent. of the collections were realised by recourse to coercive measures; and altogether only in 32 cases were distrained properties removed, and only in 16 cases were they sold Such results merit the hearty commendation of the Lieutenant-Governor

11. The remaining reforms call for little remark. The License and Hackney Carriage Departments were reorganised mainly by the simple process of paying the head of the Department an adequate salary, and giving him a sufficient establishment. The same procedure was followed in the case of the Assessor's Department, with the addition that the agency for periodical re-assessment was separated from that for keeping the ordinary assessment up to date. It is seldom good policy to starve an earning Department, and in all these cases the increased expenditure will no doubt be justified by increased receipts. The cost of the Secretary's Department has been raised from Rs. 12,900 to Rs. 16,888; but the work is now said to be performed with greater promptitude and efficiency, and the Lieutenant Governor sees no reason to doubt the wisdom of the additional outlay.

12. All this reorganisation is of course only a means to an end, the end being mainly the increased health, comfort and convenience of the rate-payers and others residing in Calcutta; but those advantages cannot be obtained until the new organisations are complete and in working order The Collection Department was one of the first to be dealt with, and as explained above the changes made have already been fully justified by the results. In the Assessor's, the Accounts, the Hackney Carriage and the License Departments, the reforms were completed during the year or after its close, and their influence will no doubt be more apparent during the current year. In the case of the Conservancy Department, however, the full benefit cannot be reaped till the new gowkhanas have been completed and the district administrations are in working order; and the Building Department, the chief function of which is to prevent the aggravation of existing evils, cannot be expected to entirely justify its existence till some years have elapsed. These facts have to be taken into account in estimating the progress that has been achieved, and it is necessary to repeat that a considerable time must be allowed to elapse before the reforms in the various Departments can be completely carried out resulting in the improved condition of the population, and the more pleasing aspect of the town.

13. The two chief works which the Corporation have in hand are the Suburban Drainage Scheme and the Continuous Water-supply Scheme. As regards the former the Lieutenant-Governor agrees with the Chairman that it is a cause for special congratulation that the difficulties in connection with the so-called "invalid contracts" have been overcome, and that work has been resumed under eight separate contracts. In the matter of the introduction of the system for the continuous supply of filtered water, which has been estimated to cost fifteen lakhs, the progress made has been unsatisfactory, for the continuous supply has been extended only to an area in the north of the city which has a population of 126,000 persons. The prospect of a speedy extension of the reform to the remaining portions of Calcutta is discussed in a somewhat despondent spirit in the departmental report of the Engineer's Department; for it is said that when negligence is so general the cost of meters would be prohibitive, and that unless consumers exercise reasonable care and economy in the use of water the supply available will never be able to meet the demand. The Lieutenant-Governor is not prepared to accept this opinion without reserve, but nevertheless, in view of the apprehensions expressed by the head of the Department responsible for the work, His Honour considers that the Corporation have acted wisely in deciding to send to England for an expert to deal with the subject.

14. The parts of Calcutta which will benefit most from the division of the town into four self-contained districts, and the consequent decentralisation of work, are those which are furthest from the centre of administration, namely, the north and the south. In the North District No. I has been formed out of Wards 1 to 6, and in the South District No. IV now comprises Wards 18 and 21 to 25. These two districts are being equipped with new gowkhanas and new district offices at a cost of about 3½ lakhs, and each district has also been provided with four steam-rollers, the total number of steam-rollers in the town having been raised from ten to sixteen. Other works completed during the year in District No. I were a new dhobikhana, a new cemetery, three new squares, and several new roads. In this quarter also the Continuous Water-supply System has been introduced. The Lieutenant-Governor hopes that the particular attention of the Commissioners will be devoted to the needs of the north of the town: no doubt it will benefit greatly by the Calcutta Improvement Scheme when that has been carried out, but in the meantime His Honour hopes that this area will be considered as having the first claim on the care and solicitude of the Corporation and its officers. In District No. IV, the Lansdowne Market is under construction, the Sterndale Road has been completed, and the Corporation have in hand schemes more or less advanced for the construction of roads sixty feet wide at a cost of about 21 lakhs. In this direction also the Corporation have abandoned the policy of allowing the town to grow haphazard, and have provided a temporary staff of three surveyors for the alignment of the growing areas. Both in the north and south moreover the Corporation contemplate the acquisition and preparation of land for the formation of new suburbs. In the central districts, II and III, the most important works are the new Municipal Office Building, the extension of the New Market, the model dwellings in Convent Road, and the Incinerator at Entally. As already noted a considerable time must elapse before the full effect of the administrative changes lately introduced can be fully felt, but Mr. Bourdillon has visited from time to time a considerable part of the town and is satisfied that a substantial improvement has already been effected in its condition

15. During the past three years, the Corporation have vigorously pursued the policy of mending or ending obnoxious bustees, while at the same time they have opened out insanitary areas by constructing a number of public squares and making new roads or widening old ones. The immediate result of these measures, however, has necessarily been to intensify the overcrowding in the similar areas that are left untouched. This overcrowding with its concomitant circumstances is admittedly the greatest sanitary blot on the city, and it is to remedy these evils that the Improvement Scheme to which the Chairman several times refers has been devised. In connection with this subject an interesting table is given in Appendix C, showing the population and the number of occupied houses returned at the census of 1901, and the corresponding figures for the previous census of 1891. From this it would appear that while the population has increased by 24·82 per cent., the number of houses has increased by 70·24 per cent., and that there has been a very great improvement. Unfortunately it happens that the comparison is vitiated by the definition of "house" adopted in 1901 being different from that employed in 1891, and instead of an improvement, there has in reality been a marked and grave deterioration. The following table compares the ten most overcrowded wards at the two periods:—

No. of Ward.	Name of thana	Total Population.		No. of males in every 100 of the population in 1901.	Population per acre.		Death rate.
		In 1891.	In 1901.		In 1891.	In 1901.	In 1892.	In 1902.

9	Muchcepara ...	49,472	64,116	65 4	185·11	243 79	32·1	24·3

11	Puddopukor ..	20,761	28,040	61 8	1·5 07	169 04	29 8	33·6
13	Fenwick Bazar ...	28,366	31 242	76·4	147 74	162 72	20·7	33 4
14	Taltalla	29,207	32,237	64 2	147 51	162 81	30·1	38·3

A high ratio of males to females means that a large proportion of the population consists of adult males in the prime of life, and it is obvious that but for unfavourable sanitary conditions, such as overcrowding and its consequences, the death-rate should be a very low one. To this overcrowding must no doubt be attributed the recent increase in phthisis to which attention is drawn in the report.

16. The state of affairs disclosed by the figures quoted in the preceding paragraph is one that cannot be viewed without the gravest concern. The Lieutenant-Governor is, however, glad to observe that the Commissioners are fully alive to the evils of overcrowding. One of their most important reforms has been the constitution of a separate Building Department, and since the close of the year they have been considering what steps they themselves can take in the direction of solving the problem. They are of opinion that the city cannot expand eastwards, and that space for new suburbs must be sought to the north and the south, and they have resolved to take up and lay out land in those directions. They have not yet discussed the means by which rapid communication is to be established between the new suburbs and the business quarter of the city, but no doubt they contemplate an extension of the tramway system. The introduction on the tramways of electric traction was completed on the 18th November 1902, and it may be hoped that in Calcutta, as in other large towns in Europe and America, a vigorous extension of the system will be followed by an overflowing of the town into the surrounding country. The following are the broad lines of the policy which Mr. Bourdillon would recommend for the consideration of the Commissioners:—(1) To acquire, prepare, and lay out land as proposed by them, but perhaps on a somewhat larger scale; (2) either in connection with the Improvement Scheme or apart from it, to arrange for a large extension of the tramway system, a sine quâ non of which must be the provision of cheap fares at certain hours for coolies, servants, and artisans; and (3) the strict enforcement, and if need be the enlargement, of the existing provisions as to overcrowding. As regards the last point, His Honour has already drawn the attention of the Chairman to the recent Act of the Colony of Hongkong entitled "The Public Health and Buildings Ordinance, No. 1 of 1903," the wider provisions of which might be adapted to Calcutta when once the arrangements for housing the labouring classes in the suburbs have been completed.

17. As regards the working of the Calcutta Municipal Act of 1899, the conclusion which the Lieutenant-Governor draws from the brief review given above is that there is no want of driving power in the revised constitution created by the Act in question. It was passed at a time when action was urgently called for at the first onset of plague, and it has fulfilled the object of preventing action from being strangled by debate. One defect has already been pointed out, viz., that in the hurry and press of the enormous mass of work disposed of the necessary legal formalities have not always been duly complied with, but this is perhaps not altogether a matter of surprise when it is remembered that the expenditure of the Corporation equals the Provincial expenditure of a minor province provided with all the machinery of a Local Government. It is to be regretted also that the Municipal Commissioners who were opposed to the Act of 1899 should still continue to hold aloof from the Administration, but Mr. Bourdillion is glad to welcome the return of Babu Nalin Behari Sircar, C.I.E., to Municipal work, and hopes that his reappearance as a Commissioner may be taken as an indication that the period of estrangement will soon be passed. In this connection the Corporation should consider whether steps should not be taken to secure that the procedure prescribed in the new Act for the preparation of the election roll may be taken advantage of to a larger extent.

18. Mr. Greer was Chairman throughout the year. Mr. Blackwood held the office of Deputy Chairman till August 1902, and is said to have proved himself to be an energetic and able officer. To both these officers, and to the other officers of the Corporation, the hearty thanks of the Lieutenant-Governor are due; and His Honour also tenders his cordial acknowledgments to the whole of the late body of Commissioners, particularly the General Committee for the excellent work they have done during their three years' tenure of office. Their task has been one of no little difficulty, and has been carried out in the face of much criticism and some misrepesentaion : but the period which has just expired, though it has been marked with some mistakes, inevitable in the early years of a new institution, has been one of vigour and progress, and the Corporation and its officers are justified in looking back upon it with pride and satisfaction.

Rate, land revenue demand and gross rental.

3. The cesses were, as in the preceding year, levied at the maximum rate of one anna in the rupee in the 43 districts in which the Cess Act, IX (B. C.) of 1880, is in force. The current demand of land revenue of the 43 districts is Rs. 3,98,19,307, and the valuation, or gross rental, amounts to Rs. 17,49,73,823. These districts include Singhbhum, where the Act is in operation in parganas Dhalbhum and Porahat only. The Act has been introduced in the recently re-settled estates in the Sonthal Parganas, but there was no demand during the year.

Demands, collections, balances and remissions.

4. * * * In the subjoined table the demands, collections, balances and remissions of the year are compared with the two preceding years:—

Year.	Demand.			Collections.	Percentage of total collections on current demand.	Balance	Percentage of the balance on the total demand.	Remissions.
	Current.	Arrear.	Total.
	Rs.	Rs	Rs	Rs.		Rs		Rs.
1900-1901	91,85,325	16,74,304	1,08,59,629	92,02,874	100·1	16,71,918	15·4	70,221
1901-1902	95,26,543	16,75,523	1,10,02,066	93,13,338	98·6	16,84,913	15·3	66,873
1902-1903	95,94,201	16,70,927	1,12,65,128	96,34,804	100·4	16,30,104	14·5	67,751

As compared with the previous year, the current demand shows an increase of Rs. 2,67,658. This result was mainly due to revaluations in the districts of the 24-Parganas (Rs. 59,914), Nadia (Rs. 16,385), Khulna (Rs. 7,295), Bogra (Rs. 16,028), Backergunge (Rs. 8,632), Gaya (Rs. 38,036), Shahabad (Rs. 30,952) and Purnea (Rs. 46,538), and to the assessment of coal mines in Manbhum (Rs. 15,919), and Burdwan (Rs. 19,798) and also to the assessment of the resumed chakaran (service) lands in latter district. When compared with 1900-1901, the current demand shows an increase of Rs. 4,08,876. The arrear demand has decreased by Rs. 4,596 and Rs. 3,377 as compared with the two preceding years. It is satisfactory to note that simultaneously with the large increase in the current demand of the year under report, there was an increase in collections by Rs. 3,21,179, giving a percentage of 100·4 against 99·8 in the previous year and 100·1 in 1900-1901. As a result of good collections of the year the outstanding balance declined by Rs. 45,814, and the percentage on the total demand improved, being 14·5 against 15·3 in the preceding year and 15·4 in 1900-1901. The remissions, which amounted to Rs. 67,751, were chiefly granted in the districts of Burdwan (Rs. 6,672), Noakhali (Rs. 11,066), Puri (Rs. 8,521), Hazaribagh (Rs. 2,804), Manbhum (Rs. 13,489) and Singhbhum (Rs. 7,520). In Burdwan this was necessary on account of erroneous and double assessment and the closure of some coal mines; while in Noakhali the major portion of the amount remitted represented the accumulated nominal balance of Chakla Bamni, and was the effect of the revaluation of some tenures under section 13 of the Act. Of the amount remitted in Puri, Rs. 630 represent the reduction of cesses due to revaluation recently completed, and Rs. 7,891 were reduced owing to the transfer of five wrongly treated rent-free lands. In Hazaribagh, Manbhum, and Singhbhum, the large reductions were attributed to the revision of assessment of mines and forests which is annually made under section 79 of the Act. Out of Rs. 2,804 in Hazaribagh Rs. 626 were remitted from the arrear and Rs. 2,178 from the current demand owing to objections filed by the assessees. Some coal mines were assessed in Manbhum as well as in Burdwan, but the assessees' chief place of business being in the latter district, the assessment of Rs. 8,943 made in Manbhum was cancelled. A sum of Rs. 3,526 had also to be reduced in regard to some coal-mines summarily assessed, on the production of account books by the proprietors. Of the remainder, Rs. 770 were reduced by the Commissioner on appeal, and Rs. 250 were remitted, as irrecoverable, on account of hills and forests of Taraf Dhadka. In Singhbhum Rs. 4,773 were remitted in favour of the Raja of Porahat, as he derived no profit from the Porahat Reserved Forest.

5. The districts are grouped in two classes, (i) those in which the collections attained the prescribed standard of 100 per cent. or more on the current demand, and (ii) those in which the collections were short of that standard. The marginally-noted districts fall under the first class, and in their case no explanation is necessary.

Working of the Certificate procedure.

7. The total number of certificates filed for the realization of cess arrears was 77,523, against 139,613 of the previous year. The noticeable decline is shared by all the Divisions and is mainly attributable to the Board's Circular Order No. 16 of January 1902, prohibiting the issue of certificates for petty arrears, and allowing them to accumulate to Rs. 5, unless they are likely to be barred by limitation. The effect of the circular order is most marked in the Burdwan and Presidency Divisions. In Noakhali the falling off in the institutions is due to the fact that certificates had to be filed in the previous year in respect of all rent-free lands of Chakla Roshnabad transferred from Tippera. In Gaya the decrease was partly due to arrears from numerous zamindars having been realized, either by the personal exertion of the Deputy Collector in charge of the Cess Department, or by action taken under section 99 of the Act. The decrease in Bhagalpur is partly due to the arrear demand, with which the year opened, having been smaller than that of the preceding year, while that in Purnea, to the fact of the general revaluation of the district being given effect to late in the year. The decline in Palamau is said to be due to the fact that a large number of certificates had to be issued in 1901-1902 for the recovery of sums which were about to be barred by limitation, and also to the issue of warning post-cards. As regards the latter explanation the Commissioner's attention has been drawn to rule 8(d), section II of the Certificate Manual, 1898, to the effect that, so far as cesses are concerned, the practice of issuing warning post-cards, except as regards the first demand after a new assessment, should be discouraged. The decrease in Balasore is ascribed to certificates having been issued with great discrimination and only in selected cases. As compared with the preceding year, there was an increase in the number of certificates filed in the districts of Birbhum, Faridpur, Muzaffarpur, Darbhanga, Hazaribagh, Manbhum and Singhbhum. In Birbhum the increase is due to the fact that certificates had to be issued for the realization of cesses from chaukidari chakaran lands lately valued, and, in Faridpur, to the issue of a large number of certificates for the recovery of the arrears due from revenue-free estates and rent-free lands, so that they may not be barred by limitation. Better arrangements in the Cess Office for filing certificates punctually at the end of each kist led to the increase in the number of institutions in Muzaffarpur, while in Darbhanga it is reported to be due to the filing of certificates kist by kist, instead of twice a year, as formerly. The Commissioner of Patna observes that, so far as these two districts are concerned, he is not satisfied that due effect is being given to the instructions contained in the Board's Circular regulating the issue of certificates for petty demands of Rs. 5 and less, and that he is making further enquiries into the matter. The increase in Hazaribagh is attributed to the discontinuance of the practice of issuing warning post-cards to defaulters, and, in Manbhum, to the institution of cases after each kist with punctuality. In Singhbhum the increase is said to be due to more vigorous action in enforcing demands.

8. The disposals exceeded the institutions in all the Divisions except Orissa and Chota Nagpur. Owing to the decrease in the number of certificates filed, the pending cases, as compared with the previous year, show a material reduction in all the districts, except Murshidabad, Khulna, Pabna, Faridpur, Malda, Cuttack, Hazaribagh, Palamau, Manbhum and Singhbhum. The increase in the number of pending cases in Murshidabad, Khulna, Malda, Cuttack, Hazaribagh and Palamau is due to the institution of numerous cases towards the close of the year. In Pabna, where the number of pending cases is comparatively large, the Collector has been directed to instruct the Deputy Collector in charge of the Certificate Department to reduce the file as soon as possible. The increase in the number of cases instituted in Faridpur led to the corresponding increase in the number of cases pending in the district, while in Singhbhum it is reported that some of the cases are pending for the realisation of costs only, as the judgment-debtors have left the district, after remitting cesses by money-order; endeavour is being made to obtain their addresses. In Manbhum the increase was small.

Objections against certificates.

9. The total number of objections filed and disposed of were 8,210 and 7,808, against 11,759 and 11,498, respectively, of the previous year. The decrease is probably due to the smaller number of institutions during the year owing to the Board's Circular prohibiting the issue of certificates for petty arrears. The largest number of objections disposed of was in the districts of Burdwan (526). Noakhali (560), Shahabad (1,185) and Saran (2,107). In 756 cases against 1,146 of the preceding year, the certificates objected to were cancelled, the percentage slightly improving from 9·9 to 9·6. The number of cases in which reductions were made in the amount certified was 1,032 against 548. Out of 756 cases in which certificates were cancelled on objection, Burdwan and Dacca each contributed 84, Gaya 56, Saran 149, Muzaffarpur 63 and Monghyr 52. The cancellations were due to death and desertion of judgment-debtors, exemption of lands lying within municipal limits, double assessments, non-registration of names of holders of rent-free lands, errors in the Land Registration Registers, and wrong entries in the ledgers owing to the imperfect information supplied by parties in *chálán*s. The Commissioner of Patna reports that in the current year advantage has been taken of the temporary deputation to some districts of his Division of Sub-Deputy Collectors relieved from settlement for the improvement of Register D. In Monghyr where only 52 certificates were cancelled against 132 of the previous year, the Collector attributes the result to the improvement in the Land Registration Registers. The Commissioner of Bhagalpur expects further improvement when all the volumes of these registers are brought up to date. This is now being done.

Stage of procedure at which demands were satisfied.

10. In 36,346 cases, against 45,945 in 1901-1902, the cess arrears were recovered on the mere issue of notice; in 72,182, against 82,956 of the previous year, on the issue of notice for sale of defaulters' moveable property; and in 23,194 against 28,107 on the issue of notice for the sale of defaulters' immoveable property. Of the total number of sales (3,387 against 3,864 in 1901-1902), 1,300, or 38·3 against 38·6 were set aside under sections 20 and 21 of the Public Demands Recovery Act I (B.C.) of 1895, as amended by Act I (B.C.) of 1899. The highest number of sales set aside was in the districts of the 24-Parganas (58), Patna (118), Shahabad (90), Muzaffarpur (217), Darbhanga (284) and Monghyr (92), and this was partly due to the use made of section 21 of the Act by the proprietors of estates sold.

11. On the whole the administration of the Certificate Department during the year may be considered as satisfactory, as shown by the disposal of cases in excess of the institutions, and the considerable reduction in the number of cases remaining to be disposed of at the close of the year. The Circular Order to check the growth of certificates for petty arrears has had the desired effect of reducing the number of institutions during the year to an appreciable extent. Mr. Luson (Officiating Commissioner of Patna) makes the following observations on the working of the Circular :—

"I find little evidence from the figures that these considerate orders of the Board have materially affected collections, though no doubt they have resulted in the realizations being somewhat less than they would otherwise have been. Little loss is likely to be incurred eventually on account of the orders; and they save much harassment and unpopularity. The orders are, however, not in favour with the Deputy Collectors, as they tend at first to reduce collections somewhat; or with the clerical staff, as they materially reduce the number of certificates and involve more care being taken to see that claims are not barred by limitation; besides, it is the certificates for the smallest amounts which are most easily satisfied, and so the orders make it difficult for the Certificate Department to maintain its averages."

The Board agree with the Commissioner and would allow the rule to work, until sufficient experience has been gained.

* * * * *

14. In February last the orders of Government on the question of the assessment of rent-free lands were received. It has been decided that in all future revaluations, unless there are strong reasons to the contrary, assessment through the zamindars should be the rule, and not the exception.

* * * * *

17. * * * The road cess was first assessed in 40 districts, the gross rental or valuation of which was Rs. 13,11,68,432. Subsequently the districts of Khulna and Palamau were created, and the Cess Act, IX (B.C.) of 1880, was extended to them, and to parganas Dhalbhum and Porahat in the district of Singhbhum. The gross rental, or valuation, of the 43 districts shows an increase, from Rs. 17,03,53,369 in 1901-02 to Rs. 17,49,73,823, or, of Rs. 46,20,454, which is chiefly due to the revaluations in the districts of the 24-Parganas, Nadia, Khulna, Bogra, Backergunge, Gaya, Shahabad and Purnea and to the assessment of coal mines in Burdwan and Manbhum. In Singhbhum the decrease in the rental, which is always fluctuating, is due to the annual revision of assessment of mines and forests under section 79 of the Cess Act.

It is hereby enacted as follows:—

PART I.—PRELIMINARY.

Short title, commencement and application.

1. (1) This Act may be called the Chota Nagpur Tenancy (Amendment) Act, 1903; and

(2) It shall come into force on such date as the Local Government, with the previous sanction of the Government of India, may, by notification in the Calcutta Gazette, appoint in this behalf.

(3) The provisions of this Act shall apply to all proceedings instituted after the commencement of this Act, and, so far as may be, to all cases pending in any Court or before any officer on the date of such commencement.

PART II.—AMENDMENT OF THE CHOTA NAGPUR LANDLORD AND TENANT PROCEDURE ACT. Ben Act I of 1879.

2. (1) In section 2 of the Chota Nagpur Landlord and Tenant Procedure Act, at the end of the definition of "Deputy Collector" the words "and any Sub-Deputy Collector who is specially empowered by the Local Government to discharge the functions of a Deputy Collector under this Act" shall be inserted.

Port Adelaide river—Alterations in beacons consequent on Light's Passage harbour works.

WITH reference to Notices to Mariners No. 204, dated 15th June, and No. 289, dated 29th August 1903, issued by this Office, the British Admiralty has given further notice that the following alterations which have been found necessary will be made on or about the 30th August next:—

The Beacons forming No. 1 Lead will be removed altogether.

In lieu thereof two Beacons showing Green Lights will be placed on the North Bank—one near the present Reflecting Beacon and the other opposite the present No. 1 White Light, as shown on plan which may be obtained at these offices.

Two Light Beacons (both red) will be placed on the North Bank, which, when in line, will lead through the Cutting to the Bend, and will be hereafter termed No. 1 Lead.

Sailing Directions—To enter the River pass the Occulting Light Buoy at a distance of about 50 feet, and steer between the White Light on a Pile abreast the old Light-house and the first Green Light, which is placed between the Reflecting Beacon and the Cutting on a N.E. by E. course, passing the second Green Light at a similar distance until the New Lead on the North Bank (now termed No. 1 Lead) comes in line. Keep them in line until abreast of No. 2, then steer for No 3 as before.

This affects Admiralty Chart No. 1750.

P.S.—Owing to the nature of the work in progress this notice may require to be amended from time to time, and therefore should be treated as tentative only.

During the progress of the work at the Light's Passage Harbour, Masters exempt from pilotage may, if they so desire, avail themselves of the services of a pilot to assist them in passing the works, either in or out, at one-half of the usual pilotage rates.

If the usual exemption flag is not hoisted, it will be taken as a signal that a pilot is required. At night, if a pilot is wanted, the usual signal for a pilot should be shown.

THE British Admiralty has given notice (No. 664 of 1903) that as the results of numerous searches for the Naboska rock to the southward of Quelpart island show no indication of its existence, it has been expunged from the charts.

Approximate position, lat. 32° 59′ N., long. 126° 13′ E.

This rock, on which the Russian transport Naboska was reported to have been lost in April 1870, was unsuccessfully searched for by H. M. surveying vessel Sylvia in 1877, when a sounding of 57 fathoms, mud bottom, was the least water obtained anywhere within two miles of the reported position.

Mr. G. C. Anderson, Master of the ship Conquest, reports having frequently passed in 1875 and 1876, within two miles of the supposed position of this rock, without seeing any indication of shoal water.

A thorough search was also made in 1885 by Captain Phythian, U.S.S. Trenton, and latterly in February 1903 Captain A. A. Dalweritz, of the American schooner Forester, reports having passed close to the assigned position of this rock, obtaining at the same time a sounding of 55 fathoms, mud bottom, without seeing any sign of shoal water.

RESOLUTION.

READ—

The Administration Report of the Commissioners of the Port of Chittagong for the year 1902-1903.

	1901-1902.	1902-1903.
	Rs	Rs.
Opening balance	16,149	17,207
Receipts of the year	1,27,715	84,330
Total ...	1,43,864	1,01,537
Expenditure of the year	1,26,657	96,881
Closing balance	17,207	4,656

The receipts show a falling off of Rs. 43,385, due partly to a decrease under the heads "Port dues" and "Mooring fees," owing to fewer vessels having visited the port, and mainly attributable to the transfer of the Iron Jetty at Double Moorings to the Assam-Bengal Railway. The expenditure also showed a decrease of Rs. 29,776, due partly to only one year's instalment on account of the Gekko loan having been paid during the year, against two years' instalments during the previous year, and partly to the cost of the working of the abovementioned Iron Jetty not being charged to the Port Fund for the latter part of the year.

2. Shipping.—A total of 383 vessels aggregating 241,367 tons entered the port during the year, against 541 vessels with a tonnage of 270,113 during the previous year. Of these, 11 vessels with a tonnage of 23,795 entered from foreign ports, or one more than the previous year.

There was a large reduction, however, in the coasting trade, the arrivals being 372 vessels, against 531 vessels in 1901-1902. This decrease of 159 vessels was principally due to a short jute crop and to the fact that this staple now comes chiefly by rail.

In all 368 vessels aggregating 242,512 tons cleared from the port, against 536 vessels with a tonnage of 269,529 during the previous year. Of this number, 25 vessels aggregating 49,163 tons cleared for foreign ports, against 24 vessels aggregating 48,459 in 1901-1902. The increase was due to a sailing vessel which cleared for Trinidad with rice.

The coasting outward trade also showed a large reduction, the number of vessels cleared having been 343 with a tonnage of 193,349, against 512 vessels with an aggregate tonnage of 221,070 in the previous year. The decrease was due to fewer vessels having cleared for Narayanganj and to the discontinuance of the Special Steamer Service between Chittagong and Akyab.

Trade.—The principal articles of export are grain, jute and tea, and of imports mineral oil and salt. There was an increase under all heads except "Jute," which showed a decrease from 48,793 tons to 36,512 tons. This is due to a short crop and to larger shipments having been made from Calcutta, where freight is more easily obtainable.

Port Appliances.—The appliances of the port and light-houses are reported to have been kept in good order throughout the year.

Steam-tug "Gekko."—The steam-tug Gekko only towed one vessel during the year. She has been employed on the usual buoy mooring work, taking down stores and inspecting light-houses. The vessel has had all necessary repairs done and is in good order. The Gekko was obtained with the object of towing vessels visiting the port, but so few sailing vessels now visit the port that her services as a tug are seldom required. The earnings amounted to Rs. 2,830, while the expenditure, including instalments for repayment of loan with interest, amounted to Rs. 34,279.

	1901-1902	1902-1903.
	Rs.	Rs.
Opening balance	43,643	52,865
Receipts of the year .	20,737	16,914
Total	64,380	69,779
Expenditure of the year ...	11,515	11,594
Closing balance ...	52,865	58,185

The Pilot Service worked satisfactorily and there were no accidents during the year.

By order of the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal,

W. A. INGLIS,

The Resolution reviewing the Divisional reports on the working of the District Boards in Bengal during 1901-1902.

There were 42 District Boards in existence during the year, as in the previous year; but the number of Local Boards decreased during the year under report from 106 to 104 owing to the abolition of the Sadar Local Boards at Darbhanga and Gaya. The number of Union Committees increased from 56 to 57 in consequence of the establishment of a Union at Patkabari in the district of Murshidabad. The variations in the figures of the areas controlled by the District and Local Boards and of the population of those areas are due to the correction of erroneous information supplied by certain District Boards in the previous year.

2. Constitution of District Boards.—The total number of members of District Boards was 842, or three less than in the previous year, the membership of each of the District Boards of Gaya, Balasore and Puri having decreased by one. The variations in the number of official and non-official members and in the number of European, Eurasian and Native members were trifling. During the year 638 meetings were convened by District Boards, or two less than in 1901-1902, of which the largest number was held by the District Boards of Saran and Puri (23 each): Rajshahi and Bogra come next with 20 meetings each, and Murshidabad, Backergunge and Monghyr follow closely with 19 meetings each; while the District Boards of Balasore and Manbhum each met only 11 times during the year, and the District Board of Hazaribagh only 6 times. As regards Manbhum and Hazaribagh, it is explained that there was not sufficient business of importance to justify the calling of more meetings, but no reasons have been assigned in the case of Balasore. The improvement which was noticed last year in the declining number of meetings which had to be adjourned, or which proved abortive for want of a quorum, was not consistently maintained during the year under review, the figures being 51, 47 and 49 respectively for the years 1900-1901, 1901-1902 and 1902-1903. The average attendance of official and non-official members at each meeting improved slightly.

3. Constitution of Local Boards.—The total number of members of the 104 Local Boards was 1,249, or 19 less than in the previous year. The fluctuations in their total strength and composition are chiefly due to the abolition of the Sadar Local Boards at Gaya and Darbhanga. The Local Boards convened 1,250 meetings during the year under report, or 45 more than in 1901-1902. The highest number (21) was attained by the Local Board of Kishorganj in Mymensingh. The Local Board of Faridpur comes next with 19 meetings, and the Local Boards of Pirojpur and Bihar follow closely with 18 meetings each. Of the number of meetings held during the year, 213 had to be adjourned or proved abortive for want of a quorum against 203 in 1901-1902. Thirty-nine Local Boards, as compared with 48 in 1901-1902, held less than 12 meetings during the year. The Local Boards which met least often were Naogaon, Puri and Alipur, which held 5 meetings or less during the year. The last named Board is said to have done practically no work, and the question of its abolition is already under the consideration of Government. There was a small improvement in the attendance of official members, while the attendance of non-official members shows a slight decrease.

4. Occupation of members.—Appendix F classifies the members of the District and Local Boards according to their professions and occupations; 37·7 per cent. of the total number of members were zamindars, talukdars and zamindars' servants (the landholding interest rightly being the most largely represented portion of the community); 24·4 per cent. were pleaders and mukhtears; 21·2 per cent. Government servants; 4·8 per cent. planters; 2·3 per cent. Government pensioners, and ·6 per cent. Missionaries, while 8·6 per cent. belonged to other professions. Compared with the figures for 1899-1900, which are the last on record (information on this subject being supplied triennially), the only change worthy of notice in the case of District Boards is that the percentage of Missionaries has increased from ·5 per cent. to 1 per cent. In the case of Local Boards the variations do not call for any remarks.

5. Elections.—General elections of members of District Boards were held during the year in Tippera and Noakhali. Those of Local Boards were held in the districts of Howrah, Midnapore, Murshidabad, Jessore, Khulna, Faridpur and Patna. Except in the Ulubaria subdivision of the district of Howrah, the elections do not appear to have aroused any public interest.

6. Powers of Local Boards.—The powers delegated to Local Boards remained unchanged in all the districts except (1) in Nadia where they were authorised to revise and recommend the stipends paid to primary schools, (2) in Jessore where the Local Boards of Narail, Magura and Jhenida were empowered to pass Dispensary bills, (3) in Faridpur, where the power of constructing new village roads was withdrawn, (4) in Saran where village roads costing over Rs. 10 a mile were placed under the management of the District Engineer, as were also all masonry works costing over Rs. 200, (5) in Monghyr, where the control of primary education was withdrawn, and (6) in Bhagalpur, where the District Board delegated to the Local Boards the administration of the funds for primary education and for the management of primary schools.

7. Union Committees.—As stated in paragraph 1, the number of Union Committees increased from 56 to 57. The aggregate number of their members also increased by 6, but the number of meetings convened by them decreased by 25, as compared with the previous year. The aggregate income of the Unions fell from Rs. 23,673 to Rs. 22,812 and the expenditure from Rs. 18,203 to Rs. 17,877. Thirty-three out of 57 Unions spent the whole or nearly the whole amount allotted to them, while no expenditure was incurred by the Memari Union in Burdwan, the Panchthupi and Benodepur Unions in the Presidency Division, and all the five Unions in the Orissa Division. The Basudebpur Union in the 24-Parganas and all the Union Committees in the district of Murshidabad are reported to have worked fairly well. In Khulna also some of the Union Committees are said to have displayed a keen interest in the exercise of their functions as far as their funds permitted. The Union Committee at Feni is reported to have done the work entrusted to it smoothly and well. The reports on the work done by Union Committees elsewhere are not favourable. On this subject, Mr. LeMesurier, Chairman of the Howrah District Board, remarks as follows:—

"I inspected all of these bodies, except Domjur. They have failed to be really effective chiefly, I think, because they form an extra and overlapping body in a community which already possesses Chaukidari Panchayets, School and Dispensary Committees, and in one case a Bench of Honorary Magistrates. Should the persons of all these bodies be united in one, a very satisfactory nucleus of a 'Parish Council' would be formed."

Attention was called in last year's review to the opportunities which Union Committees possessed of stimulating local interest in sanitary improvements. This is their main raison d'être, and until signs appear that this object is likely to be achieved, no suggestions for the expansion of the system can be regarded as other than counsels of perfection.

8. Financial results.—The 42 District Boards in the Province began the year with an opening balance of Rs. 19,25,434 (corrected figures). Their income during the year amounted to Rs 92,17,377 and the expenditure to Rs. 88,22,342. There was thus at the close of the year a credit balance of Rs. 23,20,'69; but of this sum more than three lakhs consisted of deposits, which were not at the disposal of the Boards.

The following statements show the principal heads of income and expenditure of District Boards during the past two years:—

INCOME.

9. Provincial rates (Rs. 43,80,832).—The net increase of Rs. 1,61,651 in the income under this head, which represents the proceeds of the road cess after deducting the cost of collection and revaluation, is shared by all the districts except Midnapore, Hooghly, Howrah, Murshidabad, Jessore, Dinajpur, Jalpaiguri, Pabna, Mymensingh, Faridpur, Backergunge, Noakhali, Champaran, Muzaffarpur, Malda and Palamau. It is due, as usual, to improved collections and to revaluations. The largest decrease occurred in Mymensingh, where the income from this source fell by Rs. 13,993. It is there attributed mainly to the reduction of arrear demands consequent on the improved collections of the preceding year. Elsewhere the decreases were comparatively small, and are in many cases due to similar causes.

10. Interest (Rs. 40,760).—The decrease of Rs. 180 is due to the smaller demands for recoverable arrears of road cess than in the preceding year.

11. Police (Rs. 4,86,815).—There was an increase of 95 in the total number of pounds under the management of District Boards, and of Rs. 10,204 in their total income. The increase of income is shared by 26 districts, while a decrease occurred in the districts of Birbhum, Hooghly, Murshidabad, Dinajpur, Rangpur, all the districts in the Dacca Division, Tippera, Chittagong, Saran, Champaran, Muzaffarpur, Darbhanga, Malda, Hazaribagh, Ranchi and Palamau. The increase is attributed to more favourable settlements and to better collection of rents. Where a decrease occurred, it is ascribed to various causes, such as failure to settle pounds and realize rents, and failure to obtain fair bids owing to the outbreak of plague and the contraction of indigo cultivation. The loss of income in Mymensingh is explained to be due to the introduction of stringent rules of inspections and of numerous prosecutions for breach of rules. Inspections disclosed the usual delinquencies on the part of pound farmers, which were, on the whole, adequately dealt with.

12. Education (Rs. 95,867).—The increase of Rs. 14,715 in the income under this head is noticeable chiefly under the head "Contributions." It was largest in Rangpur, where the income under that head advanced from Rs. 1,349 in 1901-1902 to Rs. 18,504 in 1902-1903, chiefly owing to a grant of Rs. 16,978 made by Government for the maintenance of the Technical School and for the remuneration of teachers in primary schools.

13. Medical (Rs. 51,358).—The receipts under this head increased by Rs. 1,684. The increase is far smaller than in the preceding year in which it amounted to Rs. 15,089. But being due to a larger realisation of private subscriptions and contributions, it cannot but be regarded as satisfactory so far as it goes.

14. Scientific and other minor departments (Rs 11,322).—The increase of Rs. 2,497 in the income under this head is mainly due to a contribution of Rs. 2,000 made by Babu Promotho Nath Roy Choudry of Santosh towards the cost of establishing a veterinary hospital at Nasirabad in the district of Mymensingh.

15. Miscellaneous (Rs. 2,13,785).—The receipts under this head increased by Rs. 4,009. The largest increase occurred in Shahabad, where it is explained to be due to larger receipts from the sale-proceeds of old stores and materials.

16. Irrigation, Minor Works, and Navigation (Rs. 18,105).—There was an increase of Rs. 856 in the revenue from canals in Chittagong, which was due, as in the previous year, to higher bids. The increase of Rs. 656 in Jessore represents the income from the settlement of tolls of the Hallifax canal excavated during the year by the District Board.

17. Civil Works (Rs. 18,94,330).—The increase, which amounted in all to Rs. 6,70,997, was largest under the sub-head "Contributions," under which an assignment made by Government towards the improvement of communications in backward districts chiefly accounts for the larger income. The income from tolls on ferries also improved by Rs. 30,945, the increase being shared by 22 out of the 42 districts. The ferries were regularly inspected, and the irregularities which were brought to notice were duly enquired into and generally remedied.

18. Contributions (Rs. 5,91,691).—The increase of Rs. 26,503 under this head is chiefly due to the special allotments made by Government for the improvement of primary education and for the employment of additional Sub-Inspectors.

19. Deposits and Advances (Rs. 14,31,742).—The receipts under this head, which represent sums deposited as security for the payment of revenue by ferry farmers, contractors and others, and also recoveries and adjustments on account of advances made from District Funds, increased by Rs. 2,63,610. The fluctuations are of no special importance.

EXPENDITURE.

20. Administration (Rs. 3,00,957).—The cost of general administration increased by Rs. 6,713, and was mainly due to a larger expenditure on office establishments, due to the system of incremental salaries.

21. Police (Rs. 24,152).—The slight decrease of Rs. 817 in the expenditure under this head is chiefly attributable to a reduced expenditure on the renewal and repairs of pound sheds. In Balasore it was due to the abolition of the post of the Pound and Ferry Inspector, and in Ranchi to the extension of the farming system with regard to pounds.

22. Marine (Rs. 9,838).—The slight decrease of Rs. 48 in the expenditure under this head calls for no remarks. As explained in last year's review, the expenditure is incurred in the subvention of private steamer services.

23. Education (Rs. 17,47,945).—The expenditure under this head increased by Rs. 4,16,019, and it is satisfactory to note that this increase is shared by all the districts, with the exception of Midnapore only, where the decrease is said to be merely nominal and due to the fact that rewards were not paid before the 31st March 1903. The increase occurred chiefly under the head "Grants-in-aid," and is due mainly to the special grants made by Government for the improvement of primary education and for the appointment of additional Sub-Inspectors.

There was an increase of 59 in the number of Sub Inspectors of Schools maintained by District Boards, and of 19 in the number of Inspecting Pandits. Of schools maintained by District Boards, the number of high schools and lower primary schools remained stationary, but the numbers of middle, upper primary, and industrial schools increased during the year. The school shown under the head "other schools" against Bogra in the returns for 1901-1902 has, it appears, ceased to exist. The numbers of pupils attending these schools show a corresponding increase, with the exception of those attending high schools and industrial schools. Of schools aided by District Boards, the number of all classes, with the exception only of high schools, increased. The number of pupils attending them also increased, except in the case of high and middle schools, which show a slight falling off. The number of girls attending the upper and lower primary schools maintained by District Boards increased by 37, while the aggregate of those attending schools aided by those bodies improved to the extent of 16,188.

The District Boards continued to grant scholarships to female students in the various medical schools. The Commissioner of Rajshahi remarks that some District Boards in his Division might with advantage spend more on female medical education, although Rangpur sets an example which might be followed with advantage by more advanced districts in the Province.

The main features in the primary educational operations of District Boards during the year were the strengthening of the inspecting staff and the abolition of the system of payment to patsala gurus by results, and the introduction in its stead of a quarterly subsistence allowance, supplemented by a further allowance at the end of the year in consideration of attendance, efficiency and certain other tests. A very liberal grant was made by Government to the District Boards to enable them to introduce the new system, and to make an increased provision on account of the salaries of additional Inspecting Pandits or guru instructors and of additional Sub-Inspectors for the inspection of primary schools. It is too early now to pronounce an opinion on the merits of the system; but it is hoped that it will give greater stability and greater efficiency to the Patsalas and enable the supervising staff to devote more time to the inspection of primary schools in situ.

In filling up posts of Sub-Inspectors of Schools and Inspecting Pandits preference was, as far as practicable, given to Muhammadan candidates with the object of reducing the existing disproportion in the number of Hindu officials of those classes. In Rajshahi, however, where the Muhammadan population is three and-a-half times in excess of the Hindus, there are five Hindu Sub-Inspectors and no Muhammadans. The attention of the Board has been drawn to the matter by the Commissioner of the Division.

24. Special schools.—Of the Technical Schools at Burdwan, Midnapore, Pabna, Rangpur, Mymensingh, and Backergunge, which are maintained by their respective District Boards, the condition of that at Midnapore is reported to be unsatisfactory, though no details are given. It has, however, recently been placed under the management of the Education Committee of the District Board. The Sericultural School at Rampur Boalia and the Elliott Artizan School at Tippera continued to be a charge upon their respective District Boards. The District Boards of Noakhali, Mymensingh, Backergunge, Malda, and Cuttack provided by means of stipends for the training of students in the Sibpur Engineering College. The District Boards of Dacca, Faridpur, Backergunge, Noakhali, Gaya, Saran, Muzaffarpur, and Cuttack sent up students with scholarships to the Veterinary College at Belgachia, and all the District Boards in the Patna Division, as well as the District Boards of Monghyr, Bhagalpur, and Malda, sent students to the Bihar School of Engineering. The District Board of Birbhum awarded a stipend of Rs. 10 a month to a student, in order to enable him to be trained in the Sibpur Agricultural Class. The Bhagalpur District Board awarded two scholarships of Rs. 10 a month each to two boys sent to the Jaipur School of Arts to learn brazier's work, and the District Board of Malda similarly aided a student in prosecuting his studies in the Sericultural School at Rampur Boalia. The Cuttack District Board provided three scholarships of Rs. 20 each a month for technical education in the Jobra Workshop. The District Board of Noakhali continued to pay a scholarship of Rs. 10 a month to a student of the Calcutta Art School, the Balasore District Board aided two, and the Hazaribagh District Board three, local Industrial Schools. One Madrasa in Dacca and 11 in Mymensingh, as well as 33 tols in Mymensingh, 3 in Faridpur, 3 in Tippera, 2 in Noakhali, 2 in Chittagong, 1 in Manbhum, and 2 in Palamau received aid from their respective District Boards. The Nadia Board spent Rs. 243 in sending a potter of Krishnagar to the Bombay School of Art to learn drawing, designing and glazing. An expenditure of Rs. 455 was incurred by the District Board of Champaran on account of stipends of Gurus of primary schools sent to the Motihari Training School for instruction. In Burdwan a workshop was built by the District Board at a cost of Rs. 1,696.

25. Industrial development.—Attempts were made by several District Boards during the year to popularise the use of the fly-shuttle; but in most of the districts the local weavers failed to take much interest in learning its use. It is reported that this description of loom has long been used in several places in Pabna, Backergunge, and Malda. The Chairman of the District Board of Gaya states that the general feeling among local weavers is that they can work with their own indigenous hand-looms more freely and quickly than with the fly-shuttle. In Saran it was found that weavers came forward rather for the sake of the daily allowance which they received from the Board than with the object of acquiring practical knowledge. In Darbhanga the local weavers alleged that they were too poor to attend the classes without some remuneration which, however, the District Board declined to pay in addition to gratuitous instruction. From the Divisional reports it appears that the prospects of industrial education in this direction are not hopeful, as the local weavers generally failed to avail themselves of the opportunities placed at their disposal to receive a technical training. The only districts in which any progress was made in the experiment are Chittagong and Manbhum.

26. Medical (Rs. 3,89,379).—The decrease of Rs. 52,560 in the expenditure under this head is chiefly noticeable under sub-head "Miscellaneous" and is largest in the Patna Division. It is there explained to be due to the fact that the measures adopted for checking the progress of plague in the districts of Patna and Saran were on a smaller scale than in the previous year, and to the fact that no special expenditure was incurred in that direction by the District Boards of Champaran, Muzaffarpur, and Darbhanga.

In addition to treating the public gratuitously at their dispensaries, local aid was given by the District Boards wherever cholera or other epidemics broke out. In Darbhanga an establishment, consisting of one khalasi and four coolies, was employed for the destruction of larvæ of malaria-producing mosquitoes; the Lieutenant-Governor would be interested to hear the results of this experiment. Contributions were made by 15 District Boards during the year towards the maintenance of the Pasteur Institute at Kasauli.

The total number of dispensaries maintained by District Boards increased by 11, and the expenditure incurred upon them by Rs. 23,541. The District Board of Backergunge, as usual, maintained the largest number of dispensaries—35 in all. There was, moreover, an increase of 16 in the total number of dispensaries aided by District Boards and of Rs. 2,856 in the contributions made to such institutions. The largest number of dispensaries (16) to which contributions were given were those aided by the District Board of Faridpur.

27. Sanitation (Rs. 16,237).—The total outlay on this head decreased by Rs. 19,491, the largest decrease being in Gaya. It is there accounted for by the fact that the expenditure incurred in that district during 1902-1903 on sanitary precautions against the spread of plague was only Rs. 305, while in 1901-1902 it amounted to Rs. 13,706. Beyond the improvement of water-supply by constructing, repairing, and improving wells and disinfecting them, no important works of sanitation were undertaken by the several District Boards during the year, though the usual arrangements were made for the sanitation of fairs. In pursuance of the system inaugurated in 1900-1901 for the improvement of the sanitation of villages and rural towns, the Sadar and Dinapore Local Boards in the district of Patna cleansed 64 and 48 villages during the year, at a cost of Rs. 996 and Rs. 369, respectively. The scheme has been commended to the notice of the Commissioners of Divisions, who have been requested to give it a fair trial by such Local Boards as they may select. It has been pointed out to them that the residents and proprietors of villages may properly be called upon to contribute in money or in labour to such works before they are undertaken by the Local Boards.

28. Veterinary Charges (Rs. 17,006).—The total expenditure shows a slight decline. Veterinary dispensaries were opened during the year at Bankura and Ranchi by their respective District Boards, and other District Boards continued to maintain the veterinary institutions already in existence. More Veterinary Assistants were employed during the year, and the results reported are on the whole satisfactory. Those at Midnapore and Mymensingh were deputed to undergo a course of training in treating rinderpest with serum. Cattle-disease broke out in Khulna, and it is reported that out of 1,419 cattle inoculated with anti-rinderpest serum, only 3 died. There was also an outbreak of rinderpest among the municipal cattle at Muzaffarpur and in the Sitamarhi subdivision of the same district, and foot-and-mouth disease appeared in the villages in the interior, but the measures taken to suppress the disease have not been reported.

29. Civil Works (Rs. 45,96,854).—The total outlay under this head shows a net decrease of Rs. 88,937. Six sub-heads, viz., "Communications—Original Works," "Drainage—Original Works," "Other Works of Improvement," "Establishment and Contingencies," "Staging Bungalows and Sorai Establishment and Charges," and "Tools and Plant" show an increased expenditure amounting to Rs. 1,07,228, while the other sub-heads, viz., "Buildings," "Communications—Repairs," "Water-supply and Water-works," "Drainage—Repairs," and "Miscellaneous" show a decreased expenditure amounting to Rs. 1,96,165. The largest decrease (Rs. 96,263) occurred in Rangpur, where it is said that less general repair works were undertaken in the year under report than in the previous year. The decrease was also very large in Darbhanga, where it amounted to Rs. 94,561; it is attributed to the default of local contractors in executing the works entrusted to them and to the failure of some Calcutta firms to supply the materials ordered. Details of the chief works executed by the several District Boards during the year are furnished in the Divisional reports. It appears that the most important and costly works were undertaken in some of the districts of the Dacca and Patna Divisions. In the Dacca Division the chief work taken in hand was the construction of a road from Backergunge to Patuakhali, on which Rs. 41,421 were spent during the year, and in the Patna Division the most important work undertaken was the metalling of the first six miles of the Aurungabad-Daudnagore Road in Gaya, on which Rs. 25,552 were spent up to 31st March 1903.

30. Water-supply and water-works (Rs. 1,31,848).—The expenditure under this head decreased by Rs. 24,288. The largest decrease was in Backergunge, amounting to Rs. 8,395: it is ascribed to the inability of the Local Boards to spend the full allotments placed at their disposal owing chiefly to the difficulty in securing sites for wells. No expenditure was incurred under this head by the District Boards of Hooghly and Chittagong, though in the latter district a well was constructed during the year at a cost of Rs. 500, which was not disbursed during the year. In the case of Hooghly the failure is not explained. Excavation and re-excavation of tanks and wells and the improvement of the existing sources of water-supply were the chief works undertaken in this direction by the several District Boards during the year. As in previous years, the District Boards of Shahabad and Bhagalpur paid contributions of Rs. 4,000 and Rs. 5,000 a year, respectively, to the local municipalities towards the maintenance of the water-works at the head-quarters of the district. The Raja of Kakina in Rangpur made a gift of Rs. 2,000 during the year for the improvement of the water-supply of the district. The Lieutenant-Governor regrets to notice that the same difficulty which was noticed in last year's Resolution still prevents some of the District Boards in the Presidency Division from expending the full amount of their allotments for the improvement of tanks, viz., that the zamindars who own them are unwilling either to excavate them themselves for the benefit of their tenants or to make them over to the Boards. The Boards are, however, taking steps to remove the scarcity of water felt in these tracts, and the Lieutenant-Governor trusts that their efforts will meet with further success. Tube-wells have been introduced in the districts of Howrah, Dacca, and Purnea. Some details have been furnished in this connection by the District Board of Howrah. The wells are kept in repair by mistries employed by the Board, who pay a round of visitations, equipped with a set of repairing tools and petty materials required for the purpose. The initial cost is about Rs. 100 for each well, besides a maintenance charge of Rs. 10 a year. A guarantee is sometimes taken from the villagers for the safety of the pump. It has been suggested that the well should be sunk and maintained by local contract. The suggestion seems a good one, and the Lieutenant-Governor will be glad to hear what results are achieved in this direction. The example is one which other districts might profitably follow.

31. Drainage Works.—Small expenditure was incurred under this head by the District Boards of the 24-Parganas, Murshidabad, Jessore, Tippera, and Noakhali. The great work of draining the Chalan and Cherial bils, lying within the districts of Pabna and Rajshahi, is in progress, and it is reported that these projects will take longer to finish than was anticipated. Up to 31st March 1903, a sum of Rs. 13,056 was spent on the engineering, survey, and office establishment employed for the preparation of the survey of the first-named project

32. Roads.—The total number of roads maintained by the several District Boards during the year increased from 8,666 to 9,429. There was also an increase of 1,585 miles in their aggregate length and of Rs. 1,42,531 in the total cost of their maintenance. Of these roads, 540, with a length of 2,748 miles, were metalled; and 2,508, with a length of 25,163 miles, unmetalled; while 6,381, with a total length of 18,141 miles, were classed as village roads. Many districts show remarkable fluctuations in the number and mileage of their metalled roads, but these variations are apparently attributable to reclassification in accordance with the instructions laid down in Government Circular No. 1T.—M., dated the 23rd April 1903. In successive reviews it has been pointed out that the discrepancies which invariably occur detract much from the value of the information contained in Appendix C, and the Lieutenant-Governor requests that the figures of the statement may in future be carefully examined by all Chairmen themselves, and he hopes that the adoption of a uniform system of classification will prevent the recurrence of such errors in future. Of the total expenditure incurred on metalled roads, Rs. 2,82,739 were spent on original works and Rs. 7,41,080 on repairs; and of that incurred on unmetalled roads, the cost of original works was Rs. 10,47,862 and of repairs Rs. 9,24,180. The largest expenditure incurred in any one district during the year on metalled roads was incurred in the district of Burdwan, where it amounted to Rs. 85,765; the 24-Parganas stands second with an expenditure of Rs. 73,134; and Chittagong last with Rs. 60 only. The District Board of Palamau, as in the previous year, incurred no expenditure under this head. The outlay on unmetalled roads was highest in Muzaffarpur, viz., Rs. 1,28,547, and least in Balasore, viz., Rs. 7,788. The cost per mile of district metalled roads was highest in Manbhum (Rs. 2,337), where much money was spent on roads in the colliery tracts, and lowest in Chittagong (Rs. 29); that of unmetalled district roads, was highest in Backergunge (Rs. 393), and lowest in Nadia (Rs. 15). On the construction and maintenance of 10 miles of village roads the District Board of Jalpaiguri expended Rs. 9,863. This exceptionally high rate per mile is, however, accounted for by the fact that practically the whole of this expenditure was incurred in bridging and raising a single expensive road. Elsewhere the cost per mile of roads of this class ranged from Rs. 113 in Backergunge to Rs. 3 in Rangpur.

It is worthy of note that the expenditure incurred on the construction and maintenance of roads in 1902 1903 was considerably above the average of the last five years, and that the cost per mile of metalled and unmetalled roads was Rs. 373 and Rs. 78, respectively, against an average for the previous three years of Rs. 317 and Rs. 75.

33. In paragraph 57 of last year's Resolution, the Lieutenant-Governor reviewed the manner in which the first grant of Rs. 5,00,000 to the several District Boards for the improvement of communications had been expended, and noted, with approval, that about one-third of the grant had been allotted for feeder roads, and about the same amount for bridging. The allotment was continued for another year. The state of the Provincial finances at the opening of the present year has enabled His Honour to sanction the distribution of a third grant of Rs. 5,00,000, among the several Divisions, on the same conditions as those originally laid down, but he is unable to hold out any promises for the future.

34. Miscellaneous Public Improvements.—In all districts, except Chittagong, arboriculture received attention from the District Boards, and money was spent in planting and maintaining trees on roadsides. Working plans for roadside arboricultural operations have been prepared in most of the districts for the guidance of their District Engineers. In the districts of Rajshahi and Saran, however, nothing was done in this direction during the year, and the reports from the district of Champaran and all the districts of the Chota Nagpur Division are silent on the point. In Chittagong, out of 4,152 avenue trees, 1,228 were blown down by the cyclone of October 1897. Since then the working plans in that district have been discontinued for want of funds.

35. Railway Feeder Roads.—New roads as feeders to railways were constructed by the District Boards of Burdwan, the 24-Parganas, Jalpaiguri, Rajshahi, Bogra, Tippera, Muzaffarpur, Bhagalpur, and Puri. Existing feeder roads, and those taken in hand during the previous year, were maintained, improved, and completed by the District Boards named above, and also by the District Boards of Birbhum, Bankura, Midnapore, Howrah, Khulna, Nadia, Dacca, Faridpur, Mymensingh, Noakhali, Chittagong. Patna, Gaya, Darbhanga, Shahabad, Purnea, Monghyr, Cuttack, Balasore, Palamau and Manbhum. The feeder road connecting Goborchapa with the Akkelpur Railway station in the district of Rajshahi, for which contributions amounting to Rs. 16,800 were made from Provincial revenues, was completed during the year. The feeder roads to railways in the district of Rangpur and the feeder road from Jamalganj Railway station to Etakholahat in the district of Bogra, for which also Government made special grants, were partly constructed during the year.

36. Railways and Tramways.—The extension of the Howrah-Amta Light Railway from Jagatballabhpur to Autpur was in progress during the year. A scheme for the construction of a light railway from Ullapara to Kalbunder, the steamer station below the town of Sirajganj, has been prepared by the District Board of Pabna and referred to Government for consideration. Negotiations for opening a steam tramway line from Dacca to Sealo opposite Goalundo are still in progress. A line from Tangail to Ballar viâ Mymensingh and Netrokona is being surveyed at the cost of the District Board of Mymensingh. A project for a tramway from Barisal to Palardi, with an objective of ultimate extension to Faridpur viâ Madaripur, is under the consideration of the District Board of Backergunge. The Buktiarpur-Bihar Light Railway has been opened since the close of the year. In Shahabad the construction of a light narrow-gauge railway on the Arrah-Sasaram Road is being considered by the District Board. Three projects for narrow-gauge railways or tramways, as means of improving district communications, were contemplated by the District Board of Bhagalpur; but though a line from Bhagalpur to Deoghur viâ Bausi was selected as the most likely project, it is still wholly in embryo.

37. Contributions (Rs. 71,398).—The expenditure under this head represents contributions made by District Boards towards the cost of the Police force employed at plague camps, refunds of the unexpended balance of Government grants for special works, payments on account of cost of establishments in the offices of account and control, and contributions made by District Boards to Union Committees. The total expenditure declined by Rs. 1,53,455, and though the fluctuation is large, it calls for no special remarks.

38. Deposits and Advances (Rs. 13,44,109).—The large increase of Rs. 2,86,093 under this head is chiefly due to the change in the classification of accounts introduced in the previous year, under which the expenditure on Provincial roads and Civil buildings, which was formerly shown under the head "Civil Works," is now debited to this head.

39. Closing balances (Rs. 23,20,469).—The actual closing balance of the 42 District Boards during the year exceeded that of the previous year by

Rs. 3,20,955. It amounted to more than half of the year's income in Nadia and Darbhanga, and to more than one-third in Midnapore, Rajshahi, Faridpur, and Shahabad Satisfactory explanations have been rendered of the heavy balances of the Nadia, Midnapore, Rajshahi, and Faridpur District Funds, but no reason has been given in the cases of Darbhanga and Shahabad.

40. Amendment of the Bengal Local Self Government Act.—The draft Bill to amend the Bengal Local Self-Government Act was submitted to the Government of India for their consideration and orders in November 1902. The observations and suggestions of that Government on the Bill, which were communicated in August last, are now under the consideration of the Lieutenant-Governor.

41. Administrative changes.—Certain rules were laid down in 1899 for the carrying out of Imperial and Provincial Civil Works through the agency of District Boards. These rules provided for the payment of contributions to local bodies to meet charges for establishment and other charges connected with the preparation and execution of projects for works costing Rs. 2,500 and above. It was represented that requisitions were frequently made upon District Boards by the Police, Jail, Medical, and other Civil Departments for plans and estimates for works, which those Departments carried out departmentally, and that it was not unusual for Civil Departments to request the District Engineer to supervise, check, and examine works done by the Departments themselves, or even to carry out the works. The cost of such works rarely exceed Rs. 2,500; but it was urged that a greater expenditure of time and labour was required in the preparation of numerous plans and estimates of small amounts than in that of any single estimate for a large project. These reasons appeared to the Lieutenant-Governor to be sufficiently cogent to establish a claim on the part of the District Boards to some remuneration in respect of such works. It was accordingly directed that when District Boards prepare estimates and plans and execute works on behalf of a Civil Department, they shall be paid the full amount of the percentage allowed by the rules on all estimates, irrespective of the individual amount of each.

42. The attention of Government was drawn to the inconvenience of the existing procedure under which any case in which it was proposed to give a pension or gratuity to servants of District Boards, who were not provided for under the Provident Fund Rules, had to be referred to Government for special sanction. It was pointed out that such cases would probably become more numerous, and it was suggested that it might be desirable to adopt some rules with the object of providing for employés of this class, either on the lines of Government pension and gratuity rules or on those of the existing Provident Fund Rules. The opinion of Commissioners of Divisions and of local bodies was invited on the subject. The opinions received showed that there was in many cases a feeling that provision should be made for pensions or gratuities to employés drawing less than Rs. 15 per mensem, who did not come within the scope of the original Provident Fund Rules, and after considering the replies, the suggestions which commended themselves to the Lieutenant-Governor were that contributions to the Provident Fund should be made compulsory, on their admission to service, in the case of all employés drawing not less than Rs. 10 per mensem, while to inferior servants gratuities and pensions on the scale and conditions of Article 524 of the Civil Service Regulations should be allowed. A set of model rules based on these principles was framed for the guidance of local bodies, and they have already been adopted by several District Boards.

43. The general consensus of opinion among the Commissioners of Divisions is that the majority of the District Boards have worked smoothly and satisfactorily, and that their members have shown a praiseworthy interest in the affairs entrusted to their charge. A satisfactory feature of the year's progress is the awakening of public interest in Local-Self Government in at least one of the districts of the Orissa Division, but the Commissioner remarks that in the other two the tendency still exists to leave all duties and responsibilities to the official Chairman. Local Boards receive the meed of faintor praise. The Commissioner of the Dacca Division comments on the little interest displayed by their members even in works designed for the benefit of their own immediate vicinity. The Commissioner of Rajshahi remarks that they are generally a failure, suggesting, however, that this is due rather to the comparatively insignificant nature of their duties than to any defect of system. A more genuine and widespread interest in their work, however, must be displayed before the Local Boards can expect to attain greater powers, and the Lieutenant-Governor would remind the members of these bodies that it rests entirely with themselves to justify a further devolution of functions.

By order of the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal,

L. P. SHIRRES,

FINAL FORECAST OF THE JUTE CROP IN BENGAL FOR THE SEASON 1903.

THE following note is published for general information.

A. EARLE,
Offg. Secy. to the Govt. of Bengal.

The 24th September 1903.

DEPARTMENT OF LAND RECORDS AND AGRICULTURE, BENGAL.

Final Forecast of the Jute Crop in Bengal for the Season 1903.

SINCE the issue of the preliminary forecast, Collectors report very great improvement in prospects. The late-sown crops have done well, and 16 districts show a higher estimate, 7 remain the same, and 3 are reduced, the only important reduction being for Rangpur from 80 to 75. Among the increased estimates are:—

Hooghly	...	...	62·5 to 97
Jessore	...	...	65 to 77
Dinajpur	...	...	50 to 85
Bogra	...	...	68 to 78
Pabna	...	...	75 to 85
Mymensingh	...	...	90 to 97
Faridpur	...	...	75 to 86
Tippera	...	...	90 to 100
Purnea	...	...	73 to 100
Noakhali	...	...	60 to 80
Bhagalpur	...	...	84 to 89

The Collectors now return the area sown this year as 2,209,300 acres, as against 2,019,000 in their preliminary report. Mymensingh, Tippera, Nadia, and Malda are responsible for the increase, but chiefly Mymensingh. In this district the Collector only joined his post just before the issue of the preliminary forecast and accepted the figures reported. He has now made detailed inquiries, and I have also toured in this and other important jute-growing districts. We agree in returning the normal area under jute for this district as 705,000 acres instead of 562,100 acres returned in the preliminary forecast, and the area under the crop this year as 650,000 instead of 500,000. As the result of his inquiries he has raised the outturn also from 90 to 97. In my opinion, on the area sown it is fully 100. The other increases in area and in outturn are explained by the success of the late-sown crop and favourable rain in August. It will be observed, that, mainly owing to the increase in Mymensingh, Collectors return the normal area at 2,469,900 acres. I am not prepared to accept this figure without further careful inquiries, which are now being instituted. The effect would be to raise the normal outturn to about 74 lakhs of bales. I wish to add here that the preliminary forecast would be more valuable if it was produced on 7th July. If this is the opinion of the market, Government may be moved to alter the date. The Collectors' returns work out to 87 per cent. on an area of 2,209,300 acres. Allowing for the tendency to underestimate both area and outturn, and in accordance with other inquiries, reports, and my own observations, I anticipate that in 2½ lakhs of acres the outturn will be not less than 93·75, or 15 annas—amounting to 63½ lakhs of bales.

Not included in the above is an estimate of 90,000 bales from Assam and the following figures supplied by the Superintendent of the Cooch Behar State:—

	Normal area under jute.	Area under jute in 1903.	Outturn.
	Acres.	Acres.	Per cent.
Cooch Behar State ...	25,000	23,200	68

Thus an outturn of 50,000 bales may be expected from Cooch Behar, and the total crop from all sources should amount to nearly 65 lakhs of bales.

Stocks of the crop of 1902 are reported to be very low indeed.

S. L. MADDOX,
Offg. Director of the Dept. of Land Records and Agriculture, Bengal.

CALCUTTA,
The 21st September 1903.

Burdwan ...	Burdwan	1,720,960	[illegible]	11,000	11,000	6,700	76	75	Deficiency in rainfall accounts for the lower area under jute.
	Midnapore ...	3,319,040	2,190,000	14,000	12,900	10,600	100	80	Decrease in area and outturn of this year is due to want of rain.
	Hooghly	1,087,360	488,900	12,000	12,300	12,300	90	97	Want of timely rain accounts for the decrease in area, but the subsequent rainfall has been timely, and beneficial to the crop.

	Nadia	1,787,520	630,500	47,800	31,000	36,000	97	65	The increased area is due to good outturn obtained last year. The outturn this year is, however, poorer owing to want of timely rainfall.

		Acres.	Acres.	Acres.	Acres.	Acres.
Presidency—concld.	Murshidabad ...	1,373,020	984,500	21,700	16,600	18,400	95	97	Seasonable rainfall has resulted in increase of area and outturn. The increase of area is also due to the abandonment of the Laltakuri embankment. Jute in this district is generally a poor crop grown on churs.
	Jessore	1,873,008	1,203,800	40,800	33,600	30,700	74	77	Rains since the submission of the preliminary report have not only improved the crops greatly, but have also resulted in increased sowings.
	Khulna	3,163,948	970,000	20,900	11,600	9,100	85	86	The decrease in the area sown is due to deficient rainfall in April and May. The increase in the outturn is due to seasonable rainfall in July and August.
	Rajshahi	1,663,040	1,262,100	106,700	100,000	84,000	75	60	The area has been reduced from 85,000 acres, as given in the preliminary forecast, to 84,000 acres. This is entirely due to want of rain.
	Dinajpur ...	2,526,080	1,697,600	102,000	80,000	60,000	90	85	Reports have been more hopeful lately, and according to my best information the outturn will be at least as large as stated.

Rajshahi ...	Jalpaiguri ...	1,894,000	935,000	70,500	60,700	66,100	78	0	The estimated outturn is below the normal owing to deficient rainfall.
	Darjeeling ..	744,960	146,200	,500	2,500	2,200	90	80	The crop has been somewhat better than was anticipated owing to sufficient rainfall.
	Rangpur ...	2,236,320	1,602,700	340,000	327,200	302,800	88	75	Owing to the insufficiency of rain at the sowing season (March to May) and also at the growing season (July), the crop has not thriven well.
	Bogra	869,760	622,900	96,000	70,000	72,000	70	78	Outturn has improved owing to seasonable rainfall towards the lattes part of the season. It is, however, below the normal ordinarily obtained.
	Pabna	1,176,960	992,500	144,800	153,000	140,000	75	85	Owing to favourable weather and slow rise of the river, the outturn will be larger than was anticipated in the preliminary forecast.
Dacca ...	Dacca	1,760,480	1,213,500	171,000	153,000	171,000	79	95	Late rains have improved the condition of the crop.
	Mymensingh ...	4,088,480	2,405,700	735,000	600,000	630,000	70	97	In submitting my preliminary forecast, I adopted the normal area as shown by my predecessor, who cut down the estimate of the Subdivisional Officers. Since then I have had opportunities of forming an opinion of my own, and I do not think the estimate of the Subdivisional Officers too high. Favourable weather in August improved the crop materially.
	Faridpur	1,439,540	1,152,800	100,000	110,000	95,000	75	86	Increase due to full crop in the Madaripur subdivision.
	Backergunge ...	2,335,360	1,418,000	10,000	10,000	10,000	50	50	The outturn is much below the normal this year owing to want of rain at the sowing season.

Division.	District.	Total area of the district.	Estimated total area under cultivation.	Approximate normal area under jute.	Approximate area sown last year (1902).	Estimated area sown this year (1903).	Taking 100 to represent the normal outturn, how much represented outturn last year (1902)? Chittagong ...	Tippera	1,599,300	1,209,000	268,400	235,000	266,400	50	100	Conditions at the beginning of the season were unfavourable, and, the area sown was consequently reported as less than the normal. But as a result of careful enquiry made throughout the jute-producing areas in July and August, it appears that the area under cultivation this year is not less than the normal. The character of the season in its later stages, has been favourable
	Noakhali	1,052,800	784,800	4,500	2,100	4,600	30	80	The increase in columns 5 and 7 is the result of a special enquiry. The better outturn is due to absence of heavy rainfall at the time of sowing.
Bhagalpur ...	Bhagalpur ...	2,704,640	2,097,000	22,400	22,200	20,700	96	89	There is very little of jute crop in the district. Want of rain has affected the growth of the crop specially in the Sadar subdivision.
	Purnea	3,195,513	1,639,800	55,000	53,000	49,300	75	100	The figure 53,000 shown in column 6 is a correct figure, as will appear from the final forecast of the last year. The decrease in area sown this year is due to want of sufficient rainfall in July.
	Malda	1,216,000	675,800	32,500	29,200	24,300	100	75	The area and outturn are less than normal owing to the short rainfall of the year. In many places cultivators had difficulty in steeping the plants for want of rain.

Orissa ...	Cuttack	2,203,149	1,161,200	4 600	5,900	5,900	100	100	The outturn is estimated at 100 per cent. (average), the rainfall being favourable to the crop.
	Balasore	1,384,368	870,800	2,600	5,200	5,200	95	95	Area remains stationary.
	Total ...	51,884,203	30,482,400	2,469,900	2,108,300	2,209,300*	80	87†		* Raised by the Director of Land Records to 2,250,000 acres. † Raised by the Director of Land Records to 93·75 per cent. This gives 63 28 lakhs of bales, or approximately 63½ lakhs of bales. Add to this for Assam 90,000 bales and for Cooch Bihar 50,000 bales. Total approximate produce estimated by the Director of Land Records=65 lakhs of bales.

The mean pressure, temperature, etc., are deduced from the traces of the Barograph and Thermograph, and from eye observations.

The maximum and minimum temperatures are obtained from self-registering thermometers. All the thermometers are verified and the readings have been corrected to a standard constructed and verified at the Kew Observatory. They are exposed under a thatched shed open at the sides, and are suspended four feet above the ground.

The barometer readings are corrected approximately to those of the standard, Newman's No. 86, formerly at the Surveyor-General's Office.

The hygrometric elements are obtained from Tables III, IV and V of the official tables computed in the Meteorological Office, and based on Regnault's modifications of August's formula.

The directions and the movement of the wind are taken from the trace of a Beckley's anemograph.

o, overcast; d, drizzling rain; t, thunder; p, passing temporary showers; ≏, dew.
